A LAUNCH TODAY.

Our Biggest and Best Warship, New York, Launched at Philadelphia Today.

She Can Fight, Can Chase and Can Also Run Away if Necessary.

Pride of the Navy and the Equal of any Warship Afloat Anywhere.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—The armored cruiser New York was launched this afternoon with appropriate ceremonies at the yard of the William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building Co. She slipped into the water amid the screaming of steam whistles and to the cheers of thousands who gathered to witness the event. The great ship yard has been in a state of confusion for more than a week preparing for this occasion, and today's guests included the chief government officials, 1000 distinguished New York citizens and many hundreds of others. Arrangements had been made with the Pennsylvania railroad for two special trains, one of 12 cars to leave Jersey City at 11 o'clock in the morning, and the other of nine cars to leave Washington at 9:30 o'clock.

As the guests arrived they went directly to the shipyards. The great red and white hull of the New York stood directly in front of them. Workmen were busy under the sides adjusting the wedges which were to raise it in its cradle free from the keel blocks on which it had rested so long.

When 2 o'clock arrived the workmen under the hull began to knock away the long poles which had served as props at the vessel's side. Mr. Cramp gave the signal, saws began to cut through the cradle timbers. The ship started, Miss Page, of New York, broke the bottle of wine against the prow and the vessel glided gracefully into the water.

The New York is the pride of the navy. She is an armored cruiser, with great offensive and defensive qualities, a high rate of speed, and a great coal endurance. She is the superior of any vessel of the new navy, except the harbor defense monitors, and it is believed that she will be able to whip anything of any other navy afloat. She can chase any vessel, give a good account of herself in a fight, and run away if she happens to knock the chip off the wrong shoulder. She is bigger than any vessel of the white squadron. Work on the contract was begun in June, 1890, by William Cramp & Sons, the vessel to have 8150 tons displacement and to cost $3,500,000. Her length is 380.5 feet, breadth 64 feet, mean draught 23 feet and 3½ inches. Her highest speed is to be 20 knots an hour and the sustained speed 18.5 knots. With 1500 tons of coal she will be able to steam 13,000 miles, which is a remarkable endurance. She has the ram bows and high freeboard of the large cruisers. Having a high freeboard her guns may be worked in a seaway, the 8-inch rifles being 25 feet above water. In the absence of sail power the entire dependence must be on her twin screws. The two masts are for fighting and signaling purposes, and are to be provided with protected tops. She has four decks, including the deck and a flying deck, or bridge, for boats.

In her armament the main battery is to consist of more but lighter rifles than the Maine's. She is to have six eight-inch rifles and 12 four-inch rapid-fire guns. In the secondary battery are to be eight rapid-fire six-pounders, four rapid-fire one-pounders and four Gatling guns. There are six torpedoe tubes The Maine is to have four ten-inch breech-loading rifles, two in each turret, 250 pounds of powder in each propelling 500 pounds of steel, and six six-inch breech-loading rifles, a large secondary battery and seven torpedo tubes.

Her motive power is a feature as interesting as her hull and batteries. The twin screws are to be driven by four triple-expansion engines in four watertight compartments. The diameters of the cylinders of each engine are 32, 46 and 70 inches respectively, and the stroke is to be 42 inches. For the great speed expected the screws must make 129 revolutions a minute. It is estimated that the entire horse power of all engines is 16,000. The lighting is to be by electricity and the search lights are to have the latest improvements.

"There isn't her equal afloat in any of the great navies of the world," Secretary Tracy says. "She can fight, she can destroy, she can run." The secretary is very enthusiastic, and he may have overlooked the qualities of the new first class cruisers Blake and Cuheim, of the English navy and the Emperador Carlos V., now under construction for the Spanish government. But with her 475 trained men on board the chances are that the New York will not come out second best in a fight with any vessel.

Two Tracks to Lake Superior.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 2.—The Canadian Pacific has decided to build a double track on its road between this city and Lake Superior, a distance of over 400 miles. The building of this line is rendered necessary by the inability of the company to properly handle the Manitoba wheat crop. The work will be completed in three years.

Another Safe Cracked.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Dec. 2.—When the officers of the Hopkins County bank entered the office this morning, they found that the door had been blown off their large safe, and that the door of the strong box had been forced open. The safe crackers secured $5600. No clue was left by which to track them.

A Railroad at Auction.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2.—Thomas Hughes and S. Johnson Poe were today appointed receivers for the uncompleted Baltimore & Drumpoint railroad, and the decree was signed by the court directing the receivers to sell the road at public auction. The road was incorporated in 1887.

NEW CANADIAN CANAL.

The Dominion Will Have a Waterway From Duluth to the Sea.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Times' special from Ottawa says the Dominion government has decided to construct a new canal on the shore of St. Lawrence river about 40 miles above Montreal in order to avoid the Cascade rapids. The estimated cost is $4,500,000.

With the construction of the Cascade canal, Canada will possess an independent waterway from the head of Lake Superior to the seaboard. In undertaking these works the Dominion government is simply carrying out the policy of the late Sir John McDonald, who foresaw the possibilities of the great St. Lawrence route. The volume of American freight shipped from Duluth via the canals is increasing yearly.

A MADMAN NOW.

Field Ruins His Father's Fortune and Becomes a Maniac.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Sun this morning says that Edward M. Field, who wrecked his firm, stripped his father, Cyrus W. Field, of all possessions and upon whose life there is an insurance of $600,000, has attempted suicide. In what manner he sought to kill himself is not recited in the papers on which he was committed yesterday by Judge McAdam of the superior court to Vernon house at Mount Vernon as a dangerous lunatic. Application for the commitment was made to Judge McAdam last evening at his home. This course was adopted by the Field family evidently to avoid publicity. The affidavits which were offered were all ready and voluminous. In these affidavits Drs. Fitch and Ingram, well-known insanity experts, declare under oath that Feld is a madman, dangerous both to himself and to others. They go into details of his insane actions and declare that he made an attempt upon his own life. Mr. Field was taken to Mount Vernon at 9:55 last night. It was learned authoritatively that his commitment is but a temporary resort pending public proceedings to determine judicially whether Mr. Field is a lunatic or not.

Cyrus W. Field, who is now, it is feared, dying, has been absolutely stripped of his possessions by his mad son. The following story came from the lips of the impoverished man himself on his sick bed, and is repeated by a friend who heard it. Three days after the funeral of Mrs. Cyrus W. Field he entered his father's sick chamber and told him some of his difficulties. As the friend relates it: Cyrus Field told me that his son Edward came to him and said he must have money to save him from ruin and disgrace. He did not tell his father the extent of his troubles. He said he must have money immediately to tide him over for a short time. Cyrus Field directed that the key to his strong box should be handed to Edward, and he told his son: "Here is the key of the box containing my securities. Take enough of them, my son, to help you through your troubles."

Edward Field took the key and he furthermore took every security in the box and Cyrus Field told me that he was now as poor as the day that he entered the world. The mystery is where all the money has gone to. The amount of securities taken on this occasion by Edward from his father was in the neighborhood of $300,000. Cyrus W. Field has not been considered a very rich man since his heavy losses in 1877 and this was all he had in the world.

About midnight last night Mr. Field's physicians said that their patient was resting quietly, and that his family were not so worried as they had been in the afternoon.

A FATAL FIRE.

Five Lives Lost in a Burning Building at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 2.—A frightful fatality occurred shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, when in the partial burning of the 2-story brick store and residence of George J. Reis, at the corner of Orleans and Catharine streets, five persons lost their lives. The dead include five of Mr. Reis' family of seven—Mr. Reis himself, his wife and three sons. Eight persons occupied the apartments above the store, but three of them, the servant girl and two sons, Moxie and Tony, escaped.

After turning in an alarm the officer ran to the burning building and saw the servant girl and Tony Reis climbing out of the front window to the cornice. Another boy, Moxie, aged 15, was on a roof back of the building. The latter climbed down a lightning rod and escaped uninjured. Tony and the servant girl jumped, but were caught safely by firemen. When a door leading to a rear stairway of the house was broken open the bodies of Mr. Reis and his wife were found lying in a heap at the foot of the stairway burned to a crisp. On the upper floor were found the body of Charles Reis, aged 20, stretched on the floor near a side window, and in one of the front rooms the bodies of two boys, Eddie and Josie Reis. There is no clue to the origin of the fire. The damage to the building and contents will amount to about $2000.

Settles With the Gaslight Company.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Herald this morning says the terms of settlement between the Standard Gaslight company and its ex-president, Wallace C. Andrews, are that Mr. Andrews and the Monheimer and Spinola estates pay back $3,000,000 which the company claims rightfully belongs to it. Simultaneously with this action, which insures peace, comes the news that the New York Steam Heating company, of which Mr. Andrews is president, is about to undergo a reorganization. The plan, which is in the hands of the stockholders, proposes to reduce the capitalization from $7,500,000 to $5,000,000.

Cut Off Connections.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 2.—Fire in the iron range tunnel of the Northern Pacific railroad fifteen miles west of Helena destroyed a portion of the timber supports and communication with the main line across the Rocky mountains is cut off.

Col. Brice's Back Taxes.

LIMA, Ohio, Dec. 2.—The treasurer of Allen county filed suit against United States Senator Calvin S. Brice, this morning for $17,250 delinquent taxes.

The LaVaque Paint and Wall Paper company are showing a very choice line of picture mouldings. Order now for holidays.

O, MR. SPEAKER!

The Close Approach of Congress Awakens a Lively Interest in the Speakership.

All Texas Stands Ready to go to Washington and Place the Laurel on Her Favorite Son.

A Combination to Beat Crisp of Georgia and Scatter the Vote on the First Ballot.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Evidence of the great interest taken in the contest for the speakership of the house is shown by the receipt at the headquarters of the various candidates of telegrams and letters from the states in which the candidates reside, offering the services of delegations to work for their respective sons. All the candidates have received such offers, but so far Messrs. Springer and Hatch only have availed themselves of the offer. Mr. Mills yesterday declined the services of 100 Texas democrats who were ready to start for Washington at a moments notice to assist him in his campaign. The canvass for votes waxes warmer as the day of the democratic caucus draws near. Mr. Holman, of Indiana, the chairman of the caucus, is expected in Washington Friday and until he arrives the date cannot be definitely determined. It is probable, however, that it will take place Saturday afternoon. There is a disposition among the democratic members here against allowing extended speeches to be made in placing the candidates in nomination and it is probable that the names of the candidates will be placed before the caucus without any oritorical flourish.

The canvass today began with a rumor that a combination had been effected between some of the Illinois democrats and members from Iowa and Michigan to throw their votes in the first ballot to Mills in order to lessen the strength of the Crisp vote which the members reported to be in the combination believe would be far in advance of that cast for any other candidate. The impression is gaining ground among members from the central western states that Crisp has too great strength to be overcome and they consider it bad politics to allow him to show so large a lead on the first ballot. It is said that the reported combination of Illinois, Iowa and Michigan votes for Mills on the first ballot has no other purpose than to prevent Crisp from securing too large a lead and the great prestige and power such displayed strength would bring him. A tabulation by states seems to indicate his certain election, with Mills second it the race.

The Revolution Didn't Revolve.

TEGU CIGALPA, Honduras, Dec. 2.—The inauguration of President Ponciano Leiva took place Monday with impressive ceremonies in the presence of a great crowd of spectators. The new president made an address which was favorably received. Gen. Bougram, the late chief executive, has retired to Santa Barbara. It is reported that a revolution has been started near the frontier line. The object of the insurgents was to capture the retiring and incoming presidents and members of congress. The plot was frustrated, however, and the revolutionists have taken up their allegiance to the new ruler.

Minister Kennedy's Profits.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 2.—A prominent Chilean refugee who has just arrived in the city from Santiago says that when fire destroyed the British legation Minister Kennedy saved all his own and his wife's clothing and jewelry and allowed the archives of the legation to be burned. Kennedy had a lot of old furniture which was insured for ten times its value, and on which he was promptly paid the face of the policy, thereby clearing a large sum by the conflagration.

Chicago Anarchists Fined.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Justice Woodman's long expected opinion in the cases of the so-called "anarchists" who were arrested in Grief's hall, some two weeks ago, was delivered this morning. After a lengthy review of the case, the justice fined the leaders of the assemblage $100 and costs and the rest of the 20 or 30 merely nominal amounts. The fines were all suspended.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Philadelphia—Samuel Pollock, 51 years old, shot his wife this morning, seriously injuring her and then killed kimself. Physicians at the Pennsylvania hospital say that Mrs. Pollock cannot recover.

Dublin—Mayor Grant, of New York, will sail for New York Thursday on the Teutonic.

London.—The proceedings in the suit of Countess Russell for separation from Earl Russell was begun in court today. There was a large crowd present but not so many ladies as expected, the testimony having been of a revolting nature.

Peoria—The Peoria & Pekin railway machine shop, together with the blacksmith shop and engine house were entirely destroyed by fire this morning. Loss about $12,000; partially insured. Cause unknown.

Berlin—The reichstag has voted 900,000 marks for the exhibit at the World's fair at Chicago.

Boston—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy gross earnings for October increased $357,670 and the net earnings increased $27,913.

London—Edward Pienter, the American crook, who swindled people by pretending to turn metal into gold was rearrested today on a charge of selling bonds stolen from the Barrings in 1883.

Pittsburg—A. B. Blood, the wealthy petroleum dealer, aged about 30, was thrown from his horse last evening and instantly killed.

St. Louis.—The Adams Express company, it is now stated will loose about $75,000 by the robbery of the Frisco night express near Glendale Monday.

Dublin—The McCarthyites have decided to take decisive steps to secure the Paris fund. Mr. McCarthy and Timothy Healy have begun action against Mr. Munroe, the banker, who holds the funds, to decide the ownership thereof and compel the restoration of the money to its rightful owners.

THE TRIBUNE MUDDLE.

The Mortgage Foreclosure and the Hill Interest.

The sale of the Tribune under a $25,000 mortgage to J. J. Hill or a party in his interest, takes place Saturday morning next. It is probable the mortgagee will bid it in. Mr. Chipman, the present manager, will be continued in that position to serve under Mr. Hill's party. The paper, it is claimed, will be run in the Hill interest by Mr. Chipman, much as the Fargo Argus is run at Fargo by G. K. Shaw for the same interest. Mr. Hill had a mortgage on the Argus and after he succeeded in closing it out he put Shaw in control.

Most of the employees of the Tribune, to whom it was in arrears for pay, have been paid. Ralph Mackenzie, whom the paper owes nearly $500 on salary account, has garnisheed the book accounts, but will have to fight Jim Hill for them, as the latter's mortgage is made out to cover these accounts. Mr. Dowling, of St. Louis, who seems to be the chief individual loser by the mortgage foreclosure, as he put a large amount of cash into the sheet after it was bought from R. C. Mitchell, does not seem to be "in it" as far as any salvage is concerned and will probably lose all he put in.

ANOTHER WAREHOUSE.

The Imperial Will Probably Build More at Buffalo.

Manager B. C. Church, of the Imperial mill, says that his company is now considering the advisability of building at Buffalo a duplicate of the flour dock in existence there, 100 by 500 feet, as there is great need of it. If the decision is favorable the piles will be driven this winter. About 25,000 barrels of flour—half its capacity—are now stored at Buffalo.

Within the past few days the company has begun shipping from 20 to 25 car loads a day by the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and Omaha roads, which practically takes care of the output. In a short time the new warehouse at the mill will be ready for storing 20,000 barrels. The excess of freight by rail over that by lake and rail to the Eastern seaboard amounts to 25 cents per barrel, so that the closing of navigation means from $600 to $700 more per day for freight bills. The imperial company is having an excellent demand for its flour and is selling about one-third for European export.

DISTRICT COURT.

Present Jurors Probably Have a Job for All Winter.

Judge Baxter left for St. Cloud this noon and it now looks as if Judge Ensign would still be working on this term's cases when the next term opens. He has had only 11 days' assistance this term and he is so disheartened that he will apply for no more aid, as the law works against him. When a judge comes here he has to pay his own expenses out of his meager salary, and that is asking too much.

The jury in Geo. J. McManus, appellant, vs. the Duluth & Winnipeg, respondent, returned a verdict of $6666.66 for the appellant. In J. R. Myers, Henry Lardner and F. W. Paine vs. the city, an appeal case in re extending Third street through West Park, the jury returned a verdict of $4814 for plaintiffs, which is $600 more than the commissioners' award.

ELECTS OFFICERS.

The Chamber Also Invites Grand Rapids People Down Here.

The directors of the chamber of commerce met this morning and organized for the year. S. A. Thompson, who has held down the position of secretary during the past year with distinguished ability, was re-elected, and M. O. Hall was re-elected treasurer.

The directors voted to invite the business men of Grand Rapids on the Duluth & Winnipeg to pay a visit to Duluth on or about the 20th of the month in order to establish closer relations between the two places. The invitation will undoubtedly accepted.

The Cause Celebre.

In the section 30 hearing this morning, Angus McDonald and Thomas Hyde were the witnesses whose testimony was taken. They gave their versions of the contract with Judge White. Nothing startling was brought out. Hyde claimed that White was dissatisfied at being obliged to pay them for staying on the land all the time and so they called the contract off.

A Petrified Body.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 2.—A St. Cloud special to the Journal says, parties engaged in exhuming bodies from the old catholic cemetery and removing them to the new one this morning took up the body of Mrs. Robinson who was buried there about 12 years ago. The body was found to be completely petrified and presented an almost snow-white appearance. The weight of the body is estimated at over 200 pounds.

Russian Roubles for Russian Railways.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 2.—The Bourse Gazzette says: The minister of finance, M. Vishnegradsky has requested the Russian railroad companies which propose to issue new bonds, to place themselves in communication with Russian bankers, who were willing to take up such new issues. This action upon the part of the finance minister is understood to have been taken in view of the fact that several German banks have offered to take up the bonds referred to.

Kidnapped a Texan.

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 2.—Last night at 11 o'clock while H. J. Dean, a prominent business man, was riding in a buggy with two other men near the fair grounds the carriage was held up by four men. They threw a blanket over Dean's head and pulled him out of the buggy, compelling the other occupants to drive on. The affair was reported to the police but no arrests have been made. No trace of Dean could be found. The object of the kidnapping is a mystery.

First entertainment of the Duluth High School Lecture association the "Jingle of the Dollar."

It is not an uncommon thing to see really artistic pictures spoiled by being improperly framed and to avoid this one must give it some thought and study and have sufficient and proper framing material to select from. It is possible to find this at 315 West Superior street, Gordon & Henszey.

The Herald business and editorial offices have been removed from the Chamber of Commerce building to the Henderson building, corner of Fifth avenue west and Michigan street. Entrance on Fifth avenue opposite the Spalding house.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 2.—The conditions are very unsettled west of the Mississippi river this morning. Light rain and snow has fallen in the Northwest and along the upper lakes elsewhere fair weather prevails. The temperature has fallen slightly in the Northwest and risen elsewhere. The warmest place is Fort Smith, Ark., 54°, the coldest 8° at Battleford, N. W. T.

It is probable that the existing conditions will drift slowly eastward with perhaps light showers in this section, turning to snow tomorrow and followed by much colder weather.

The highest temperature here yesterday was 42 the lowest last night 31.

DULUTH, Dec. 2.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Dec. 3: Threatening, possibly light rain; slightly warmer.

Events Tonight.

At Temple Opera—"The Midnight Alarm."

FIRST OF THE HIGH SCHOOL LECTURES.

The opening lecture of the High school course of which so much has been said in the local press will be given at Temple Opera Friday night of this week by Samuel G. Smith, the popular St. Paul preacher.

The school children, and particularly the students of the High school, have done much to make the course a success, thus naturally interesting their parents who are living their lives over again in them. The boys and girls have entered into the work with a patriotic vim that proves the future of Duluth will be in the keeping of earnest hearts and willing hands. It is certainly an inspiration to older heads to behold the work of such youthful citizens, and the outcome of their efforts is awaited with an expectant solicitude. To throw an obstacle in their way or in any manner chill the worthy ardor of youth should be farthest from the thoughts of any citizen of Duluth. Ten lectures for a dollar, the proceeds, if any, to go to a public and patriotic purpose, is like benevolence at both ends of the enterprise, for the subscriber gets more than he pays for and the public gets all that is left. The opening lecture should be made an index to others and a success in itself.

THE CANADIAN CANAL.

A telegram on another page states that the Dominion government has decided to build a canal several miles in length around the Cascade rapids in the St. Lawrence river, and thus complete an independent waterway from Duluth to the sea. The estimated cost of $4,500,000 will most likely be exceeded, but the advantages will be well worth the undertaking even at a modest multiple of these figures. This action of our neighbors, coming just at this time should serve as a hint to the powers that be at Washington and move them likewise to canal the rapids or improve the St. Lawrence without delay. The deep waterways convention to be held on the 17th in Detroit will find further encouragement in the decision at Ottawa, and its deliberations are likely to receive some consideration in the halls of congress. We want our waterway deeper to Buffalo and longer to Liverpool.

The action of Edward M. Field, son of Cyrus W. Field and nephew of David Dudley and Henry M. Field, as also of Justice Stephen J. Field, of the United States supreme court, in connection with the recent failure of his firm in New York, has brought disgrace upon a family hardly less illustrious than that of the Beechers and perhaps second to none in the land. It is little wonder that the son, realizing the ruin he had brought upon himself and the dishonor upon his family name, suddenly became a raving maniac and is now confined in a madman's cell. Thus quickly does retribution sometimes follow sin.

The section 30 case on trial at the land office grows in personal interest as it advances. Sallies of wit flit back and forth between the attorneys themselves, as also between the attorneys and the witnesses, and there is repartee galore of a pleasing but rather too meaningful sort. The case is a big one and there are alleged to be millions in it, and whether this means a million claimants and attorneys or merely the insignificant matter of a million dollars, it is almost equally true in every respect. There is nothing small or slow about Duluth when it comes to captivating the title to an iron mine.

Senator Pugh of Alabama asks the democracy to remember that it has never deserted the constitutional use of gold and silver, and that the source of political success lies as often in the minor details as in the so-called paramount issues of the campaign. From a democratic standpoint he takes issue with Senator Carlisle and others who hold that the tariff should overshadow all other questions in '92. The South is pretty thoroughly imbued with the silver sentiment, and any move looking like a blow at the poor man's coin will be fought to the death in Dixie.

Habit is half the man, and the ways of the human mind are past finding out. History repeats itself, fashions go but come back again, epidemics make their regular rounds, and even the form of crime changes for a season, but returns after many years. Train robbery which had become almost a lost art after the capture of the James and Younger gangs has revived again and nearly every day brings news of wrecks and raids in some part of the country.

The action of the citizens meeting in appointing a committee to investigate the movement for the proposed forestry reserve was just and proper. Let us know all the facts and then fight them as becomes a free and unfenced people. If it is a land grab, a railroad scheme, a timber steal, or any other sort of robbery we should know it and jump on to it accordingly. But perhaps we are wholly wrong after all, and the vesselmen who want deeper water in Lake Superior are the fellows who are doing us up. In view of the coming waterways convention it is well to know all about it right away.

When is the much mooted scheme for a direct railway to Dakota to receive a boom from the proposed public meeting at which the travelers through that wonderland are to tell their tales? Now is the time, just as navigation is closing for the winter months, to bring railway problems to the front and solve them before the grand spring opening the first of May. We need a short cut inlet and outlet between Duluth and Dakota. We need it now. Success comes not from supine repose. Go to.

Of a hundred democratic congressmen recently interviewed a great majority favor Cleveland and Boies for '92. Then with Blaine and McKinley on the other ticket the questions of the day would be pushed to the fore and no attempt made to resurrect dead issues.

The lecture by Hon. Page Morris on "Richmond" at the Endion baptist church Dec. 11, will be illustrated with numerous Virginia views including Libby prison and other well-known places. This promises to be the most interesting of the course.

News from Washington indicates the choice of Crisp, of Georgia, as speaker of the house. This would be a most happy outcome for his party and the country, though Wilson or McMillan would fill the bill.

It is well that the country should prepare itself a little against the flood of department reports to congress this week. The chief use of many of them is to make work for government printers. The boys must be remembered.

BOOKS, WRITERS AND READERS.

Harper & Brothers have just published Professor T. R. Lounsbury's "Studies in Chaucer," in three volumes; Dr. Andrew Wilson's "Glimpses of Nature;" a new volume in Dr. William M. Taylor's series of Bible biographies, entitled "Ruth, the Gleaner, and Esther, the Queen;" and a text-book on "English Words," by Professor Johnson, of Trinity college, Hartford. The latest volume in Franklin Square Library is "Mr. East's Experiences in Mr. Bellamy's World," translated from the German. This is said to form the best answer to Mr. Bellamy's dream that has been written. George du Maurier's novel, "Peter Ibbetson," profusely illustrated, is just ready. A volume of the "Letters of Charles Dickens to Wilkie Collins," will be out this week. These letters cover the most active and successful period of the great novelist's career (1851-1870), and give many new and interesting glimpses of the man as well as of the author. The "Life of Stonewall Jackson," by his wife, will contain several portraits and illustrations. Samuel Smiles' new book, "Jasmin: Barber, Poet, Philanthropist," will be published shortly. "From the Easy Chair," by George William Curtis, is the title of an elegant little volume about to be published. It includes many of the choicest papers contributed by Mr. Curtis to the "Editor's Easy Chair" of Harper's Magazine during 30 years.

Professor Drummond's "Greatest Thing in the World" was not intended for publication, it is said, but so garbled a version of the little address got into circulation that he printed a correct edition in self defense.

"A Sweet Girl Graduate" comes from the Cassell press. The story is by L. T. Meade, author of "A World of Girls," "The Palace Bountiful," etc., and there are eight illustrations.

D. Appleton & Co. publish immediately an illustrated edition of the charming story, "Colette," by the author of "Straight On." There are 36 clever illustrations by the French artist Jean Claude, and the book will appear with wide margins, gilt top, rough-cut edges and especially designed and novel cover.

A. C. McClurg & Co. have added to their list of ancient romances in new dress Jane Porter's "The Scottish Chiefs," in two small volumes. The same press affords "A Song of Life," picture-lecture for young folk on some of the rudimentary facts of nature, and "The Story of Jane Austen's Life," by Oscar Fay Adams.

Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of the American edition of the Review of Reviews, has sailed for England. He will have a very gratifying account of progress to make to Mr. Stead, reporting, as a result of the first year of the American edition, a circulation of something like 50,000 copies, with a steady increase. The American edition, while using considerable matter in common with the English, has grown into what is practically a distinct magazine, its tone, character and point of view being as American as Mr. Stead's edition is British. A continental edition is now issued. This consists of the sheets of the English edition bound in a special cover, and with some special advertising. An Australian edition has also been arranged for, which will consist of the English sheets sent from London, together with a special insert of perhaps 16 pages, edited and printed in Melbourne and devoted to a review of Australasian affairs.

921—Biography; Adams, W. T., Life of Grant.

A Kitchen That Feeds 4000.

A late description of the Dayton, Ohio, Soldiers' home contains the following:

A large archway from the dining hall leads into the kitchen, a sanctum presided over by a head cook and 32 assistants. Here are to be seen the range, 20 feet long, the vast copper caldrons for cooking soup and vegetables, and seven coffee boilers, each holding upwards of 100 gallons, which are filled and emptied twice a day the year through. In describing this part of the home there is nothing left to do but to plunge into statistics. Here are some verified figures of quantities of food used at the home: It takes 7 barrels of mackerel, 54 bushels of potatoes, and 560 gallons of coffee for their Friday breakfast; 7 tubs of mashed potatoes and 3 whole beeves to go to one day's dinner; 45 pounds of tea every night for supper; 1200 dozen eggs for Easter breakfast; 40 sheep go to a pot pie; and 900 pounds of corned beef, with 30 bushels of potatoes for one mess of hash. Twelve hundred pies, requiring three tubs of butter to the upper crust and three tubs of lard for the lower, with 12 barrels of apples for the filling, make one day's desert. Four hundred square feet of gingerbread are baked twice a day. On Christmas day the veterans are treated to 400 turkeys, seven barrels of cranberry sauce, 1200 mince pies and oysters, celery and other delicacies in proportion. Bread is baked every day, beginning at midnight. It is kneaded by steam, six barrels of flour to a mixing, the machine being filled three times. These 18 barrels of flour fill a room shelved to the ceiling with fragrant loaves which are all eaten in one day.

Safe Investments

LISTEN TO REASON AND MAKE MONEY.

Splendid Opportunities.

The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this way however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your eisure, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or petsons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

SUPERIOR TALKS UNION

The City Over the Bay Wants Both Foot and Wagon Bridge Across the St. Louis River at Oneota.

If It Takes Steps to That End There Will be Street Car Connection Between the Cities at an Early Day.

It Also Talks About Getting a Fire Tug to Protect the Water Front of the Two Cities.

The question of the two cities of Duluth and Superior uniting in one matter at least—that of equipping one of the most powerful of the Inman tugs as a fire boat and paying a certain sum for keeping it ready for immediate call and service at any time—has come up. Capt. Inman will send a formal letter to the city council at an early date, stating that the contract of the fire tug Sutton expired this winter, and that he will not care to renew it, but that he believes some arrangement may be made by the two cities whereby a better boat, better equipped, can be secured for the service. He has also sent such a letter to the Superior council.

Speaking of this matter Vice-President A. C. Jones, of the Northwestern Fuel company, said today that he believed it would be an excellent plan, and that all the coal companies at the head of the lake would approve and assist to the best of their ability.

Another matter of union—not exactly with Duluth however, but with West Duluth—came up at the Superior council last evening. An alderman introduced a resolution, which was adopted, authorizing the building of a bridge across the St. Louis river, the Superior end to be located somewhere between the ends of Belknap and Winter streets, or near the plant of the Superior Steel company. This bridge would reach across to a point in Oneota, and would be for wagon and foot passage. By it the Superior idea is to got some of the West Duluth traffic that has been lost to that place by the connection of the street railway system of Duluth and West Duluth.

The street railway company states that it is ready, if such a bridge is built, to put a line to Superior to connect with the Douglas county street cars, but does not believe that the location of a bridge so far up the river would be nearly as good as at the foot of Garfield avenue. It already has a partial understanding with the Douglas county line for a transfer system whenever connection can be made.

HAD LEGAL ADVICE.

The Street Railway People Cut the Knot and Woodland Rejoices.

Manager Wardwell, of the Street Railway company, believes in following the example of the old gentleman who cut a Gordian knot. So after a long and troublesome legal delay he yesterday put over 100 men at work on the 20-acre tract owned by W. E. Richardson and over which the railway company has been unable to go. He soon had a line in and late yesterday afternoon the Woodland cars began regular running through on the new line.

Mr. Wardwell stated to a Herald reporter that his company, it believed, had done no unlawful act, although an injunction to prevent a crossing was appealed to the supreme court. "We had good legal advice," he continued, "to do as we have done. At any rate we are across the disputed territory, the people who live there are getting service, and it'll take a fight to get us off."

"Now," said the reporter, "how about the connection Mr. Richardson wanted over Clover Hill and for which he promised free right of way through his 20 acres?"

"Don't know about that," was the reply. "We did intend to fix Mr. Richardson and his parties in a manner they could not object to. But we have had a good deal of trouble."

The position of the company is this: That the injunction issued by Judge Mills is no longer in force. After the injunction was issued an order was made by Judge Mills dissolving it, from which order of dissolution an appeal was taken by Richardson. It was the effect of this appeal by Richardson that was passed upon by the supreme court. But an appeal was also taken by the company from the original order granting the injunction. The effect of this last appeal has not been passed upon by the supreme court, but Judge Searle, after a full argument, has expressed the opinion that its effect was to render the injunction inoperative. The company has therefore proceeded with the construction of the road.

Both Messrs. Richardson, Day and Briggs are out of the city, but their representatives state that the injunction is against the building of a line and the operating of cars over the land, and they believe it is clearly contempt to do so and punishable by fine or imprisonment.

In the meantime the residents of Woodland, whose sympathies in the fight are generally with Richardson, though he has caused them lots of trouble and annoyance, are glad they get through connections.

A Serious Runaway Accident.

While Wm. Horgan, manager of the Duluth Mortgage Loan company, and A. Westburg, were coming down Twenty-first avenue west, above Fourth street, yesterday, one of Scott & Holson's teams drawing a heavy wagon loaded with furniture came out of the alley way above and in turning, had to let go of the reins. When the horses found themselves released, they ran down the avenue and crashed into the buggy Mr. Horkan was driving, smashed it to pieces and threw the occupants out, under the runaway team, which rolled and stumbled over them, seriously injuring Mr. Horkan on the hip, breast, back and about the head. He was taken to his residence on Third street as soon as assistance arrived, where he lies in a critical condition. Mr. Westburg was badly hurt about the head and his neck strained. He was removed to St. Marys hospital, where he now lies in a serious condition.

The High School Lecture Course.

Among the several prominent outsiders asked to deliver lectures in the Duluth high school course is Col. A. De Leur, of Milwaukee. If he accepts the invitation his address will be on "The American Flag as Viewed by a Foreigner." John D. Gill, the originator of the scheme, has been out hustling for all there is in him since the school board tried to sit down on him and has found quite a strong sentiment in his favor. People who are not personally in love with Mr. Gill seem to think that he has not been fairly treated and accordingly there is every prospect that the high school lecture course will receive strong support.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

O. H. Hewit, the lawyer, was conversing in a street car yesterday with the writer. The car was spinning at a lively pace through the business portion of Superior street, and as Mr. Hewit looked out through the window he called the attention of the scribe to the great number of emblazoned signs announcing that bankrupt sales were going on in various stores. "There ought to be some action whereby such signs could not be put on a building," said the lawyer, "and I believe that it is possible to hinder their use. If people really have bankrupt sales let them advertise the fact through the newspapers and not give out city a black eye by plastering the main business street with bankrupt signs. The fact is there are very few bankrupt sales in town and most of the signs are put up to entice the public into buying. These alleged bankrupt sales often make a hundred percent profit. The council can take action toward keeping such signs off and owners of buildings should stipulate in their leases that no such signs can be used by the occupants."

"That Western Mesaba range," said John McKinley, "has rapidly come before the public as a very rich storehouse of iron We have about 800 acres of what we consider very valuable land in 58-16 and I don't believe we would take less than $500,000 for it today. And yet it was only 15 months since we offered the stumpage on it at $2 a thousand and were willing to throw in the land with the pine at $2 an acre additional. There were no takers. Bye and bye the first discoveries were made on that part of the range and finally we found excellent indidations on this particular land. We have sunk pits through ore from 25 to 30 feet deep on this land and the vein runs for a good two miles."

"There," said County Commissioner Jefferson, pointing to the court house, "is the most expensive piece of property in St. Louis county. I will venture to say that the yearly expense incurred in repairing that old pile of bricks is equal to the interest on a sum sufficient to build a very handsome and commodious structure."

Superintendent Green, of this division of the Northern Pacific, thinks he has had enough wheat to last him all winter and personally hopes the movement this way will grow less now that navigation is over. "I am busy now," he said this morning, "in figuring out about how we have done in wheat for three months. We have averaged something about 12 solid wheat trains alone a day of 24 hours. I made up some figures a few days ago that showed that with cars on track here and at West Superior and with what were between Duluth and Fargo at the same day, there was a total of something over 13 miles of wheat-laden cars."

NEWS FROM MORNING PAPERS.

The tug Bennett, which arrived from Cranberry river last evening, brought to town John Joyce, a young lumberman whose arm was badly injured at the Cranberry Lumber company's camp. Joyce was loading logs and his canthook slipped and the log rolled over him, catching his arm against a stump and crushing it. The arm was amputated last evening. Joyce is unmarried and came from Saginaw to this region. He is very week.

Elevator B and I are being cleaned up and arranged for receiving wheat this winter. Yesterday the work at I had progressed far enough to give the pumps a start. After a few minutes work they choked up and refused to run. The valves were opened and found to be full of small fish. The pump well was uncovered and found to be a mass of wriggling fish. There was scarcely enough water to keep the finny specimens. They were about four inches long and were thought to be lake trout, probably from this year's spawn.

Lehigh Coal Fire Gaining.

The fire at the Lehigh dock obstinately resists all efforts to quench it. Today it has gained rapidly and is now burning in the dock timbers. Two 2½-inch streams from the pumps of the coal company are playing on the fire night and day, which is burning toward the main coal piles and threatens to become of serious dimensions. Already many hundred tons of coal have been destroyed. This is the Lehigh's second serious fire inside a month.

Y. M. C. A. Directors.

The annual meeting of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. association was held last night. Ten directors were elected for the year as follows: W. S. Woodbridge, G. W. Stevens, Dr. S. C. Maxwell, N. J. Upham, A. H. Holgate, C. E. Shannon, J. F. Merriam, Andrew Shaw, Dr. J. B. Weston and G. W. Butters. Messrs. C. F. Howe, C. P. Grady, H. H. Hudson were made a committee for the revision of the constitution. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening passed.

Something About Winds.

To the American, with his practical views and iconoclastic materialism, wind is simply an agitation of the atmosphere. Before the advent of steam, he ground the meal for his daily bread with the aid of wind; he avails himself of it yet to waft his trading vessels across the the seas. If it is gentle, he calls it a breeze; if it comes with a sudden rush, roar and whirl, depositing his house on the next quarter section, his cattle in the next township and makes him hunt the cellar in a hurry, he names it a cyclone—and proceeds to get himself together again. The ancients, however, with their tendency to "see sermons in stones and books in running brooks," personified all things in nature and named the winds —Boreas, the north wind; Eurus, the east wind; Zephyrus, the west wind, and Notus, the south wind. These were the sons of Astræa, (the star man) and Eos (the dawn). Just at this time people in the Northwestern states are (some of them) dreading the piercing blasts of Boreas and thinking about a flight to the orange groves of Florida and California. The line for the south-bound traveler to take is "The Burlington," which as its own tracks to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha, where close connections are made with the railways leading south, southwest and west. Through tickets and full information can be had from agents of "the Burlington" or by addressing W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul Minn.

A Few of Their Uses.

Most people think of Diamond Dyes as used only for dyeing. Far from it. Here are a few of the other uses in which they are successful:

Writing Inks.
Water Colors.
Wood Stains.
Shoe Dressing.
Colored Varnishes.

And they dye dresses, cloaks, feathers, yarn, almost everything. Always successful when directions are followed.

SUPERIOR'S SENSATION.

Arrest of Police Officials for Alleged Assault Upon Two Celestials.

A breeze of excitement was caused at Superior and here by some talk of warrants for the arrest of Thos. J. Madden, chief of police of West Duluth; Con O'Leary, sergeant of police of Ashland, and Al Childs, a sport of Ely, charged with assault upon Yick Woo and Al Hop, a pair of very decent and nearly Americanized Chinamen. The trouble occurred a couple of days ago, but was kept quiet until Yick Woo, who was seriously injured, could recover somewhat and be in shape to prosecute his alleged assailants.

Chief of Police Madden was seen this morning and when spoken to in regard to the article in the morning papers accusing him of "holding up" some Chinamen in West Superior said: "Con O'Leary, of Ashland, came over to see me and we went to Superior together. On our way over I lost my hat and in a joking way told Con that I would have a hat even if we had to hold up a Chinaman. We met two Chinamen soon after and as Con was somewhat under the weather, he immediately proceeded to pnt in force what I had said and downed his man and took his hat before I could interfere. This is all there is to the story. We did not rob the men, nor did I strike them." Mr. Madden says he did strike Childs, but that it was previous to the fracas with the Chinamen.

MORTGAGE SALE.—

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Harry B. White and Nettie M. White, his wife, to the Union Building and Loan association, of Duluth, Minn., bearing date the 23rd day of June, A. D. 1890, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 31st day of July, A. D. 1890, at 4 o'clock p. m., in book 60 of mortgages, on page 7;

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the dues, monthly interest and premium for more than the space of four months after the same has become due;

And whereas the mortgage contains a provision that in case of default in the payment of the monthly interest or premium, or any part thereof for the space of four months after the same shall have become due, then the whole principal debt shall become due, and the mortgagee shall have authority and power to sell the said premises at public auction, agreeably to the statutes in such case made and provided.

And whereas said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole debt due because of said default in the payment of said interest and premium.

And whereas there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of the first publication of this notice on the debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of one thousand and twenty-one and 52-100 ($1021.52) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in, and covered by said mortgage, viz: Lot fifteen, of block eighty, West Duluth, Sixth division, according to the recorded plat thereof, said lands being located in St. Louis county, Minnesota, will with the hereditaments and appurtenances be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash to pay said debt and interest and the taxes, if any, on said premises and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, county and state aforesaid, on the twenty-third day of December, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated Duluth, Minn., Nov. 10th, A. D. 1891.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of two hundred fifty-eight and 62-100, ($258.62) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by John Hendrickson and Etta Hendrickson, his wife, mortgagors, to William McKinley, mortgagee, bearing date the 24th day of June, 1891, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 28th day of June, 1891, at 8 o'clock a. m. in book 70 of mortgages, on page 472. Which said mortgage together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said William McKinley, mortgagee, to Charles E. Marsden by written assignment, dated the 10th day of September, 1891, and recorded in the office of said register of deeds, on the 24th day of September, 1891, at 4 o'clock p. m., in book 73 of said mortgage records, on page 530, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

Lots two [2], three [3], and five [5], and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter [nw¼ of ne¼], of section eleven [11], township sixty-one [61], north range thirteen [13], west of the fourth principal meridian according to the government survey thereof, in St. Louis county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth in said county and state, on the 15th day of December, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of two hundred fifty-eight and 62-100 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five [$25] dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

HANDLE SOME FREIGHT

A Total of Thirty-two Thousand Freight Cars Handled by the Local Traffic Association During Last November.

This is a Total That Would Make Many a Great Railway Center Sick at Heart to Contemplate.

Monthly Report of the Health Department Shows That Duluth Multiplies to Inherit the Earth.

Chairman Kelly, of the Lake Superior Car Service association, says that during November the roads handled at the head of the lakes 32,228 loaded cars, as against 30,126 in October, which had been by far the greatest month ever known. The records of the various roads were: St. Paul & Duluth, 7247; Omaha, 3335; Northern Pacific, 10,814; Eastern, 10,581; Duluth & Iron Range, 156; South Shore, 95. Of wheat there were 18,277 cars as against 16,216 in October. The coal shipped out required 10,005 cars, an increase of 500. The lumber shipments were 694 cars, an increase of 251, while the loads of stone and gravel handled were 514.

The Health Report.

The health report for November, which is given below shows an excellent state of affairs except in the matter of diphtheria, which has by this time nearly died out. Following are the items:

Number of deaths, 34, which is the same as last month. Causes—diphtheria, 10; typhoid, 6; old age, phthisis, peritonitis, heart disease, 2 each; cyanosis, pneumonia, enteritis, capiliary bronchitis, uraemia, congenital syphilis, puerperal fever, gastro enteritis, cholera infantum, insastile convelsions, 1 each. Ages—Nine were under 1 year; 3 from 1 to 5; 3 from 5 to 10; 4 from 10 to 20; 12 from 20 to 40; 1 from 40 to 60; 2 from 60 to 80. Nine were born in Duluth, 10 in other parts of the United States and 15 in foreign countries. Seuenteen were males and 17 females, while 28 were single and six were married. The annual death rate for the month was 10.2, which is considered low.

The births numbered 87, and increase over last month of 13 and over one year ago of 22. Contrary to the rule the boys outnumbered the girls by 11, there being 49 of the former and 38 of the latter. Five were stillborn and one illegitimate.

The Poor Report.

The county commissioners are holding their monthly meeting this afternoon. Following is the report of the superintendent of poor: Number of applications for aid, 57; visits made, 40; relief granted, 43 cases; cost, $236; patients in hospital Nov. 1, 23; sent during month, 13; now in hospital, 9; hospital expenses, $390.40; inmates at poor house Nov. 30, 26; sent there during month, 7; poor house expenses, $544.14; visits made by county physician, 56; burials furnished, 5; cost, $9; transportation furnished, 4; cost, $55.85.

Marine Notes.

The Mitchell and the Northwest are loading grain here today for winter storage. Yesterday's clearances of the Fryer, Caledonia and Rhodes will probably prove to be the last of the season, as shippers are unwilling to send anything out of here now. The Caledonia, so good authorities say, did a very foolish thing in picking up the Northwest and bringing her to Duluth, as in case of accident the insurance companies would probably refuse to pay anything for the reason that they took the insurance on condition that she was to proceed direct from Port Arthur to Buffalo. The Rhodes went to Port Arthur to get a load of wheat, as nothing offered here.

A letter has arrived here from Sydney, New South Wales, addressed to "Capt. McDougall, shipyard, Duluth, Lake Superior, Wisconsin, United States."

Chicago Inter Ocean: There was a great laugh along the river yesterday when the news spread that the Seamen's union "had captured the pig." Union sailors made a raid on the crew of the whaleback barge 107, as she lay at the elevator in the South Branch, and took the entire outfit to union headquarters. Late in the afternoon the "pig" was given police protection, and the crew were coaxed back to sail the odd looking craft to Buffalo. Late last night the union forces were anxiously waiting for another raid on the whalebacks, but were prevented by the strong police guard.

Two Harbors Light.

The lighthouse board yesterday issued a circular regarding the light and steam fog signal at Two Harbors. In 1892 a fixed red light of the fourth order will be exhibited from the structure recently erected on the point separating Agate and Burlington bays. The light will illumine the entire horizon. The focal place is 78 feet above the lake level, and the light may be seen 13 miles. During the thick weather a 10-inch steam whistle will be sounded, giving blasts of five seconds duration, with silent intervals of 17 and 33 seconds.

Sault Passages.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 2.—[Special to The Herald].—Down a. m.—Gladstone, 6; Tampa, 7:50; Monarch, 9. Calm, clerr, much warmer; no ice.

Highest Docks in the World.

The new ore docks to be built this winter by the Duluth & Iron Range road will be the highest yet put up. At present the ore docks enjoying this distinction are those built by R. B. Dear for the Schlesinger syndicate at Escanaba, which are 50 feet above the water. The Iron Range docks will be 51½ feet up, and are put so high to facilitate loading in to the big Minnesota Steamship company's ships and their bigger consorts now being built. About 2,000,000 feet of timber will go into the dock to be built this winter.

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Great variety of neckwear, silk scarfs, hats and caps, boots, shoes and rubbers. Everything in the line of underwear. White shirts, mittens and suspenders. All of the above at greatly reduced prices for the holidays.

WORLD OF COMMERCE

Local Wheat Holds up Well Early in the Day but Breaks Later to a Close Decidedly Lower.

Receipts and Shipments are Smaller Than on Late Days of November but are Still Fairly Large.

The Close Elsewhere; Notes of the General Market; Buffalo's Vessel Blockade; About the Elevators.

Wheat on the Duluth market opened firm this morning at a variable scale, ranging from ½c above yesterday's close to ¼c below. The early trading in cash and May was fairly active and steady at the opening prices. Business in 1 northern December was of good proportions at slowly declining prices up to about 11, when a break of 1c occurred and a break of 1c to 1¼c on May. The last hour the market ruled firmer and quite irregular and recovered ¼c to ⅜c of the decline on May. The close was nervous and unsettled at 1c to 1¼c below the opening figures.

Late cables came generally lower and brought lower buying limits. Clearances of four Atlantic ports yesterday of wheat and flour were equivalent to 1,002,864 bu of wheat. New York clearances today of wheat and flour equal 775,377 bu wheat. The blockade in Buffalo is reported as still in high feather, while the Erie canal is in hourly danger of closing, shutting in a great quantity of wheat on canal boats.

No. 1 hard cash opened at yesterday's close 87½c, ruled steady, but finally broke off to 86½. No. 1 northern opened ¼c below yesterday's close at 86½c, fell away to a close at 85½c. No. 2 northern sold at 81c and fell to a close at 80c. No. 3 sold at 78c and closed 1c lower, Rejected closed at 65c.

December 1 hard closed 86¾c and 1 northern at 85¾c, while 2 northern sold at 80½c.

May 1 hard opened at 96c, declined and closed at 94¾c. No. 1 northern opened at 94¾c, just ¼c above yesterday, sold largely at that to near noon, when it broke off and fell to a close at 93½c.

Close Elsewhere.

Chicago—Wheat: December, 80⅞c; May, 96⅞. Corn: December, 46½c; January 42c; May, 42¾c. Oats: December, 31¼c; January, 31c; May, 32½@⅝c. Pork: December, $8.15; January, $11.05; May, $11.47½. Lard: December, $5.90; January, $6.07½; May, $6.21½@6.45. Ribs: January. $4.54; May, 5.80.

Minneapolis—December opened 84¾c, closed 84c; May opened 92½c, closed 91⅝c. On track, No. 1 hard. 86½c; No. 1 northern, 85¼c; No. 2 northern, 81@82c.

New York Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Money 3½ per cent. Up to noon the sales amounted to only 90,100 shares. The opening prices were irregular. Wheeling and Lake Erie was down ¾ and the selling of Richmond and West Point was resumed on a large scale, forcing it down to 8¾ from 8¾. Atchison, Northern Pacific preferred and Erie were also pressed for sale but their prices were well held. Sugar trust was forced down to 86 from 87¾. Later in the first hour Missouri Pacific suddenly dropped from 58½ to 57½, but subsequently recovered somewhat. After 11 o'clock there was a firmer feeling. West Point rallied to 9 and the other stocks recovered slightly. At noon the market was dull but steady.

Daily Grain Movement.

Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 126; Great Northern, 112; Omaha, 10; St. Paul & Duluth, 15; total, 263; last year, 76; at Minneapolis 572. A TRIFLE FISHY

Coolness Saved a Steamer That Had Blown Across the Lake.

[Chicago Post.]

The steamer Parks Foster, which is now on her way to Chicago with a cargo of coal, is said to have had as close a call as ever befell a vessel on the great lakes. On her last trip to Duluth for a load of wheat the steamer lay for 36 hours sheltered under Whitefish Point from a furious northwest gale. As soon as the wind went down a little she started out. Before night the wind came to the southwest and was soon blowing a terrific gale, accompanied by blinding snow. The Foster had no cargo except the water which was pumped into her false bottom and presented her whole broadside to the force of the wind. It soon became a question, not of reaching Duluth, but of finding some place for shelter. The wind steadily increased in volume and the steamer was blown clear across Lake Superior.

The first land that Capt. George E. Merritt saw was the high rocky bluffs of Lake Superior's north shore. Destruction seemed almost inevitable, as the engines would not hold the steamer from going on the shore, and stranding at this point meant the annihilation of the steamer and the death of all the crew. As Captain Merritt gazed upon the rocks which rose 200 or 300 feet straight out of the water he discovered a crevice. He instantly made up his mind to run for that as a forlorn hope. The break between the forbidding rocks was scarcely wider than the steamer and she might miss it in entering. The lifeboats were got in readiness, life preservers were placed at hand for instant use and then the big steamer swung around in the tremendous sea and headed for the crevice. She never touched as she entered, and soon fetched up in the little bay just beyond.

At the end of two days the sea had run down and Capt. Merritt determined to see if he could float his vessel after he had pumped out the water bottom. At the end of several hours the Foster moved and was soon afloat once more upon Lake Superior. Fearing that the boat had been badly damage Capt. Merritt returned to Sault Ste. Marie and was ordered to take the Foster to Cleveland for repairs. When placed in dry dock he was astonished to see that she was entirely uninjured.

"Capt. Merritt's course," said a vesselman today, "in running into that crevice was a remarkable act of bravery and coolness. "I have never heard anything equal to it on the great lakes. Had his courage or his nerve failed him both boat and crew would have been lost and we would never have known the secret of the mystery. The point where the Foster stranded was about 180 miles northwest of Whitefish Point."

A California Millionaire Leaves Three Wives to Mourn His Loss and Divide His Gains.

He Began Marrying in England, Kept up the Fun All the Way to the Coast.

Statement of Uncle Sam's Finances by the Treasurer and Controller at Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Thirty-one years ago in England Joel R. Carter married a charming lass, and lived happily with her until two children were born. Then he resolved to seek his fortune in America. Going to Akron, Ohio, he began business in a modest way, but his establishment grew rapidly and he was soon considered a solid citizen. While in Akron he corresponded with his family, but appeared to be weary of them, and selling his property moved to Peoria, Ill., where he sunk his identity by calling himself Cramer. He ceased writing to his English wife and married again. Cramer and his new wife left Peoria and came to Sacramento about two years ago. He brought $50,000 in greenbacks on his person. Then his wife secured a divorce and married a man named Campbell. Carter also married again. Recently he died, leaving a large estate and now there is a lively row going on in the probate court. The news of his death rapidly spread, and his family in England soon had a representative en route for California and today Joel R. Carter Jr., son of wife No. 1 was in the city. Mrs. Sarah J. Campbell, wife No. 2, is here and the son of No. 1, together with wife No. 2, wife No. 3 and her infant occupy the same house in Sacramento.

OUR NATIONAL FINANCES.

Treasurer Nebeker Makes the Annual Report of His Stewardship.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Treasurer Nebeker's annual report shows that the national revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30 were $392,612,447.31 or $10,468,535.32 less than that of the year before. The net ordinary expenditures, exclusive of the amounts paid in premium on bonds purchased, were $355,372,684.74, an increase of $57,636,119.14. The surplus revenues were thus cut down from $105,344,496.03 to $37,239,762.57, which last sum was applied to the reduction of public debt. The postal revenues were $45,762,980.55 and the expenditure $72,067,080.65, an increase of about $5,000,000 in each account.

The reduction in the principal of the bonded debt amounted to $116,590,273.89, which including premiums on bonds required. This sum was made up by taking $93,781,731.91 from the reserve in the treasury in addition to the surplus revenues of the year. The consequent reduction in the annual interest charge was $4,322,092.35. The amount of money in the country on June 30, exclusive of certificates in circulation, for which the treasury held deposit, was $1,686,078,102, of which $180,413,019 belongs to the treasury and $1,395,666,083 was in circulation. There was a net loss of $49,000,000 of gold, a net gain of upwards of $40,000,000 of other money and a consequent contraction of about $9,000,000 in the whole volume.

There was a decrease of about $3,000,000 in amount of bonds held for the national banks as security for their circulation as also the amount held for security for safety deposits. Nearly $6,000,000 of national bank notes were redeemed. The fresh deposits for the withdrawal of notes from circulation amounted to nearly $10,000,000, while the redemptions from the fund arising from this source exceeded $25 000,000.

Counterfeit siluer coins, United States notes, silver certificates, national bank notes and fractional currency of the nominal face value of nearly $90,000 were detected at the treasury office, a considerable decrease from the year before, which shows, presumably, a corresponding improvement in the condition of the currency. Three new counterfeits have appeared, all photographic.

OUR NATIONAL BANKS.

They Have Increased in Number and Circulation This Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The report of the comptroller of the currency shows that during the year ending Oct. 31, 1891, 193 new national banks were organized, with an aggregate capital of $20,700,000. During the same period 41 associations went into voluntary liquidation and 20 became insolvent, leaving, as a net gain for the twelve months, 127 banks, with a capital of $12,533,000. The number of banks in operation Oct. 31, 1891, was 3691, having a capital stock of $684,755,865; bonds deposited to secure circulation, $125,113,650; bank notes outstanding, $171,368,048, including $35,430,721, represented by lawful money deposited for their redemption. The gross circulation has decreased $7,571,085 during the year, while that secured by pledge of bonds has increased $11,795,101. No increase of notes secured by pledge of bonds has occurred since 1881 until the present year. In number of failures the present exceeds any previous year, but others have been more disastrous in point of capital and liabilities. More than half in number of the insolvent banks were located in the Western states and the failures were chiefly due to successive crop failures.

Chequamegon's Lumber Trade.

ASHLAND, Dec. 3.—The total cut of the saw mills of Chequamegon bay the past season has been 242,000,000 feet. Of this Ashland cut 138,000,000, Washburn 90,000,000 and Bayfield 14,000,000. There is now in the company's piling grounds unsold lumber to the amount of 60,000,000 feet. A fair increase over the business of 1890 is shown by these figures.

Took off His Shoes to be Hanged.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—John McManus was hanged in Moyamensing prison yard this morning. After the prisoner had ascended the scaffold he deliberately sat down and took off his shoes, having sworn that he would never die with his boots on. He then stood up and humbly asked forgiveness saying that he freely forgave everybody. This over, his arms were pinioned, the rope adjusted to his neck, the black cap placed on his head, and while the priests were praying for him the signal was given and the drop fell at 10:08. His neck was broken by the fall and at 10:19 the doctors pronounced life extinct and the body was cut down and given to his friends. His crime was the murder of Eugene McGinnis on Feb. 21.

Balmaceda's Paper Money.

VALPARAISO, Dec. 3.—An important decision was handed down by the supreme court yesterday. It was to the effect that under the Chilean constitution the members of the late Balmeceda congress are not civilly responsible for the issue of money during the revolution. This decision is a great relief to those interested, as all properties and moneys were tied up pending the outcome of the case and many of the members who had independent fortunes found themselves absolutely penniless.

Death from Dynamite.

NYACK, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Five men lost their lives by an explosion in the Haverstraw dynamite factory yesterday afternoon. The shock was felt 20 miles away. The dead are John Wadsworth, Peter Carlossa, Joseph Williams, Joseph C. Adley and Perry Lounsberry, the latter being in a boat near the shore.

Church and State.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 3.—The govment charges the church with an attempt to restore the empire. The people, long used to government support of the church, do not take kindly to the voluntary contributions and the church feels that through neglect its power is fast passing away. The antagonism is bitter and threatens trouble to the republic.

A Rough Voyage.

VANCOUVER, Dec. 3.—The steamer Empress of Japan arrived yesterday from China. On the voyage she encountered a storm which lasted for five days and forced the vessel 200 miles out of her course. Two sailors were killed and Mr. Good, of Cleveland, Ohio, died on board and was buried at sea.

Another Triple Alliance.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 3.—The three Atlantic provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, are considering the advisability of combining their interests and forming one province. About $500,000 per year would be saved by the consolidation of the three governments.

Cyrus W. Field Much Better.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Dr. Fuller did not issue a bulletin this morning concerning the health of Cyrus W. Field. In fact he did not call at the Field residence, as he regarded it unnecessary, so noticeable and rapid has been the change for the better in Mr. Field's condition.

Mrs. McKinley's Illness.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Governor-elect McKinley, who was to have been the principal guest at the inaugural dinner of the Fellowship club here tonight, telegraphs that illness of his wife compels him at the last moment to cancel the engagement.

Australian Finances Depressed.

MELBOURNE, Dec. 3.—The suspension of several banks and building associations has caused depression in financial circles. Bankers are conservative about extending credits, but no serious result is expected. The suspended institutions claim ability to liquidate in full.

No Shortage at Pittsburg.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Acting Commissioner Wilson says the irregularities in the collectors office at Pittsburg are not of a financial character. There is shortage in the collector's accounts.

Earl of Erroll Gone.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Wm. Harry Hay, eighteenth earl of Erroll, died today. He was born in 1823 and succeeded to the earldom in 1846. He sat in the house of lords as Lord Kelmarnock.

Injuring the Faith.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 3.—The czar has appointed a new metropolitan of the Greek church at Kieff and has decreed vigorous action against the Stundists, who, he says, "are injuring more and more the faith of our fathers."

To Try Throckmorton.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The war department this morning revoked the order suspending the court-martial ordered to meet at New York for the trial of Major Throckmorton, Second artillery, and instructs the court to proceed on the 9th inst.

Naval Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3—W. H. Jones has been appointed medical inspector, Frank Anderson, surgeon, and T. W. Ryan, lieutenant in the navy.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Minneapolis—Annie Olson, a Swede girl aged 16, suicided with rough-on-rats rather than attend night school.

Kansas City—Fanne Davenport is confined to her room with nervous prostration.

Columbus—The remains of "Land Bill" Allen lay in state at the capitol today and were viewed by many people.

Chester, Pa.—The weavers of the Aberfoyle mill struck yesterday because one of the number had been discharged for turning out inferior work. One hundred and thirty men are out of work.

Fort Monroe, Va.—The United States steamship Jamestown, which yesterday went ashore at Hampton Roads near the Ripraps, was towed off in the afternoon by the United States steamship Atlanta without damage.

Courtesies of a Contractor.

To the Editor of The Herald.

I desire to express through the columns of your paper my appreciation of the courtesy extended to me by the pastor building committee, members and friends of the First methodist episcopal church of the city of Duluth during my stay among them. I have found them to be Christian gentlemen in every respect and while now going to my home in the East to spend the winter, I shall often think of the amicableness with which all our business has been transacted, and shall look forward with pleasure to the time in spring when I shall return to complete the church.

FLOWERY KINGDOM

But it is Not a Bed of Roses to Missionaries Who Teach the Celestials How to Pray.

Lying Publications Have Caused the Outbreaks on the Part of an Ignorant People.

Mission Houses Burned and Terror Spread Among the Foreigners in China.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 3.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Japan Daily Mail, under date of Nov. 4, says nothing has yet been done to punish the leaders in the Tchang outbreak. The viceroy of Nanking and the governor of Kingou jointly sent a memorial to the throne expressing horror at the recent outbreaks against foreign missions and severe condemnation of the abandoned wretches who dared to take part in them. Europeans look upon the document as prepared for the purpose of deceiving the ministers of foreign countries, and in the face of this comes a manifesto issued by the people of Hunan and translated by the Rev. Griffith John, D. D. The document contains no reference to Kolas Hui.

It brings matters to a simple issue and that is the expulsion of foreigners. Mr. John points out that Li Hung Chang undertook the task of preventing any further rioting or destruction of foreign property. Now Hunaneze manifesto declares that foreign mission buildings shall not be burned but will be confiscated to the use of the Chinese. Li Hung Chang, the correspondent, says, diverted the Chinese fleet to some point north on the pretext of inspection and never sent a vessel near Yangste during the outbreak.

The main cause of the outbreak against foreign missions is unchecked, the filthy and lying publications still continuing. These have been issued from six pawn shops, but the offenders all purchased mandarin ink and the magistrates in a report to the viceroy, exonerated the real offenders and threw the blame on suppositious dead men. The correspondent says in conclusion that the Hunaneze are certainly defiant and will not be effectually curbed until part of the province is opened to foreign trade whether they like it or not. There would be no difficulty in opening Yoh Chow and teaching these braggarts that they cannot defy the strength of Europe.

To Break Jail With a Habeas Corpus.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Actor B. M. Curtis, who shot and killed Policeman Alexander Grant, sued out a writ of habeas corpus yesterday, returnable before the supreme court today. Curtis is now in the county jail awaiting a trial for murder and wants to be released on bail, which was refused him by Judge Trout.

A PHŒNIXED ST. LOUIS.

The Burned Hotel Comes Out of Ashes at a Cost of $50,000.

Next Saturday Col. Cullyford will open his new hotel, the Brighton, which before the fire of a few months ago was known as the new part of the Hotel St. Louis.

On Saturday evening the colonel will give a spread to several of his friends from out of town as well as in the city, and the public will be allowed a chance to judge of his success in chosing a chef in the person of Julius Duchi, who has for some years back had a big reputation as chef of the Genesee hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. The new hotel's head clerk will be Geo. R. Kibber, who came here from the Ryan at St. Paul, and the second clerk J. A. Hughston, formerly of the Murray, Omaha, both of whom have been in the St. Louis for a few weeks.

The old St. Louis will be occupied by Butchart & Michaud early in the year. The Brighton now makes what is really a first-class hotel and Duluth's reputation as a good hotel town ought to be greatly strengthened by its opening. The rooms number 95 and the accommodations are ample enough for from 150 to 200 people. A straight rate of $3 a day will be charged. Every room in the building is a model of comfort and elegance, and nearly all have fine views either of Superior street or the lake. The furniture and carpets are equal to those found in almost any first class house.

The main entrance and also that designed for ladies are in the middle of the building and across them are heavy plate glass doors. The lobby occupies the rear portion of the former stores, has a tile floor and plenty of head room and is finely decorated. Just as one enters it he passes the elevator shaft, around which an iron stairway with marble steps run to the sixth story. Back of the lobby are the reading room, barber shop and toilet room, while in front of it are a gents' furnishing store to the east of the entrance and the barroom to the west.

On the second floor are the parlors and a few fine bedrooms facing Superior street, while in the rear are the dining-room and ordinary and to the west of thd diningroom the kitchen, in which are the latest improvements for facilitating work. The various stories above are fitted up exclusively for rooms. The return system of bells, such as the Spalding has, has been put in.

Geo. J. Grant is the contractor who has repaired the structure and the Reliance works, of Milwaukee, put in the iron stairway. The elevator is one of the Elithorpe patent

In District Court.

The case of Moses O'Brien vs. M. Stewart Jr., was on trial three days but it took the jury only 20 minutes to render a verdict for the defendant. The trial brought out the facts that Stewart in purchasing the livery business of O'Brien & Knowlton turned in mortgages on certain lands in and about Verndale. O'Brien claimed that Stewart misrepresented the value of the property covered by the mortgages.

NOVEMBER'S CUSTOMS RECORD.

The Business of the Port Far in Excess of Any Preceding.

October with its 377 arrivals and clearances and tonnage of 381,279 was considered a very good marine month, in fact it was the best month that Duluth ever saw, but November knocked out October by 10 vessels and a tonnage of 81,675. The tonnage of October, 1891, was only 40,958 greater than that of October, 1890, but the November tonnage this year beats that of last year by 179,928, and it should be remembered practically all of this year's tonnage was engaged exclusively in the grain business, whereas one year ago a great deal of the tonnage that brought coal here went light to Ashland and Two Harbors to take out ore. Following are the items for the month just past:

185	223,072	Constwise arrivals....	94	132,064
180	221,272	Constwise clearings...	92	129,884
9	3,090	Am. ves. from for. pts.	6	990
10	3,000	Am. ves. for for. ports.	4	660
6	6,260	Foreign ves. arrived...	10	9,714
6	6,260	Foreign ves. cleared...	10	9,714
396	462,954		216	283,026

Marine Notes.

The A. D. Thomson made the distance from Buffalo to Detroit in 25 hours, which is considered very good time.

The misfortunes of the schooner Pelican, which was adrift on Lake Superior, are not yet ended. When passing Detroit on her way down a day or two ago, she was taken possession of by the United States Marshall on a libel filed by the owners of the Pope for towing the schooner from near Caribou island to the Sault, the Pelican being in a disabled condition at the time. The claim is made for $12,000. The owners of the Pelican have as yet refused to bond her.

The steamship Mariska, of the Minnesota company, of which Capt. Robert Graves is master, has done big work this season. She has made nine trips with Vermilion iron ore to Chicago, 16 to Cleveland and Ashtabula, and one from Duluth to Buffalo with wheat. Capt. Graves figures that she has traveled fully 43,000 miles since May 15.

The Buffalo Blockade.

BUFFALO, Dec. 3.—Another large grain fleet arrived Tuesday and yesterday. A careful computation made 90 loaded vessels afloat here last night, holding nearly 5,000,000 bushels. Little progress in unloading has been made at the elevators, because of scarcity of cars. Over 30 vessels were on the City elevator's list. Two or three small ones were shifte dfrom the city to other rail houses, but the big cargoes were held tenaciously. A better situation of affairs is looked for in a few days.

The Gilchrist, which was chartered for wheat from Port Arthur to Buffalo, left here last night to load, but arrived back this morning because of bad weather outside. She will put out again as soon as the weather moderates.

The big steamer City of London is laid up for the winter here. She is in Omaha slip. The John Mitchell is also laid up for the winter, with a wheat cargo aboard, taken on at a flat rate of six cents, to be delivered at Buffalo in the spring. The Wendigo Copper company's steamer Taylor is also laid up here for the winter.

The steamer Hopkins is loading flour at the St. Paul & Duluth docks and gets away for Buffalo Friday. It is quite probable she will be the last departure of the year.

There are eight or nine vessels in port and a few more expected. Just how many will lie up here for the winter it is hard to tell, but nearly all, probably. At any rate there will be more vessels tied up in Duluth harbor than for years past.

SURE OF THE CONVENTION.

The National Democratic Convention in St. Paul Seems Assured.

Chairman Campbell, of the state democratic committee, told a Herald reporter this noon that there was not much doubt that St. Paul would get the national convention. Only New York and Milwaukee are earnestly hustling for it, and many reasons detract from the strength of both.

"At a meeting held a day or to ago" said Mr. Campbell, "we took action on the matter and we are in it for business. It has been decided that a large auditorinm, capable of seating over 10,000 people, should be constructed without delay, and if upon consideration it is found feasible to remodel the market house so as to make a suitable convention hall, a tax of one mill will be levied to meet the expenses, which are estimated from $100,000 to $125,000. The committee unanimously recommended the remodeling and reconstruction of Market hall and the raising of the funds in the manner indicated. Leading St. Paul architects do not favor the remodeling of Market hall, but argue that a democratic presidential candidate should be named in a new building rather than in a barracks.

"There is no question, however, but there will be an ample and commodious hall. We want all the help Duluth can give us and expect to get it."

Ball-Loge.

Miss Martha Ball was last evening married to P. H. Loge, a well-known contractor of West Duluth, at the residence of her parents on Third street. Many intimate friends and relatives were present and the happy bride received numerous pleasant remembrances. Mr. and Mrs. Loge will reside at West Duluth.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 3.—A storm of considerable energy is central over Iowa and Minnesota, moving northeast. It has caused considerable precipitation in the form of rain on the south and east and snow on the northwest side of it.

It is probable that this storm will move south of this section and that the present rain will turn to snow and the temperature will fall considerably by tomorrow morning, accompanied by high northerly winds. Although a fall in temperature is anticipated, there is no decided cold weather reported this morning. The coldest is zero at Battleford, N. W. T., but the other stations in that section report much higher temperatures, while in the Southern states it is rather warm, ranging from 50 to 60.

The highest temperature here yesterday was 40, the lowest last night 36. The rainfall up to 7 this morning .40 inch.

DULUTH, Dec. 3.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Dec. 4: Rain, turning to snow; colder tomorrow.

B. H. BRONSON,
Observer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—For Wisconsin: Threatening weather and rain; brisk and high southerly winds; fair on Friday; colder, westerly winds.

For Minnesota: Snow or rain; colder, northwesterly winds.

For the Dakotas: Occasional snow; generally colder, northwesterly winds; probably fair Friday.

THE KINGDOM COMING.

We have of late heard much of university extension, and that movement is now well under way in Duluth much to the delight of all who believe there is something besides commerce and corner lots to be considered in gathering materials for a city. Another work of equal importance, which for the want of a better term we may call gospel extension, is about to be begun in our midst.

It has often been remarked that the churches do not reach the people—that the preachers talk to the same little band of brethren every Sabbath, while the great mass of humanity hears not the Word nor is soothed by the teachings of the gospel. The cordon of churches on Second street might conduct revival services through the whole winter season and thunder at the world broadsides of truth without reaching the busy boomer in his office or the toiler in the trenches on the street.

Realizing that the people will not come to them, thoughtful and earnest preachers have studied how they might come to the people. In Boston and other cities the plan of theater preaching has been adopted and is meeting with remarkable success. It is this plan that is now to be introduced in Duluth. A number of public-spirited ladies were the prime movers in the cause, and they have induced Rev. Wm. M. Barker, of St. Pauls episcopal church, to conduct popular services at Temple Opera Sunday evenings, beginning on the 13th of this month. It is probable that other local pastors will join hands with him in this noble work and make these meetings a power for good.

The people are not hungry for doctrinal sermons nor metaphysical discourses of any kind, but are eager for good work-a-day truth, something which without hitting below the belt comes far enough down to aid digestion. They want a restful religion, one that will not produce nervous prostration in portraying the torture of the wicked. In their simple philosophy is not taught how finite sin can be rewarded with infinite punishment, and they care not nor have they time to enter into a detailed discussion of the subtle theme. It seems enough for them to know that God is love, and from this they reason that creeds cannot alter nor theories destroy the eternal standard of right. It is only this they care to know. In a developing civilization with new industrial interests and ever-changing relations, what is right as between man and man? This is the living issue, a proper appreciation of which alone makes government possible and secures for all the inestimable blessings of liberty and peace. If the theater sermons will tell us something about this and lead the people to a better understanding of their duty as men and citizens, such gospel extension will do a world of good. It will mould nations into higher types and give to individual life a new dignity and meaning. Let the course begin.

GOV. MERRIAM FOR VICE.

The St. Paul Globe brings out Governor Merriam for vice president on the republican ticket but thinks he is worthy of a better job. A western man with tariff views tempered to the shorn lamb is what the republicans need in a tail-ender just now, and The Herald would be pleased to see Minnesota pluck the persimmons. For some reason the governor is not particularly popular with his party in Duluth, partly, perhaps, because he owns a water plant in Superior, but rising above all this and looking the truth serenely in the face, there is wafted to our mind on light and atmospheric wings the thought—in assimilating which comes the conviction—that he is eminently fitted for the place.

The vice-president should be rich; Governor Merriam is a three-ply millionaire. The vice-president should know how to entertain; Governor Merriam is a royal entertainer. The vice-president should know how to angle; Governor Merriam is said to be a mascot with hook and line. The vice-president should be dignified; Governor Merriam possesses a redundant dignity. The vice-president should own a bank; Governor Merriam owns one of the best in Minnesota. The vice-president should be a good judge of wines; Governor Merriam can sip the best brands in several languages. The vice-president should incidentally have some knowledge of parliamentary rules, and Governor Merriam has been speaker of the Minnesota house.

And then, too, besides all this, the governor knows a good many things that have escaped the attention of most vice-presidents and some other people in the past. He knows that the low tariff sentiment of the West is not dead but under a hypnotic spell. He knows that one of the planks in the people's party platform next year will declare for some kind of bird on toast, and realizes it would be better for his party to quail before the next November blast. He knows, too, that the wild West stretches from St. Paul to sundown and can no longer be ignored in the councils of the nation. For these and other reasons we could give, the governor of Minnesota is eminently fitted to fill the second place in the gift of the American people, and we would gladly see him win the prize. There is, however, one great obstacle in the way. Tim Byrnes may decide to be president, and we cannot under the constitution have both candidates from the same state.

The rule followed in Minneapolis and some other cities that a married woman shall not be employed as a teacher in the public schools seems not to be based altogether on good reason. A teacher's position is no sinecure bestowsd by favor, but the highest efficiency and full value received for the salary paid should be the first and chief requisites. And yet Professor Bradley of the Minneapolis schools hearing that one of his teachers had got married discharged her in the middle of the week without permitting her to offer her resignation. Why a woman, married or single, shouldn't have the same opportunities as a man, is a question that has never yet been fairly answered. Of course it will be said that there are plenty of unmarried women glad of a chance to teach, but it may be answered that if a married woman teaches she is most likely to give additional employment to someone in her home. Marriage is not a crime, even in a woman. Let civilization move on.

The re-election yesterday of S. A. Thompson as secretary for the chamber of commerce will meet with popular approval. During his incumbency Mr. Thompson has shown peculiar fitness for the duties of the office and has done much to portray to the world the pivotal position of Duluth. The secretary is the work horse of the chamber, and Mr. Thompson has shown both patience and persistence in the harness. Much has been accomplished in the past, but a vast amount of work is still in sight for the immediate interests and permanent upbuilding of Duluth. The chamber forms a needful nucleus around which the citizens can quickly gather as occasion requires to give vent to the popular feeling and crystallize sentiment on all public questions. With an earnest and active secretary untold advantages can be attained for our city, and all will be pleased that we are to receive the further services of Mr. Thompson.

The St. Paul folks are earnestly discussing the project of vacating Market hall and enlarging it to a seating capacity of 10,000 people for convention purposes. The corner of Seventh and Wabasha streets is so crowded with ordinary business that it is felt the market should be removed to some other place, and whether or not St. Paul gets the democratic national convention, the transformation of market place into a vast public hall would be a great advantage to the city and a matter of much convenience to the state.

If the articles in The Herald expressive of Woodland avenue sentiment on the motor line service, urged the company on to heroic measures and has caused it not only to lay its track across a 20-acre battle-field, but also to put its foot in it, we wish to ask its pardon and charge the costs up to the abutting property beyond Clover Hill Gap. That would be cheaper for the people than to be a gapping all winter in a bus.

The action of the chamber of commerce in inviting the business men along the Duluth & Winnipeg road to make us a visit and become better acquainted with our people is greatly to be commended. No tie is stronger than that of friendship, and as our treasure is the same our hearts should be close together. Bid them come now and come often.

Having squelched polygamy in Utah it is about time to give California a whirl. Out there the man who dies and leaves less than three wives is at once cremated and no questions asked. He may think he's got a grave, but when the great horn blows he ain't in it.

The recent Ohio election is now explained on the theory that democrats bunch their votes, that is they vote twice one year and stay at home the next.

News from the Chinese rebellion is very meager and incomplete as the government will permit no correspondents to Pekin.

A RUSH AT WELLESLEY.

Great Destruction of Sheets, Eyeglasses, and Feminine Apparel.

There was a "rush" at Wellesley college a day or two ago between the freshmen and sophomores which furnished plenty of excitement while it lasted, and caused a boom in the hairpin trade at the local dry goods stores.

As soon as the freshmen had elected their chairman, Miss Helen James, the president of the sophomores, as is the custom, tapped at the door and presented a huge bunch of white flowers to the class. Upon her exit a few members of the sophomore class serenaded the freshmen. Meanwhile the majority of the '94s had visited the rooms of the absent freshmen, whence, dressed in sheets and pillow cases, they crept silently up the stairs and crouched behind the serenaders.

The music over, the freshmen, now grown suspicious, made a rush to close the door from the inside, which had been partly opened to hear the music. At the same time the sophomores tried to force their way in. A lively scramble ensued. Finally the sophomores got in. They were warmly welcomed by the freshmen, who, not knowing the sheets were their own, quickly destroyed them, wondering, perhaps, why the sophomores made so weak a defence.

Order was finally restored, but not until a great wreckage of gowns, eyeglasses, tortoise shell hairpins, and sheets had been made.

Building For 1892.

It is very early to speak of building prospects for the coming year, when the present season is scarce over. But the feeling is general that 1892 will be an excellent season. While there will not be so much street work or other municipal improvements under way nor so many semi-public buildings, the early outlook for general building work of the year is said by architects to be most favorable.

At the Union Depot.

Were it not for delay in receiving the slate roofing the new depot building would be ready for use by Jan. 1. The non arrival of slate delays interior finish, though but little is yet to be done. It is a noteworthy fact that the movement of heavy trains in the shed below does not jar the floors below of the depot building in the slightest degree. Today the first train passed out of the shed on the regular depot yard tracks, the St. Paul & Duluth passenger.

Something About Birth Stones.

Topaz is the birth stone for November and in the language of stones, denotes fidelity and friendship, calms the passion and prevents bad dreams. The moon stone was worn as an amulet by the Orientals to protect them from harm and danger. It is now admired for its silvery light and the good luck it is fancied attaches to the wearer. Day, the jeweler, has some new and pretty designs to show at remarkably low prices. We have a few of those ladies gold rings left at $1.25. This is no humbug but a genuine article.

FELL OUT OF A TREE.

An Iron Hand Closed Its Grip Upon Mr. Young; Took Months to Rise.

L. S. Young, of Colchester, Conn., tells a remarkable story of himself in the New Haven News.

"When I was about 13 years old," says Mr. Young, "I fell from a tree and was picked up and carried into the house as dead. It was a long time before consciousness returned, and it was months before I got upon my feet again. At the age of 30, there came times when it seemed as if something in dark waves was passing in or around my eyes. In a few minutes I would have a violent headache, accompanied by pains in the chest that felt as if an iorn hand closed its grip upon me.

"The spells increased in violence and frequency, and I began to have pains in my side and the small of my back, and became so nervous that I could not bear to have a pin dropped. Some physicians said it was neuralgia, others Bright's disease, and still others rheumatism. But whatever it was they could not help me, and in despair I took everything that offered hope. One day I noticed a News writer recommended a simple vegetable remedy.

"Like a drowning man grasping at straws, I tried it. But it was no straw; it was a life preserver. It took hold in a new way, and today I truthfully and gratefully affirm that I have not had a pain in my chest for a year, and not a single blinding spell of headache. This restoration to health is due solely to Paine's celery compound, a life preserver for any one whose nervous system is weak or shattered."

This is but one more instance of the wonderful curative power of Paine's celery compound, and points out a simple yet direct road to health and strength.

GOSPEL WITH A BAND

A New and Somewhat Radical Method of Religious Work by Regularly Conducted Theater Mass Meetings.

The Local W. C. T. Union and Rev. W. M. Barker are to Inaugurate the Movement at Temple Opera.

It is Already in Progress in Several London Theaters and in Boston and Philadelphia.

A most remarkable and interesting movement in religious circles, one which certainly indicates a possibility of closer union between people of different creeds, a movement in the interest of Christianity rather than sectarianism, and a broadening of denominational lines in the Northwest, can be made public today.

Some time ago Rev. Wm. M. Barker, the esteemed rector of St. Pauls church, was invited by a committee from the local Womans Christian Temperance union to unite with it in starting religious mass meetings for non-churchgoers on an entirely new and undenominational plan. This it did, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Barker is an episcopal clergyman, not always in sympathy with the entire work of the W. C. T. U. and that not one of the ladies making the request was a member of his parish. He consulted his vestry and Bishop Gilbert of Minnesota, and all warmly recommended that the offer be accepted in the spirit of Christian unity in which it was made. Both the bishop and the vestry believed it a remarkable thing that such a request should be made in such a way, and that the lines of denominationalism should be thus overstepped, and Bishop Gilbert was so pleased that he has offered to make special trips to Duluth and preach at any time desired.

Mr. Barker has, therefore, accepted the offer and has engaged Temple Opera house and will begin his series of services there on Dec. 13. He has also engaged Walkers brass band and will have its music to accompany hymns and to open the service.

Those whom Mr. Barker and his associates hope to reach are the habitual non-churchgoers, who are not yet wholly averse to religious influences. It is not expected or intended that the services shall in any way interfere with the regular evening meetings at any of the churches of the city. Experience has shown in Philadelphia, where these meetings have been in progress to years, that 90 per cent of the attendants are not churchgoers, and these are, indeed, not wanted. Many people will attend service in a theater, a tent, anything that gives shelter, rather than go into a church and it is this class that the women of the W. C. T. U. and Rev. Wm. M. Barker hope to reach. The same class of work has, as stated above been done in Philadelphia to years; it has also been in progress in Boston nearly 3, and the Church of England is carrying the work in six theaters in London. In all these places, which are believed to be the only localities in which this work is being steadily done, the success that has been attained is remarkable.

The plan of service for Duluth is simple. It is to include a band selection, a half hour song service, a collection and a short sermon. Printed slips, containing the hyms, all simple and suitable for congregational singing, are to be distributed. The episcopal ritual is to be altogether discarded and the speaker will wear no robes. It is not expected that the collections will pay expenses, as the rent of the theater, the band and the printing will take a considerable sum. This will easily be raised, however.

AT THE BARGE WORKS.

Eight Great Vessels now Under way at the Steel Barge Works.

The shipyard of the American Steel Barge company never presented so animated an appearance as now. Eight of the whaleback ships are in some stage of progress, from No. 118 to No. 125. Of the eight all but two are steamers and a seventh steam vessel will be put on the stocks before long. This will make with the four now in commission, 11 whaleback steamers.

Barge 118 is about finished and will be launched Saturday afternoon of this week. Nos. 119, 120 and 121 will be steamers and are all under way. They will be 320 feet long, 38 feet beam and 24 feet deep. No. 122 will be a tow barge of the same size and shape as the steamers. Nos. 123, 124 nnd 125 will be steamers. They will be 325 feet long, 42 feet beam and 25 feet deep and will be able to carry nearly 140,000 bushels of wheat each. On only one of these has work progressed so far even as laying the keel blocks. This fleet, now under way and in preparation for building, will have a cargo capacity of about 28,000 tons.

The Presbyterian Church.

At the elegant new presbyterian church the workmen are busy putting down the seats and arranging matters for the dedication, which occurs two weeks from next Sunday. The organ is in place, the carpets are down, the heating and electric light plants are in operation and have been for some time and all is about ready for the opening of a really remarkably beatiful, comfortable and commodious edifice. The building and its contents will represent a total cost of about $85,000. Full program of the dedicatory exercises has not yet been made out. Dr. Ringland returned this morning from St. Paul, where he bought the pulpit, communion table and a lot of hymn books.

The Hodges Building.

The old O'Brien barn, on Superior street and Second avenue west is being torn down to make room for the new Hodges-White building to be occupied by Panton & Watson. Two other adjoining buildings will also be pulled down, and if the weather permits the excavation for the new structure will be made this winter. McMillan & Radcliffe will have the plans and superintendence, and the store, which is to cost about $60,000 must be ready next August. It will be 100 by 115 feet in size and will be at present only 2-stories above Superior street.

A Cold November.

Last month, according to Observer Bronson, was the coldest experienced in Duluth since 1880. He finds the average temperature was 25.2°, 4° colder than the average for 21 years. The thermometer stood the highest on the 9th, at 48°, and lowest on the 28th, at -8°. The prevailing direction of the wind was northwest, highest velocity 30 miles from the northwest, and the total movement 4281 miles. Rain or snow fell on 9 days to a total depth of 1.11 inches, a deficiency of .56 inch. The total deficiency of the calendar year is 5 inches.

NEWS FROM MORNING PAPERS.

The county treasurer has on hand $151,357, of which all but $2100 is on deposit here. With Bell & Eysters bank is $36,799.

Mamie Stuart, a young woman from Milwaukee, who left a very comfortable home during a fit of passion about two weeks ago, was found in this city and persuaded to return home. She was employed as a nurse girl and domestic at the west end.

J. A. Campbell, chairman of the democratic state central committee, last evening met a large number of local democrats. He held out high hopes for democratic success in the next state election. At the close of the address a democratic city club was formed, with branches in every ward. The meeting was very enthusiastic. W. W. Henry has been engaged during the past month making a complete poll list of the county for use of the democrats in the next campaign. This list was presented at the meeting last night and was divided up among the workers. The support of those present was pledged to St. Paul as a place for the democratic national convention.

The matter of a flour mill to be built at Old Superior by the Allis people of Milwaukee is settled, the local bonus of $50,000 having been raised.

Grand Army Officers.

Wednesday night the annual election of Willis A. Gorman post, G. A. R., took place. It resulted as follows: Post com., James Farrell; senior vice, H. C. Osterhout; junior vice, H. W. Van Valkenburg; surgeon, Dr. S. C. Maxwell; chaplain, Dr. C. H. Stocking; officer of the day, Thomas Magill; officer of the guards, C. T. Griffin; trustees of the poor, Asa Daily, W. G. Ten Brook, S. C. McQuade; delegates-at-large to the national encampment at Washington next September, H. C. Osterhout, Jacob Laux, V. S. Wilkinson, H. T. Robbins; alternates, W. F. Davey, S. C. McQuade, W. G. Ten Brook, Louis Wolfrom.

A Perilous Voyage.

Capt. Montague, of the steamer C. W. Elphicke, reports an extremely perilous voyage up. The weather was very heavy, and the lights in all the light houses except that on Whitefish point are extinguished. The captain says that on the way up his crew became so apprehensive that they threatened not to return with him. Capt. Montague is a brother of W. A. Montague, the Duluth jeweler, who is interested in the steamer.

A Disease or a Sin?

Rev. G. H. MacClelland, pastor of the First baptist church, of Duluth, on Tuesday evening read a paper before a club of business and professional men at Minneapolis, on "The Keeley Cure for Drunkenness." On Sunday evening he will preach on the subject: "Drunkenness, a Disease or Sin, Which?"

G. L. Peterson has bought one of the finest billiard outfits in the Northwest and will open a temperance billiard hall in the McKenzie block in a few days. The tables and fixtures are the finest made by the Brunswick, Balk company, and as Mr. Peterson is an experienced man in this line will no doubt make it a success. This is the first billiard hall in West Duluth.

The result of the drunk indulged in by some of the police force Wednesday morning is somewhat doubtful. Two of the force have been suspended, but whether for being drunk or not is not known. When our officials can find no better material to make policemen of than men who will so disgrace their uniforms as to get riotously full it is time that private citizens take a hand in the administration of the village affairs, and insist in having men who will be "guardians of the peace" and not breakers of it.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Mary E. Hall and Josiah A. Hall, her husband, of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, to Watson B. Millard, of St. Clair, Michigan, as mortgagee, dated September 27th, A. D. 1889, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1889, at eight o'clock in the forenoon, in book 22 of mortgages on page 501;

And whereas such default consists in the nonpayment of the interest on the principal sum secured by said mortgage, on which said mortgage there is claimed to be due and is now due at the date of this notice the sum of fifteen hundred and sixty dollars and sixty-five cents ($1560.65), principal and interest;

And whereas no proceeding or action has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, by the sheriff of the county of St. Louis, in the state of Minnesota, at public auction, at the front door of the district court house, in the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, on Monday, the fourth day of January, A. D. 1892, at ten (10) o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage, with interest thereon and the costs and disbursements of the sale and seventy-five (75) dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure.

The premises described in said mortgage and so to be sold is the tract and parcel of land lying and being in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit: The easterly seventy-five (75) feet of lot number four (4) in block number fifty-nine (59), West Duluth, Second division, according to the recorded plat thereof, said tract being a piece of land twenty-five (25) feet on Central avenue, in the town of said West Duluth and said county of St. Louis, by seventy-five (75) feet in depth.

WATSON B. MILLARD,
Mortgagee.

HENRY S. MAHON,
Attorney for Mortgagee.
Duluth, Minnesota, November 16th, 1891.
Nov 19-26, Dec. 3-10-17-24-31.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage, containing a power of sale upon default being made in any condition thereof, made and executed by James McClone, mortgagor, to Louis Murray and Joseph Trudel, mortgagees, and dated the 20th day of August A. D., 1887, which said mortgage was, on the 14th day of September A. D., 1887, at 9 o'clock a. m., of said day, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds of St. Louis county, Minnesota, on page 604 of book 18 of mortgage records, said default consisting in the non-payment of the note secured by said mortgage.

And whereas, said mortgage and the note secured thereby were by said Louis Murray and Joseph Trudel, duly sold and assigned to A. F. Swanstrom, by written assignment duly executed, bearing date the 12th day of December, 1889, and at 11 o'clock a. m. on the 3d day of January, 1890, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said St. Louis county, on page 511 of book 31 of mortgage records.

And whereas, there is claimed to be due, and is due, at the date of this notice, upon the debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of seven hundred and six and 20-100 [$706.20] dollars, and no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or otherwise, to recover the debt remaining secured by such mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of part of the mortgaged premises so mortgaged, to-wit: Lot eleven [11], in block fifty-five [55], in First division of West Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due upon said mortgage debt, together with the costs and expenses of this foreclosure, and twenty-five [$25.00] dollars as attorneys' fee, as in said mortgage provided; which said sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, Minn., at nine o'clock in the forenoon of Saturday, the 2d day of January A. D., 1892, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, in said St. Louis county, at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder.

The property so mortgaged by said mortgage, is described as follows, to-wit: Lots eleven [11] and twelve [12], in block fifty-five [55], in First division of West Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof, with two frame dwelling houses situated thereon, together with insurance policy on said dwelling houses.

NOTICE OF MORTGAG

THE GREAT STATE PARK

Can Minnesota Afford to Lose One-Eighth of Her Entire Area and That Eighth a Very Rich One?

Professor Hall, of the University, Claims It Cannot and Wants the Whole Matter Protested Against.

He Also Says the Claimed Advantageous Results are Simply Theoretical and May Not Come.

The rest of the state seems to be aroused over the proposed state park covering all outdoors north of Duluth, and it is very likely that strong committee petitions from other cities than Duluth will be sent to the President, helping this city defeat the proposition. Among those who refused to sign the petition for the park, when urged by J. O. Barrett, secretary of the State Forestry association, was Professor C. W. Hall, of the State university. Professor Hall's views on the subject are decided. He says:

"These lands that they want set aside, and for which reserve a petition, apparently pretty well signed, has already gone to the President, include about 11,000 square miles, or a little over 7,000,000 acres. In the limits are the headwaters of the Rainy river, of the Mississippi and of the Red River of the North. This territory is largely forest covered; much of the soil is barren; the streams are large, and the rainfall of the area is considerable. Such a park would be, if the Canadian government can be induced to set aside a like extent on the north of the international boundary, the greatest national park in the world. It would afford a shelter for game and fish; it would preserve some of our primeval forests, and it would be a delightful retreat for the summer tourists of future generations."

But can the state of Minnesota afford such a luxury? Such a step should be looked at from a practical standpoint rather than from a sentimental one. For I am sure it is largely sentiment which induced our state horticulturists and farmers, members of the forestry association, boards of park commissioners, state geologist and others to sign this memorial to the President.

"On the north, the east and the south of this area large mineral interests are being developed, and explorers maintain that the possibilities within this territory for mineral wealth are very great. While much of the area is barren, many thousand square miles will afford excellent agricultural lands. The valleys have a rich soil; many of the hillsides will afford excellent pasturage. Lumber interests are very great; millions of feet of timber, both pine and hardwood, are standing upon these lands, and when this is removed agriculture can take its place, or another growth of timber can be secured.

"It is claimed that great good will accrue from the preservation of this park: that a large tract will be preserved for tourists and travelers. Doubtless such would be the case, at from $4 to $6 a day, as now obtains in the Yellowstone National park. It is claimed that rainfall will be maintained; that a more equitable climate for the country to the south can be secured; that the rivers will be prevented from drying up; and that in many ways large economic results may be expected. Now these are mere assertions. A scientific deduction has never yet been drawn from a single experiment, and it never will be. It has not yet been proved that forests have maintained either uniform temperature or large streams, although certain localities seem to suggest that deduction. Climatic conditions in any country are matters of extremely slow adjustment."

Continuing, Professor Hall said: "The withdrawing of 11,000 square miles means the taking of one-eighth of our entire domain, or a territory larger than Vermont: the reduction of our 85,000 square miles to 74,000, an amount which we certainly cannot afford to give away; if it be taken from us, that is a different thing. Even Minneapolis and St. Paul cannot afford to have this territory set aside, much less can Duluth consent to the withdrawal from her tributary territory of an area so great. The value of the farms in Vermont in 1880 was over $100,000,000. Can we afford to set aside a possible $100,000,000 worth of farms and all the lumber and immense water powers and the possibilities of mineral wealth which lie within the territories of this proposed national park? Let us have a free expression of opinion before the President is asked to give his assent to the petition which lies before him."

It appears that S. M. Owen, the alliance editor and late gubernatorial candidate, and J. O. Barrett, secretary of the Minnesota Forrestry association, have been pushing the reserve matter.

Two Committees Appointed.

President Baldwin, of the chamber, has appointed two committees in relation to the proposed reservation, one to make an investigation and the other to draw resolutions protesting against it. The first will consist of S. F. Snively, S. A. Thompson, H. B. Moore, T. B. Hoover and R. C. Mitchell, and the second of M. J. Davis, S. A. Thompson, D. J. Cash, Emil Schmied and R. S. Munger.

Hon. W. M. Campbell, of St. Paul, who was in the city last night is not, as reported, organizing democratic clubs, but under his supervision a poll of the entire state has been made for campaign purposes. His presence here brought together a number of the faithful last night and he addressed them.

John Gallant, the young relative of a city official and alderman arrested Tuesday night by Detective Hayden on a charge of forgery and obtaining money on an order signed by R. C. Kruschke, was arraigned yesterday afternoon. He waived examination and was held to await the action of the grand jury.

Yesterday morning, at Connors Point, search for two boys, August Swanson and Armour Glover, terminated in the discovery of the broken and bloody bodies of the children in an immense pile of sawdust near the Murray mill. The sawdust is piled 20 feet high and covers a good deal of ground. Recent frosts froze a crust over the pile and a little cave was made where some sawdust had been removed. In this cave the children were in the habit of playing. The warm weather loosened the frozen crust and the mass fell in on the boys.

Something About Winds.

To the American, with his practical views and iconoclastic materialism, wind is simply an agitation of the atmosphere. Before the advent of steam, he ground the meal for his daily bread with the aid of wind; he avails himself of it yet to waft his trading vessels across the seas. If it is gentle, he calls it a breeze; if it comes with a sudden rush, roar and whirl, depositing his house on the next quarter section, his cattle in the next township and makes him hunt the cellar in a hurry, he names it a cyclone—and proceeds to get himself together again. The ancients, however, with their tendency to "see sermons in stones and books in running brooks," personified all things in nature and named the winds—Boreas, the north wind; Eurus, the east wind; Zephyrus, the west wind, and Notus, the south wind. These were the sons of Astræa, (the star man) and Eos (the dawn). Just at this time people in the Northwestern states are (some of them) dreading the piercing blasts of Boreas and thinking about a flight to the orange groves of Florida and California. The line for the south-bound traveler to take is "The Burlington," which as its own tracks to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha, where close connections are made with the railways leading south, southwest and west. Through tickets and full information can be had from agents of "the Burlington" or by addressing W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul Minn.

The breath of a storm coming as we write makes the Storm Coat the timeliest topic we could wish.

THE first part of this week we put in seven new lots of Storm Coats. It took courage to do it. And nobody has better reason than we have to know that courage is the commander of trade. The sky was blue, the air balmy. There was not a hope to hang trade on except our experience that you turn this way at an hour's notice when storms come. You may be ready for one by the time you read this. The Storm Coats are ready. $8 to $25.

Not one, but a number of you, have wished in our hearing, that you could get a Storm Coat without the bulky, wrapped-up look to it. You can. We have several lots of just such Storm Coats. They're as long as ever, have the long collar, the pocket conveniences, but not the double breast. They're a novelty. You'd call them, may be a Dress Ulster. We know you'll not rest till you see them.

HELP THE HUNGRY

Minneapolis Millers Undertake a Scheme for Relief of Russia's Starving Peasants.

A Boatload of Breadstuffs to be Shipped From the Land of Peace and Plenty.

The Starving Poor Eat "Hunger Bread" That Beasts Disdain.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—The first attempt in the United States to afford systematic relief to the thousands of starving peasants of Russia has originated here. The scheme has been in contemplation only a few days, and is nothing less than an effort to enlist the flour millers of the entire country in a plan to ship a cargo of flour to the country of the czar.

It is proposed to make the cargo one of 3000 tons, or 6,000,000 pounds, which would mean from 30,000 to 50,000 barrels of flour, or an outlay of from $100,000 to $175,000 in value. All that is necessary now for the completion of the plan is the consent of the czar of all the Russians and the co-operation of some 5000 American millers. The latter is practically assured, for many millers who have been approached on the subject have already given their hearty consent. In fact some have gone so far as to say that the plan could easily be consummated if left to Minnesota millers alone, but it has been deemed best to give the undertaking national scope and character.

The scheme originated with the Northwestern Miller, the manager of which paper, Mr. W. C. Edgar, last week telegraphed the Russian minister at Washington, Baron De Sturve, outlining the plan and asking for the official consent of the Russian government. The baron being absent from Washington, the message was referred to Alexander Gregor, charge d'affaires at New York, who wired as follows:

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Northwestern Miller: Accept expression of sincerest gratitude for noble and generous offer, which was duly communicated by cable to my government. Awaiting reply. Shall be thankful to know exact amount in barrels or sacks of the gift, wishing to calculate expense connected with forwarding it. ALEX. GREGOR, Charge d'Affaires.

The reply of the Russian government is now being awaited with interest by the millers of Minneapolis and others of the country who are cognizant of the plan. As soon as consent is received active correspondence will be entered into with 5000 merchant millers of the country for the flour necessary. The Minneapolis millers propose to contribute a trainload themselves—probably 25 cars—and C. A. Pillsbury, W. H. Hinkle and others of prominence in local milling circles have entered into the plan zealously. After the train is loaded in Minneapolis it will be sent to other points in Minnesota and there augmented, and in like manner all along its route to the seaboard. At New York the Russian authorities will undoubtedly load it upon one of their transports, or, perhaps, a vessel especially chartered for the occasion, and speed it on its way to the suffering thousands in the misery-stricken domains of the czar. The railroads will be asked to contribute their mite in the form of free freight, and several have already expressed themselves as favorable to the project. The grain men of the country will also be asked to show their charity by contributing sacked wheat and other grain. And so the good work will go on. It is expected, if all goes well, that the cargo will be ready to leave New York about the middle of next January.

In order to emphasize the need of such generous relief, the Miller, by way of preface, says: "In this country overflowing with plenty, where the crops have been so large as almost to paralyze our tremendous and well-organized transportation facilities, where we have more wheat, corn and flour than we can possibly eat, the details of the details of famine in Russia, the extent and severity of which cannot be even faintly described, are received with incredulity and doubt. It is difficult for us to imagine a condition such as that described in this faraway country. Our minds fail to grasp it. We can not conceive of peasants being forced to eat bread made of powdered tree bark, flavored with gound peas. It seems like a grim, gaunt fairy tale, of years long passed; of conditions which advancing civilization have made impossible. The poorest dog which hangs about the city streets of America can pick up better food than the Russian peasant clamors for. Day after day we read of the Russian famine in the daily papers, but we do not half believe the tales therein told. We imagine that there is something behind it all which cannot be discovered. That human beings can sink so low as to eat "hunger-bread" made of dried dung, tree bark, powdered peas and goose foot, passes our comprehension. We talk about our own poor and we think we know something about poverty, but the absolute want of food which causes a man to fight for bread which even an animal would disdain—this, thank God, is unheard of here. Yet that it is true, to a certain extent, in Russia is undeniable. The more we learn the more clearly the facts appear in their true light, and, unless humanity the world over, irrespective of race or prejudice, comes to the aid of these starving people, their doom is sealed."

RUSSIA'S STARVING MILLIONS.

Count Tolstoi and His Daughters Relieving the Peasantry.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 4.—Count Leo Tolstoi, accompanied by his two daughters, is engaged in relieving the famine stricken peasants in the Demkoff district. The count urges the government to make an inventory of all the breadstuffs in the empire, adding that in his opinion there is barely sufficient grain in Russia to last until next spring.

Some of the railroad lines are so disorganized, owing to insufficient rolling stock, that out of about 2500 wagon loads of grain collected for the afflicted provinces only 20 loads per day can be forwarded to the starving peasants on the Vladikavkaz line, and out of 13,000 wagon loads obtained from the Caucasus only 10 wagons are sent north daily.

Professor Issaieff, in a lecture before the Academy of Science yesterday, estimated that there are now about 40,000,000 of people suffering from want of food in the czar's dominions and that 300,000,000 rubles, instead of 30,000,000, will be required to save their lives. The professor urged the necessity of creating a minister of agriculture, whose duty would embrace the purchase of grain from abroad.

KILLED IN ST. PAUL.

The Walls of a Burnt Building Topple Over; Six Dead Removed; Many Injured.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 4.—The most horrible accident that ever occurred in St. Paul took place at 1:40 today when the center wall of the west section of the Shepard building, recently occupied by Farwell, Ozmun & Kirk fell in, burying the workmen beneath the ruins. There were supposed to have been fifteen men beneath the wall at the time it fell and the majority of them were killed or received injuries which will probably prove fatal. All the patrol wagons in the city were at once summoned and Chief Clark and assistants made an attempt to organize the laborers who were not under the wall and get them to work removing the dead and injured. The men were wild with excitement, however, and it was a long time before more than half a dozen could be induced to go to work. The others ran back and forth around the building shouting to each other and uttering imprecations against the contractors or stood gazing blankly at the ruin.

The group that went to work had in less than half an hour taken out ten men, five of whom were killed and five injured, one so severely that the physicians at the ground stated that he could not live until he reached the hospital. By this time a larger gang had been put to work and the task of removing the debris went on rapidly. Finally the contractor, Wilcox, was taken out dead and mangled almost beyond recognition. The wounded were taken to the city hospital in the patrol wagon and the dead with the exception of one man were laid out in the Great Northern freight house. Hundreds of people, including many of the workmen, viewed the remains, but no one was able to identify them. Finally the name of one of the dead laborers was ascertained to be Chris Larson. Lauer, the foreman of the gang, was about the building, but was frantic with grief and exeitement and could not tell the names of ony of the men, though he knew them all. Neither could he tell the exact number of men under the wall at the time it fell.

The cause of the accident was that the wall which was much weakened by the fire became top heavy from the large amount of debris removed from the bottom and toppled over of its own weight. For some time it has been considered dangerous by people who frequented the place, but the contractors who examined it pronounced the wall safe and the men continued to work without fear of accident. The wall had appeared firm and gave no sign of weakening up to the time of the fall, when it came down with a crash without a moment's warning. The excavations about the base have been carried on very rapidly and the greater part of the debris had been removed.

It was a sight never to be forgotten as the dead and injured were taken out, some of them crushed almost to a pulp. One of the men supposed to have been a sub-foreman was taken out in his fur coat, nothing but his feet and limbs being visible. His head and body appeared to be crushed out of shape. There were men with all their limbs broken, faces bruised and crushed out of all resemblance of humanity. Others were not so badly mangled but had evidently been instantly killed by the brick falling on their heads. Of those who were wounded and taken to the hospital two were able to sit up in the wagon on the way and these are the two who will recover. The greater number had to be taken on stretchers and handled very carefully in order that the little life remaining might not be shaken out. There were no groans or cries from the injured, as the poor fellows were extricated from the ruins by their fellow workmen. Not one had retained consciousness. There were groans and exclamations without number from the spectators, however. The most careful handling possible seemed to be torture most horrible for the rescuers who were not fitted to their gruesome task. In their disconcerted efforts they seemed at times to be pulling the men almost to pieces. The faces of the workmen could not have been more ghastly if they had been dead themselves.

Dr. Murphy took charge of the dead and wounded and the latter were cared for under his direction until they reached the hospital. The names of those taken to the hospital are: Thomas Samata, No. 533 Edmund street; John Warner, 937 James street; Frank Cither, of Farrington avenue, and one unknown man who was brought in late and will die. Samatra and Peters are injured fatally, and it is thought that Warner and Cithers will recover. Doctors Murphy, Aucker and Jones are attending the injured.

At 2:45 two more of the men who were rescued died. Building Inspector Johnston was seen a moment. He said: "I examined the walls and thought they were solid. My opinion is that the removal of the debris and excavating from the base, together with the sudden changes of heat and cold precipitated the fall."

A BOMB FOR SAGE.

A Shabby Stranger Asks Russell for a Million Dollar Accommodation Loan.

Russell Refuses and the Unknown Man Throws a Dynamite Bomb at His Head.

Sage Escapes But the Building is Wrecked and Three Beside the Stranger Killed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—At 12:15 this afternoon a shabbily-dressed man carrying a small handbag called at Russell Sage's office on the floor of 71 Broadway. Mr. Sage's clerk said he was busy and could not be seen. The man began talking loudly and Sage came from the inner office to see what the trouble was. The man at once demanded $1,000,000 from Mr. Sage, and upon being refused produced a dynamite bomb from a satchel and threw it at the financier's head. A terrific explosion followed. The man who threw the bomb was killed together with one of Sage's clerks. Several others were wounded. The whole second floor of the building was wrecked. Mr. Sage was badly burned about the head and shoulders. Washington Connor who was in the office was seriously injured. The latest report is that four people were killed, one being the young lady typewriter in Russell Sage's office. Mr. Slocum, the chief clerk of Mr. Sage, is badly cut about the head. The safe was broken open and the securities scattered over the building and street.

Mr. Sage walked out of the building assisted by Officer Hummel. As he passed the door he said to the officer: "That was a terrible explosion; they meant it this time." J. B. Thomas of 136 West One Hundred and First street, who owns the cigar stand in the building was struck by a portion of the falling ceiling but only slightly injured.

The Rebels Retreating.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 4.—An official report has been received by the Chinese government from Gen. Nich, commanding the troops in the Kinchow district, to the effect that he has met and engaged the rebels on November 27 and 28, and defeated them with great loss. The leader of the rebels and 60 men were killed. Dispatches from Jeho also announce a successful engagement with the rebels by the general commanding the imperial troops in that district. A dispatch from Tientsin says the senior British officer at that place has received advices from Nieuchang stating that the revolt there has been suppressed and the rebels dispersed.

Now Play Ball.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 4.—President Phelps has issued the following bulletin of contracts for 1892:

With Baltimore, Peter Gilbert, John Hess, John Pickett and George W. Cobb; Boston, Morgan G. Murphy; Chicago, W. E. Harrot; Columbus, C. B. Turner; Athletic, Gus Weyhing, LzCross, J. Glasscock, Ed Callaghan, Frank Bird, Clifford Carroll, J. A. Newell.

Iowa Pluralities.

OMAHA, Dec. 4.—A special from Des Moines, Iowa, says: The state board of election canvassers have completed their canvas of the vote cast at the last election. The pluralities are as follows: Judge supreme court, Kinne (democrat) 207; superintendent of public instruction, Knoefler (democrat) 839; railroad commissioner, Dey (democrat) 7496. The votes for governor and lieutenant governor will be canvassed by the legislature.

The Graves Trial Delayed.

DENVER, Dec. 4.—Because of the illness of Judge Rising the trial of Dr. Graves did not go on this morning. It is probable, though, that it will be resumed this morning, as the judge sent word that a few days' rest would put him on his feet again.

Whisky Did It.

MOUNT VERNON, Mo., Dec. 4.—Charles M. Seaton was hanged here at 10:10 this morning for the murder of Lewis Channel, a mining engineer, about a year ago. Seaton made a farewell address from the scaffold in which he warned his listeners to avoid whisky.

Secretary Foster Better.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Secretary Foster is still improving. Dr. Hamilton said late last night that the secretary, all rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, was fairly convalescent and would probably be out and around in a few days.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Evansville—Fire yesterday afternoon damaged the F. A. Cook brewery property to the extent of $50,000.

Chicago—Chauncey M. Depew, that gifted Gotham after dinner speaker was the guest of the evening at the inaugural dinner of the Fellowship club at Kinsleys last night. The object of this society is to promote good fellowship and its extension to "the stranger within our gates." The following gentlemen were also among the guests: Warner Miller, of New York; J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa; Governor Fifer, of Illinois: F. L. Pommer and Steele Mackay, of New York; P. B. Winston, of Minneapolis; Judge John M. Thurston, of Omaha.

A Probable Mill Increase.

H. P. Gill, of the Duluth Roller mill, said today that if his firm could get more room for an elevator it would double or treble its mill capacity this winter. The mill now grinds 400 barrels dally and the firm of Gill & Wright has such a trade that it is compelled to buy about as much more from mills along the Northern Pacific road. Nothing definite will be known as to enlargement until next week.

THE GOVERNOR IS SLY.

Will Not Discuss the Possibility of Being Vice President.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 4.—A reporter called on Governor Merriam at the capitol this morning, with the object of discovering something about his alleged vice presidential aspirations. Questions were useless, however. The governor was discreetly silent on that point. He would talk to any extent, and did, on the Washington tour, and the prospects of getting the demoeratic convention for St. Paul, but not a word as to whether or not he was a candidate for the vice presidency.

The governor, in fact, did not want to be quoted even as having said that he would not discuss the matter. Nevertheless, the opinion is expressed by politicians that Governor Merriam is a candidate. The office, they say, will go to a Western man and that Merriam stands a goad chance of getting it.

CHARGES DEFALCATION.

The West Susperior Telegram's Attack Upon the County Officials.

WEST SUPERIOR, Dec. 4.—A tremendous row in county official circles has been caused by charges made by the Telegram against the county ring. An investigation of the county records was ordered some time ago and an expert is working on them now.

The newspaper charges that a serious defalcation has existed within three years; that the county clerk became a defaulter through drunkenness and incompetency, and several other specific arraignments are made. The paper invites the accused to deny the charges, but nothing has yet developed. The Telegram continues the attack today.

Wreck on the Reading.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 4.—The Philadelphia & Reading road's fast express which left New York at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, ran into a gravel train half a mile east of Pennington at 5:15, killing three men, injuring eight others and wrecking the passenger engine and three cars. The killed are: Frederick McCarron, of Philadelphia; Michael Maloney, of Trenton, and Thomas Fitzpatrick of Philadelphia. All were track laborers.

The injured are: Charles Wilson, of Germantown; Frank Rodeygue, Isaac Marquis, Charles Druiding, James Isaacs, Oscar Tessner, of Philadelphia; Dr. A. H. Dey and John Ward, of Trenton. Frank Rodeygue was the engineer of the express. He is badly bruised and it is feared internally injured. His fireman, Oscar Tessner, is less seriously injured. The accident was due to the failure of the gravel train to reach the siding to let the passenger train pass.

SHORT LINE TRAFFIC.

Falling off on the Great Northern Between the Twin Cities.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 4.—The Great Northern annual report, which is just out, says: "Early in December, 1890, the St. Paul and Minneapolis street railway companies put in operation their electric street railway line between St. Paul and Minneapolis, with the result of diverting from Great Northern short line trains a large portion of the traffic previously carried. During the seven months ending June 30, 1891, there was a decrease in short line business as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, as shown belows:

Passengers	270,225
Revenue	$55,296 64

"Exclusive of the short line business between St. Paul and Minneapolis during the fiscal year, there was an increase in passenger traffic as shown below:

Passengers	69,336
Revenue	$179,202 89

The Lehigh Coal Fire.

The dock fire at the Lehigh Coal company's dock at West Superior continues unabated and is doing great damage. It has now been burning for three weeks and the piling under the dock itself is now afire. For the last 24 hours seven large streams have been pouring steadily on the fire, and 50 men are digging away coal. It is hoped to have it under control by night.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 4.—The storm which was mentioned yesterday as over Iowa and Minnesota has moved to over Lake Superior and is now central over the western part of the lake, and is probably the worst storm that has passed over here for years. The corrected barometer reading this morning was 28.88 inches, over an inch lower than the normal, while at Port Arthur it was 28.74. Heavy precipitation has accompanied its movement, the heaviest being here, 1.42 inches having fallen, which had it been snow would equaled 14 inches. Other heavy precipitation was 1.06 at Port Arthur, .82 at La Crosse, .90 at St. Louis, .58 at Marie and .88 at St. Paul.

High winds are reported from many stations. Some of the highest are Winnipeg 56 miles, Chicago 40, Port Huron 38, Huron and Bismarck 36, Minnedosa 32, St. Vincent 30 and many others from 20 to 30. These are not the highest velocities, but the rate the wind was blowing at 7 o'clock this morning.

A cold wave is making its appearance over the Northwest. The lowest this morning is 2° below zero at Swift Current, N. W. T., and zero at Prince Albert. It is 8° at St. Vincent and Moorhead, 12° at Bismarck and Miles City, 48° at Marquette, 46° at Marie, 32° at Port Huron and Cleveland and 60° at Buffalo.

DULUTH, Dec. 4.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Dec. 5: Light snow; colder.

WATER WORKS IN FIFTY CITIES.

A recent census bulletin presents some facts relative to water works that will prove particularly intetesting to Duluth readers at this time. Fifty cities are included in the calculation, and all but three use electricity in whole or part for street lighting, while twelve use no gas at all for this purpose. Of the whole fifty cities, thirty-five own their own waterworks, fourteen have waterworks owned by private corporations, while in one (Washington) the plant is owned by the government. The total cost of the works is $185,848,414, or an average of $21.35 per capita, and the average annual water rent is $13,232,162. In the following table c indicates city ownership, p private ownership, and g general government:

Cities.	Miles of mains.	Total cost of works.	Annual charge for average dwelling.
New York	660	$40,000,000	$ 6 00	c
Chicago	673	13,724,664	14 00	c

Holyoke, Mass	47	576,739	11 00	c
Binghamton, N. Y	35	550,000	15 00	c
Duluth, Minn	30	824,692	20 00	p
Elmira, N. Y	40	574,259	18 00	p
Davenport, Iowa	31	1,000,000	8 00	p
Canton, Ohio	33	250,000	8 00	c
Taunton, Mass	59	571,995	13 00	c
La Crosse, Wis	20	191,161	12 00	c
Newport, Ky	28	800,000	17 00	c
Rockford, Ill	42	400,000	11 00	c

The figures are not, of course, secured by actual investigation, but are doubtless gathered from city officials and are presumed to be approximately correct for the date of the census a year and a half ago, since which time the Duluth company, for example, has spent about $100,000 in extensions and improvements. This would raise to that amount the estimate of $824,692, to which if the $58,000 for the Lakeside plant be added we have a round million as the census estimate, which is close to the Davis figures of $1,026,936. It will be seen, also, that our water rent which is put at $20 for an average dwelling, is not the highest in the list. San Francisco charges the same; New Orleans, $25; Nashville, $22; Portland, Me., $23; Los Angeles, Cal., $24; and Dallas, Texas, $31. The lowest charge is $4.30 in Washington, while New York charges $6 and Baltimore and Rochester, $7; Brooklyn, Davenport and Canton, $8; St. Paul, $8.60; Philadelphia, Minneapolis and Hartford, $9; and other cities all the way up to the maximum of $31. It will be seen that as a rule a low charge indicates city ownership, although at Davenport a private company charges only $8 and at Nashville the city charges $22.

Of the cities in this list, the average annual cost of street lighting in those having over 100,000 population is sixty-seven cents per capita. The average cost of each gas lamp varies from $15 in Indianapolis to $50 in New Orleans. In Minneapolis the cost is only $15.60. Electric lamps cost from $440.67 in San Francisco to $50.48 in Denver. In Chicago they cost $68 a year. The average number of lights in the several cities is 13.5 per mile of streets. At the average cost of $21.35 per capita, a system for Duluth with 50,000 population would be $1,067,500, a sum slightly exceeding the estimated cost of the present plant.

BREAD UPON THE WATER.

The movement begun in Minneapolis to ship a boat load of breadstuffs to the starving poor of Russia, is worthy of a free, happy and generous people. Nature and our national thrift have rewarded us with millions of bushels more than we can use, and it seems fitting that in this Thanksgiving and Christmas season we should cast a boat load of bread upon the waters of the Atlantic to be borne by gentle breezes to the land of want and the homes of worse than beggarly destitution.

Everywhere the movement will receive new aid in a generous rivalry, and it is hardly possible a single ship can float the free will offerings that will come from every commercial center of the land. Famine may stalk a ghostly guest even where freedom holds its fullest sway—indeed has oftimes come to the pioneer portions of our land. Remembering this our people will for the while forget the despotism of the czar and think only of humanity struggling in its unequal contest with an unseen foe. Duluth will surely add her mite to the contribution—a Christmas gift from the New World to the Old.

The High school lecture course will be opened at Temple Opera tonight, Rev. Samuel G. Smith, of St. Paul, talking to the "Jingle of the Dollar." It is something novel for Duluth to have ten lectures for a dollar, and there seems to have been forethought in choosing the title of the opening treat. Let her jingle.

The opening of the Brighton tomorrow will make Duluth one of the best hotel towns in the West. The hotel business has kept pace with other developments in the city, and Duluth is proud of her hotels, theaters, churches, and public school building. They are all of a character that would do credit to any 100,000 town and are hardly surpassed by our bigger sister cities.

Postmaster General Wanamaker, in his annual report, expresses the opinion that one-cent postage is in sight but not quite in reach. Only ten states and one territory (Oklahoma) produce a larger revenue than is expended for service within their borders.

Another vessel is billed to leave Duluth for the lower lakes today. This is the latest departure of the kind on record here. Pretty soon the winter season will be wiped out in the Northwest.

"WELL, what can I give you today?" said a Superior street butcherman to a regular customer. ESTIMATES of the speakership fight still keep Crisp in the lead, his figures being placed at 132 and Mills' at 99. The merry war will probably close in a caucus tomorrow. Crisp is the choice of the more conservative element in his party. If he had Mills' aggressiveness with his own cool judgment he would be a leader of leaders.

NEWS ON THE PARK.

More from Professor Hall; S. M. Owen's Ideas Favoring It.

Professor Hall, of the State university, who was quoted at length last night adversely to the great state reserve, says more on the same subject as follows:

"Professor Aughey, of the Kansas university, some years ago pointed out that by the cultivation of the prairies of that state the rainfall was increased two inches and more per annum, but so far as I know scientific proof is wanting. Professor Aughey's statement suggests that we need the cultivation of our prairies rather than the maintenance of a national park to secure more favorable conditions for our agricultural industries. Professor Shaler has lucidly shown that the original forests should be preserved, or that systematic plans for tree planting and forest culture should be inaugurated by the government. Has not the government already followed for some years what was thought the best plan for preserving our agricultural interests. Let tree planting on our prairies be carried on, and let the preservation of forests in the timbered areas be encouraged. Thus, without withdrawing from settlement any great portion of the public domain, the conditions favorable for agriculture can be extended from Northeast Minnesota through the central portion of the state, across Iowa and the Dakotas and Nebraska to Mexico and the Pacific ocean."

S. M. Owen who wildly favors the scheme says:

"It is absolutely imperative that the forests be preserved. There should be governmental supervision of such a park as the one proposed. There should be a board of park commissioners in charge of the park. I do not mean to say that no timber should be cut on such a great park; that would be nonsense. But I do mean to say its cuttings should be under governmental supervision. Old timber should be cut when it is mature, in order to make it available for our uses. But when the old timber is cut let the young growth have a chance. Then when the years have passed there will be another crop ready for our uses. But there is no such thing now. The lumbermen should be compelled to place guards in their woods to prevent these terrible forest fires which destroy the young growth of timber. But I say to you that it is positively criminal to allow things to go on as they now are."

"The Jingle of the Dollar."

Rev. Samuel G. Smith, D. D., of the Peoples church, of St. Paul, will deliver his famous lecture, entitled "The Jingle of the Dollar," this evening in the Temple Opera house. The entertainment will be the first of 10 or more similar ones to be given under the direction of the Duluth High School Lecture association. The proceeds of the course will be expended in buying the national colors for the public school houses of the city, and a clock for the tower of the High school building. Dr. Smith, this evening's lecturer, is one of the most accomplished platform speakers in the United States. The Cornell Collegian speaking of an effort of Dr. Smith says:

"Space forbids any detailed analysis, which, if attempted, must necessarily be inadaquate to express anything like a just estimate of the thought and beauty they contained "The Medici" gave us not only a vivid, interesting history of the Medician family and their influence on their times, but carried us into the world of Italian art and scenery, and entered into the bearing of Italian on American civilization. "Men and Money" was a logical and eloquent dealing with many important questions of social economy and the higher aims and ends of society. As a speaker, and an original and deep thinker, Dr. Smith has but few superiors on the American platform."

Tickets admitting to the series, 10 lectures, $1; single admission, 50 cents.

Something About Winds.

To the American, with his practical views and iconoclastic materialism, wind is simply an agitation of the atmosphere. Before the advent of steam, he ground the meal for his daily bread with the aid of wind; he avails himself of it yet to waft his trading vessels across the the seas. If it is gentle, he calls it a breeze; if it comes with a sudden rush, roar and whirl, depositing his house on the next quarter section, his cattle in the next township and makes him hunt the cellar in a hurry, he names it a cyclone—and proceeds to get himself together again. The ancients, however, with their tendency to "see sermons in stones and books in running brooks," personified all things in nature and named the winds—Boreas, the north wind; Eurus, the east wind; Zephyrus, the west wind, and Notus, the south wind. These were the sons of Astræa, (the star man) and Eos (the dawn). Just at this time people in the Northwestern states are (some of them) dreading the piercing blasts of Boreas and thinking about a flight to the orange groves of Florida and California. The line for the south-bound traveler to take is "The Burlington," which as its own tracks to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha, where close connections are made with the railways leading south, southwest and west. AND SASH HOLDER COMBINED.

I would call the attention of residents to this invention for holding sash, as it does away with all side stops, it holds the sash at any position and keeps it tight so as to exclude all dust and cold, stops the sash from rattling in windy weather, and is perfectly safe, as it cannot come down to catch fingers and break glass.

MASONS DO CELEBRATE.

The Knights Templar of the Cities at the Head of the Lake do Fraternize Most Cordially.

And the Burden of Their Talk and Actions is for Closer Union Between Superior and Duluth.

Stock Subscriptions to the Minnesota Farmers Elevator Here Being Arranged for With Apparent Success.

One of the pleasantest Masonic events that has ever taken place at the head of the lake occurred last night, in the visit of 26 Duluth Knights Templar to the commandery at Superior. The visiting party consisted of T. W. Hugo, deputy grand commander of Minnesota; Chas. McMillan, commander; W. G. Tenbrook, generalissimo; A. LeRicheau, recorder; George A. Flack, warden; and Sir Knights J. W. Miller, W. H. Blades, D. Buchanan, S. C. McQuade, W. A. Foote, A. J. Miller, F. H. Sigrist, M. Noble, B. F. Howard, A. G. Grochau, H. Van Brunt, W. G. Bates, N. F. Hugo, Amos Shepard, J. E. Cooley, J. H. Logie, H. A. Wing, W. O. Pealer, A. S. Porter, H. R. Armstrong and C. S. Weaver.

The party was escorted from the Superior depot to the Masonic hall, where the degree of the Red Cross was being conferred on J. F. Bishoff. After the ceremonies the entire party, consisting of some 80 men repaired to the West Superior hotel where a banquet was served, the tables being arranged in the form of a cross. C. L. Catlin, commander of the Superior commandery, was master of ceremonies and called on deputy T. W. Hugo for the first speech. He spoke pleasantly of the fraternal relations existing between members of brotherly orders, and of the effect such relationship would have in uniting the cities of Superior and Duluth. He concluded by inviting the Superior knights to accompany the Duluth men in their trip to the next national commandery, to be held in Denver next summer. Geo. P. Knowles, of Superior, spoke in the same strain of fraternity and friendship. Chas. McMillan made a brilliant after dinner talk.

Messrs. Sigrist, McMillan, Porter and Buchanan formed an excellent quartet that gave music for the occasion. Myron Reed, of Superior, spoke at some length on the tenets of the order. Referring to the fellowship existing between those in the order he said: "While we are loyal to our own cities, and are even so forgetful as at times to call each other silly names, like a lot of school boys, yet when we are together under the banner of masonry the only rivalry is as to who can best work and best agree."

At the close of the banquet a song was sung and the Duluth contingent reached home after midnight, feeling that a warm bond of union had been cemented.

THE FARMERS ELEVATOR.

Efforts now Being Made to Raise the Stock Among Farmers.

"The work of getting ready to build an elevator at the head of the lake is progressing finely," said Charles Canning this morning. Just now we are raising subscriptions to the capital stock. Before we take any decisive action we must have subscriptions amounting to $50,000. Most of the work in this line thus far has been confined to Grant and Otter Tail counties and the reports are most encouraging. Everybody that is approached is taking stock. No one can subscribe less than $10 or more than $1000. Most of those who are going in would not mind it if they lost their subscriptions."

A sub-committee of the Grain Growers' association, consisting of the president and R. M. Probstfield, Senator Dedon and R. J. Hall, held a meeting yesterday at St. Paul and made further arrangements to secure subscriptions for stock in the proposed elevator at Duluth.

COUNTY FUNDS.

Buying County Road Bonds With the Sinking Fund.

It has never been made public just how County Auditor LaVaque and County Commissioner Jefferson got funds for building roads and bridges this summer. Last May the county called for bids on $30,000 of bonds issued for this purpose, but the bids were too low to be considered. The sinking fund amounted to about $30,000 and the two officials referred to decided that it would be a good scheme to do as bigger counties occasionally are able to, and put up the bonds as collateral and use the sinking fund, thereby saving considerable in interest a good $1500 in commissions besides making it possible to get a good premium for the bonds when times become easier. The sinking fund is in the charge of Judge Stearns, according to the present law, and that official acquiesced in the proposition outlined. As a result the county has been able to expend $23,000 in roads and bridges and has $7000 left for that purpose.

The county had $37,000 in Bell's bank when it failed and nothing has yet been received from the assignee. It is quite likely that the county will accept a dividend of 50 per cent in few weeks provided the bondsmen will agree to remain holden for any deficiency that may exist in the county's account at the final settlement.

The Slaughtered Deer.

A somewhat careful estimate of the number of deer killed in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the now ended game season places the total at nearly 4000. Of this a little more than half have been killed in Douglas county, largely by Duluth sportsmen, while from New Duluth, 15 miles up the river, to Wakelin's 12 miles down the north shore, the bulk of the St. Louis county killing has been done. Probably 3000 carcasses have been shipped East and South from the two counties. Two persons have been killed and many have narrowly escaped injury, by being mistaken for deer. Nobody has made any estimate of the number of thousands of "sportsmen" who shot these 4000 deer.

NEWS FROM MORNING PAPERS.

It is learned that another evening paper will be published in Duluth, beginning Jan. 1. Its name will be the Evening Post and its manager will be Miron Bunnell, at one time owner of The Herald. Mr. Bunnell has frequently stated that it was his ultimate purpose to again establish a paper in Duluth. Milie Bunnell, son of Miron, will become managing editor of the paper. Milie was formerly editor of The Herald and is now Topeka correspondent of the Kansas City Times.

Daniel McLaughlin, the engineer whose skull was fractured at the power house of the street railway company on Nov. 12, died last night. McLaughlin's case was a remarkable one, and it interested local surgeons very much. He was standing upon some support several feet from the floor when a bursting steam pipe caused him to fall. His whole forehead was crushed in, and the doctors removed a cupful of his brains. Notwithstanding this terrible injury McLaughlin was conscious considerable of the time, and he lived three weeks. He was a member of several orders which will attend his funeral tomorrow in a body.

John Frazer, a man about 35 years of age, arrived last night from Crookston with both feet frozen. He was removed to St. Mary's hospital where part of each foot was amputated. Frazer was caught out in the woods near Crookston during the late cold snap.

Twomey-Frazer.

[Russellville, Ky., Herald, Nov 25, 1891.]

One of the most brilliant church weddings of the season will take place at the baptist church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The high contracting parties will be Mr. W. K. Twomey, of Duluth, Minn. and Miss Susie Frazer, of this city. The church will be beautifully decorated with rare and beautiful flowers. Rev. W. S. Ryland, of this city, will unite the happy couple.

Miss Frazer is the youngest daughter of Mrs. A. J. Frazer, Cedar street. She has large brown eyes, is tall, stately, very graceful and quite handsome, and would atrract notice and attention in any assemblage. She is highly educated and the possessor of a rare mind, and being a charming conversationalist is entertaining in any society. Her many admirable qualities of mind and soul have inspired admiration and love in the hearts of all who know her. The bride will wear a handsome toilette of green broadcloth.

Mr. Twomey is a young lawyer and real estate dealer, and is a son of Hon. D. H. Twomey, who is considered the ablest lawyer in Duluth. He is a little above the average height, dark hair and eyes, is handsome and inherits much of the talents of his distinguished father. He is comparatively a stranger here, but comes with the best recommendations. He will wear the conventional black broadcloth.

The following are the names of the ushers: Messrs. George Clark, George F. Long, Perry Gillum, Howard Frazer, W. V. Perry and Jeff McCombs.

Immediately after the ceremony they will leave on the south-bound train for Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul and other cities. They will be at home after December 15.

The Herald, together with their many friends, wish them a long life of peace, happiness and unbounded prosperity.

Miss Frazer entertained the ushers and a few lady friends at lunch at her elegant home yesterday evening. The table was laden with cakes and fruits of all kinds and all the delicacies of the season, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Two of Charles Scrant's children met with a painful accident yesterday. The father is a baker and had heated a pan of lard and set it down when the larger child, aged 5 years, came in carrying a four-months old child and fell over the pan burning herself and sister very badly. The little ones are resting quietly this morning and will recover.

THE SUPERIOR BRIDGE.

West Duluth Will be Glad to Aid in a Bridge to Superior.

At the next meeting of the West Duluth council, Mayor Martin will bring up the subject, alluded to in The Herald day before yesterday, of a wagon and foot bridge connection with Superior. The mayor favors the scheme and thinks the only opposition, if any arises, will be from Duluth. He believes it will go through the West Duluth council easily.

It is proposed to build the bridge between the steel plant at West Superior and near the end of Central avenue, West Duluth. Just how the needed funds will be raised deponent saith not.

THE LAST CLEARANCE.

The Big Steamer Hopkins Takes a Custom's Clearance for Buffalo Today With a Cargo of Flour.

Capt. Inman Buys the Passenger Ship Winslow's Hulk and Will Raise It for a Lumber Barge.

The Captain Gossips of the Great Maritime Business of Duluth in the Years to Come.

Today, Dec. 4, is the latest date on which a flour laden vessel has ever cleared from Duluth, and is about one week later than the last regular line boat in the flour carrying trade left this year. The A. L. Hopkins took a clearance today for the Duluth Imperial Mill flour warehouse at Buffalo, with about 6000 barrels of that mill's product.

"I'm on the trail of those people who have been stealing the brasses from the wreck of the burned Winslow," said Capt. B. B. Inman, "and when I have my evidence complete, I'm going to make things hot for them."

"Why do you care about them?" inquired the scribe.

"Because," answered the captain, "when I bought the wreck from the company I did so for the express purpose of making money out of it and I don't intend to be robbed by some unprincipled people."

"But what can you do with the wreck?"

"I'll tell you. In the spring, just after my tugs have been fitted out and before the vessels get up here from below, I shall start to raise her. Oh! you may laugh, but I'm in earnest. You think I'm crazy, do you? Well, just watch me and see. There is 12 feet of the hull just under the water and it is in as good condition as when new. As for the engine, all that is needed to make it as good as before the fire is new cylinders. The boilers are O. K.

"I shall nail boards all around the hull so that they will project a foot or so above the water. Then I'll put canvas around them to make them watertight. A few hours pumping will make the hold as free from water as it ever was and it will then be an easy matter to get the wreck ready to be towed to Port Huron. One week will be plenty of time to raise her. At Port Huron I shall have her rebuilt as a steambarge and $15,000 is all that will be necessary to do it. Then I shall get a tow barge and put the two in the lumber trade. I expect to make a nice little sum out of the Winslow before I get through with her. The Arizona was burned worse at Marquette a few years ago, and when she was rebuilt $40,000 was offered for her."

Capt. Inman is very sanguine of an immense business at this port next year. "I think that there will be not less than 10,000,000 bushels of wheat here when navigation opens," said he. "The rush will be something tremendous for at least two months, and I am expecting to see good shipments of wheat out of here until the new crop begins to come in. The lumber shipments out of here will be large and coal receipts heavy, for I don't believe a pound of coal will be left on the docks when navigation opens. General merchandise business also promises large, not to speak of that in ore. By the way, I am expecting to have a big business in towing ore cargoes, right in this port. I get my information from tha best sources When I think of the future before Duluth it scares me to know how the business is to be handled."

But it will be easily handled, for the captain is laying his plans in time. He now has the finest lot of tugs on the great lakes and the second largest fleet. It numbers 10 boats. Dunham's fleet, of Chicago, is the only one ahead of it in numbers. However, next summer he will probably outstrip even Dunham's in numbers, for he has one tug building now and he has another in view and may be forced to buy others. Dunham's fleet is owned by an incorporated company.

The captain now has under consideration several pieces of land on the bay side of Minnesota Point near the canal, one of which will probably be selected for a small shipyard in which to repair and rebuild tugs belonging to the fleet. He is obliged to keep a chief engineer and a ship's carpenter by the year and he thinks it will be dollars in his pocket to have the yard.

"It's funny," said the captain in a reflective strain, "but there has been only one serious mishap to a vessel in the harbor this season, although it was the busiest ever known. I refer to the grounding of the Iron King off Connors Point. It wasn't the fault of anybody; it was simply the result of an accident that occurred to the King's steering gear."

Travels of Vessel Men.

Capt. Sam Shannon leaves in a few days for Ogdensburgh, where he will spend the winter with relatives.

Capt. J. T. Rose and family will leave about the middle of the month for the East and South for the winter.

Capt. B. B. Inman will leave for Cleveland, Buffalo and New York in a few days and about New Years will take a pleasure trip to the Pacific coast in company with Capt. La Salle.

A. B. Wolvin, of the vessel firm of La Salle & Wolvin, has gone to make the "grand round" that men in his business consider necessary after navigation closes. He will compare notes with vesselmen and brokers from Cleveland to New York and Philadelphia, and will be able to give them some Duluth figures to consider.

Marine Notes.

The trim little passenger steamer Ossifrage, which used to be in the excursion business at this point, is to be lengthened this winter by her owner, Wheeler, of Bay City, who intends to use her at Chicago during the World's fair.

The captain of the Gilchrist, who returned with his vessel to port yesterday, but expected to go to Port Arthur for a load, changed his mind, and loaded wheat at one of the elevators for winter storage.

A keel has been laid at James Davidson's yard in West Bay City for a steamship 330 feet long, 16 feet hold, and 43 feet beam. She will be a duplicate of two others now on the stocks. She is for the Davidson Transportation company.

The propeller Elphicke is loading wheat today at the Great Northern house. This boat, with the Mitchell, Gilchrist, City of London, Thomson, Ward, Taylor and Northwest, will probably be all the ships to tie up here.

A Novel Advertisement.

A great deal of attention is being given the $225 chamber suit in Smith, Farwell & Steele's show window. Its price today is $175. Tomorrow it goes at $165. You can purchase it at your own figure if you wait for it, provided somebody else does not get in ahead of you.

The East Superior Development company elected directors Thursday afternoon as follows: James Bardon, E. L. Johnson, C. L. Catlin, H. C. Sloan, J. H. Culver, of Superior, and A. B. Jones, L. Mendenhall, H. W. Pearson, N. B. Merritt, of Duluth.

City Treasurer Voss is busy today, as this is the last day on which to pay the following assessments: Grading Twenty-third avenue west, paving Michigan street between Second avenue east and Eighth west, paving Bench street, grading Fourth alley, grading St. Croix avenue, putting sewers in Jefferson street and Fourth and Fifth alleys, and laying sidewalks in several parts of the city.

M. M. Gasser, of this city, is making quite a splurge out on the west coast. He has just brought suit against E. D. Smith, of the new town of Everett, to get possession of several hundred acres of land near that place and one against ex-Governor L. K. Church, of Dakota territory, for $50,000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that he paid a certain sum of money to Mr. Smith to secure the land, and that Governor Church, as his attorney, conspired with Smith to defraud him of his rights.

PERSONAL.

M. D. Munn, attorney for Ramsey county, is in town today. He is one of the leading republicans of the state.

Tom Ross testified in the section 30 case this morning after which the cross-examination of Hyde was resumed.

This afternoon two of Mrs. Stocker's piano pupils, Miss Florence Ames and Miss Lynda Woodbridge, gave a recital at the residence of their teacher. Many friends were present.

Dilwyn Wistar, of Philadelphia, who is a large stockholder in the Duluth Iron & Steel company, and the Imperial Mill company, as well as a large holder of Duluth real estate, is in the city.

George W. Cope, associate editor the Iron Age, returned this afternoon to Chicago, after a stay here looking up the industrial development of the Minnesota mining region and the head of the lakes. The Iron Age will soon publish an illustrated article on this section.

J. H. Upham returned from Everett yesterday and is highly pleased with the outlook. He says there is no doubt that it will be a big town. He is interested with Geo. C. Howe and other Duluthians in 80 acres of pine lands located not far from the proposed barge works.

The Proposed new Evening Paper.

Myron Bunnel, speaking of the rumor that he was to start an evening daily talked to a Herald reporter just as he has always talked: "If I have to foreclose my mortgage on the Post outfit, and if my boy Millie is as straight as reports from Topeka, where he now is, indicate, I shall start the paper and put him in charge. Millie is a good newspaper man and he's my son and I want him back here. I shall go to Topeka about the first of the year and see how he's getting on."

Watch for a Lively Law Suit.

R. R. Briggs, the attorney who has represented W. E. Richardson in the fight with the Duluth Street Railway company, returned from St. Paul this morning and seemed to be enjoying life as well as ever. When asked what he was going to do about the recent action taken by the street railway he smiled and said it wouldn't do for him to talk.

RICHES IN A BOX CAR.

Clothing and Dry Goods to the Total of at Least $25,000 Found in a Box Car Billed as Junk.

And the Trouble Was That These Valuable Goods Didn't Probably Belong in That Box Car Just Then.

So the Duluth Dry Goods Company Smiles a Long Smile and Other Creditors Look a Trifle Wearied.

An interesting and sensational case came to light this morning which develops well. It is the old story of sharp debtor and quiet creditor, but with the added feature that the creditor was not at all slow if he was quiet.

Cohen & Gittleson have been doing a small clothing, jewelry and junk business on Lake avenue south. They are Russian Jews. Their reputation has been good and they got quite a little credit, among others from the Duluth Dry Goods company. In the last week the latter firm has become suspicious of them and believing Cohen & Gittleson were shipping other goods than old iron and junk. The company watched and finally discovered a car, ostensibly loaded with rags and scrap iron billed to Marion, Ind., but which actually contained dry goods sold by the Duluth company.

Just at this time, two days ago, the firms assigned, and the dry goods company put its case in the hands of its lawyers, Hollembaek & Wood. It would not do to attach the supposedly valuable car in Minnesota, as the assignee would replevin the goods, so it was allowed to go to Superior, where yesterday afternoon it was opened by Sheriff Berthiaume in the presence of Attorney Wood. A lot of scrap iron and several bags of rags were exposed to view.

Mr. Wood was considerably disturbed and said he "expected more than this, by George." The sheriff said wait, and they hauled out the iron and bags and the lawyer grew jubilant, for box after box of dry goods and clothing came into view. At one end of the car were six trunks covered with old iron and gunny sacks, but they contained valuable goods.

It is estimated that the value of the find in the car may run as high as $25,000. Since this find became known a number of other claims have been filed against the firm.

THE MARKETS.

Market is Very Dull, But Declines Steadily to the Close.

It is snowing hard here and dispatches from North Dakota say that the heaviest storm for years is now prevailing. This and the scarcity of telegraph wires had effect on the wheat market, which ruled dull with lower prices. The market opened firm at ¼c advance, both for December and May and ½c higher for cash, but was lower at the close. But little news or gossip was received from outside.

Late cables were weak, French markets weak with downward tendency. Liverpool and Bristol report wheat sick, tendency downward.

Cash 1 hard sold at 88c; No. 1 northern opened at 87½c, went off to 87c at the close; No. 2 ruled dull at 81c; No. 3 was 78c; rejected 66c.

December 1 hard, 88c; No. 1 northern opened at 87⅝c, and closed 87c.

PROGRESS ON THE ROAD.

The Right-of-Way and Bridge Work of the Mesaba.

"We now have 70 men clearing right-of-way on our line," said President Chase of the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern, "divided into two crews. One crew is working this way from the Embarrass river and the other is working northward. The latter crew has now reached the St. Louis river, which is half the distance and inside of another three weeks the right-of-way for the whole distance ought to be cleared.

"Of course that will finish your work for the winter," ventured the reporter.

"No, sir; we shall do lots of work after that is finished. There are several bridges to be built and we are now figuring with several contractors on that work. However, we may decide to build the bridges ourselves, as we did in clearing the right-of-way." Then we shall probably get out ties during the winter. The work of grading will be commenced early in the spring and will not be a difficult job."

THE SALOON ORDINANCE.

Liquid-Dispenser Timlin Hopes to Smash the Law.

The morning papers had garbled accounts in regard to the reopening of Timlin's saloon. According to City Attorney Allen's account, Attorney Baldwin, who is attorney for Thomas Timlin, came to him yesterday and said that Timlin was dissatisfied with the revocation of his license and that he didn't believe it would hold water. He wanted to test the thing in court provided the city attorney would agree to recommend a small fine instead of imprisonment in case the city won. Mr. Allen agreed to this and so Timlin yesterday afternoon notified the captain of police that he was going to open.

He did open and several persons took drinks, among them Aldermen Sorenson and Dingwall. The police were on hand, too, and at once proceeded to get out a warrant. A little later Timlin closed up and kept out of the way of the officers, in order to dispense with sleeping in the city jail. This morning he went to the police headquarters and gave himself up and was released by the court on paying in $100 bail. His hearing will come up on the 7th at 2 p. m. City Attorney Allen feels confident that he can knock Timlin out in short order. The saloon is closed today.

Alex. Steele, who was arrested several days ago for keeping his saloon open on Sunday pleaded guilty this morning and paid a fine of $32.50.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Mary E. Hall and Josiah A. Hall, her husband, of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, to Watson B. Millard, of St. Clair, Michigan, as mortgagee, dated September 27th, A. D. 1889, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1889, at eight o'clock in the forenoon, in book 22 of mortgages on page 501;

And whereas such default consists in the non-payment of the interest on the principal sum secured by said mortgage, on which said mortgage there is claimed to be due and is now due at the date of this notice the sum of fifteen hundred and sixty dollars and sixty-five cents ($1560.65), principal and interest;

And whereas no proceeding or action has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, by the sheriff of the county of St. Louis, in the state of Minnesota, at public auction, at the front door of the district court house, in the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, on Monday, the fourth day of January, A. D. 1892, at ten (10) o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage, with interest thereon and the costs and disbursements of the sale and seventy-five (75) dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure.

The premises described in said mortgage and so to be sold is the tract and parcel of land lying and being in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit: The easterly seventy-five (75) feet of lot number four (4) in block number fifty-nine (59), West Duluth, Second division, according to the recorded plat thereof, said tract being a piece of land twenty-five (25) feet on Central avenue in the town of said West Duluth and said county of St. Louis, by seventy-five (75) feet in depth.

UNDER THE DOME

The Democrats Gather in the Hall of the House and Caucus for Chief of the Clan.

A Bright Day, New Carpets, and Burnished Walls Make the Members Glad.

And Tom Reed's Picture is Hanging in the Hall as They go Marching On.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Congress—the house of representatives—half of it—practically opened today at the caucus of the speakership. Though only democratic members were present they were so numerous that they nearly filled the floor. Most of the usual scenes of handshaking and exchanging congratulations usually accompanying the opening day were anticipated. The almost unbroken record of twenty years as to the favorable weather for the beginning of the session was maintained. Bright sunshine, a cloudless sky and pleasant breezes made the day a perfect one. The hall of the house looked fresh and pretty re-carpeted in bright terra-cotta, re-painted and shining with gilt and varnish. A group of Texan members were the first to arrive and sat for an hour or more in earnest conversation with Judge Holman. The New York members came next and inquired anxiously as to absentees, Mr. Stahlnecker and one or two others being reported missing. Mr. Holman said to a United Press reporter that the statement that he had expressed himself in favor of Mr. Mills was untrue. "I am committed as yet," he added, "to none of the candidates, and I shall go into the caucus and vote for the man I consider the most eligible. What my vote will be depends upon subsequent events."

In the galleries some spectators had taken up positions of advantage and seemed much surprised when the doorkeepers ordered them out and closed the galleries.

A pleasant discussion was afforded in the interval before the commencement of the caucus by the hanging of Sargeant's fine painting of Speaker Reed in the members' corridor among the other portraits of ex-speakers. Mr. Reed is hung between the crayon sketches of Carlisle and Keyfer in a bad light which rather spoils the effect of the picture.

Mr. Mills was one of the first candidates to arrive on the ground. He had his headquarters in his own committee room, the ways and means, and remained there most of the morning with closed doors consulting with his friends. All the other candidates were on the other side of the house. Mr. Hatch took possession of the naval affairs committee room in the corner. He was the only aspirant who had a headquarters sign out. Mr. Springer was three doors removed in the committee room of rivers and barbors. Mr. McMillin had the main room of the committee on appropriations, and Judge Crisp took the sub-committee room adjoining. McMillan and Spring stood together outside their rooms pleasantly "chaffing" each other on the prospects for quite a time. Judge Crisp sat in the open door, his clean cut face beaming with smiles of confidence. Mr. Bynum aud other active friends of Mills kept up a constant interchange of mysterious whispering with the adherents of both Mr. Hatch and Mr. Springer and passed backwards and forwards between the respective committee rooms with eager haste. Shortly before 2 p. m. the floor of the house was cleared of all but members of the caucus and the serious work of the day began.

The caucus was called to order at 2 o'clock by Mr. Holman, of Indiana, chairman of the caucus, and the work of organization was begun at once. Just before the doors were closed a rumor was started that McMillan had withdrawn from the race in favor of Mills, but it was soon denied by McMillan.

2:40 p. m.—The caucus has decided that there shall be no nominating speeches.

2:50 p. m.—Nominations for speaker have been made as follows in the order given: Mills, by Culberson; Springer, by Newberry; McMillan, by Richardson; Crisp, by Blount; Hatch, by Bland.

3 p. m.—First ballot resulted: Crisp, 84; Mills, 78; Springer, 32; McMillan, 18; Hatch, 14. Stevens of Massachusetts, nominated by McNeill of Massachusetts, 1. Present, 227; necesssry to choice, 114.

3:35 p. m.—The second ballot resulted as follows: Crisp, 89; Mills, 70; Springer, 28; McMillin, 18: Hatch, 11.

4 p. m.—Third ballot: Crisp, 91; Mills, 82; Springer, 24; McMillin, 18; Hatch, 11; Stevens, 1.

4:30—Official fourth ballot: Crisp, 93; Mills, 87; Springer, 20; McMillin, 18; Hatch, 8; Stevens, 1.

Fifth ballot: Crisp, 95; Mills, 89; Springer, 20; McMillin, 18; Hatch, 4.

None of the candidates for the speakership attended the caucus. They sat in the various committee rooms assigned to them as headquarters and waited patiently the result of the ballot.

Divorce in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 5.—Mexico's divorce bill will be discussed in congress today, and, it being a national issue, some of the greatest orators in Mexico will speak. Deputy Juan A. Materos, who introduced the bill, will speak in its favor. Speeches will also be made by Raffael Herrera, Dr. Flores and Resenda Pineda, the most prominent members of the chamber of deputies.

How a Lawyer Lost His Mind.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 5.—Lysander S. Norton, formerly a lawyer of this city, died yesterday, in a private madhouse at Canandaigua, N. Y., where he had been sent recently after trying to kill the person who had previously secured his imprisonment in another asylum, from which he had secured his liberation on his own arguments. Norton was a graduate of Allegheny college and a bright lawyer. Five years ago he was defeated in trying for the county judgeship and this caused the loss of his mind. His symptoms were violent and he at one time attempted to take the lives of his own family.

The Blaine Divorce Suit.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Dec. 5.—A motion was filed here yesterday by Mrs, Mary Nevins Blaine asking for $1000 temporary alimony and $500 attorneys fees. The hearing of the motion was set for Dec. 20. The complaint and summons in the case were abolished yesterday. The complaint alleges that James G. Blaine Jr., willfully abandoned plaintiff without cause, leaving in her custody a 3-year old child which she has since supported without help from him. On these grounds she demands a divorce, the sole custody of her child and alimony for future support.

Russell Sage All Right.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Russell Sage slept well and passed a quiet night. Today he dictated letters in bed and received many telegrams of congratulation. His face is badly lacerated and his body is full of splinters and bits of glass. His eyebrows and considerable of his hair are gone. Col. Slocum, his brother-in-law, who was also cut and bruised, is at the office today. It is settled that the only persons killed were the unknown dynamiter and Mr. Sage's clerk Norton. The injured at the hospitals are doing well. There is no clew as yet as to the identity of the assassin.

Three are Dead.

NYACK, N. Y., Dec. 5.—It is been learned that only two lives were lost by the sinking of the barges near Haverstraw last night. The dead are Nicholas Nagel and Frank Gurray. Capt. Albertson of the schooner Alice Snidecker, was struck by the boom of the vessel and killed. The gale did considerable damage to buildings in Rockland county.

Tranquility in Brazil.

LONDON, Dec. 5—A dispatch from the correspondent of the Times at Santiago de Chile says that Gen. Castillo has decided to be reappointed governor of the Brazilian province of Rio Grande do Sul and that the nationalists troops are gradually being disarmed. Tranquility, according to the same correspondent, is being slowly but surely restored in Brazil.

Guatemalan Insurgents.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 5.—Information reaches this city that the wires between the city of Guatemala and Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, have been cut by the insurgents. No news can be obtained from that section, but it is believed that the insurgents are gaining ground.

She Goes Today.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Delia Parnell, mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, and her son John will sail for England today on the steamship Urania. They were to sail on the Majestic Wednesday, but were detained.

Killed in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 5.—A boiler exploded in the San Francisco mine at Sombrele Tuesday, killing five men outright and wounding nine more. The engineer's negligence was the cause of the accident.

Soldiers For San Salvador.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 5.—Salvador Roderiquez, charge d'affaires, of Salvador, in Mexico, has requested the military authorities to detail a number of Mexican army officers for service in the Salvadorean army. The minister of war has complied with the request.

Blizzard Suspends Business.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 5.—Dispatches just received from Pembina and Ellendale, N. D., state that a terrible blizzard is now raging in both those places and that all business has been suspended in consequence.

Bishop Wadhams Wafted Away.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Right Rev. Edgar E. P. Wadhams, bishop of the diocese of Ogdensburg, who has been ill for some time, died at the episcopal residence in this city this morning, aged 74 years.

Burglars Get Boodle.

NYACK, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Levi Sherwood's store at Monsey, Rockland county, was entered by burglars last night and a large amount of money and other property carried off.

The Mongolians Mad.

SHANGHAI Dec. 5.—The Mongolians are furious at the murder of their prince and considerable additional trouble is anticipated.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—The official journal this morning publishes a decree which authorizes the importation of American pork via Dunkirk, Havre, Bordeaux and Marseilles.

Dom Pedro Passes Away.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—Dom Pedro, ex-emperor of Brazil, died last night.

The Clerks Open Meeting.

On Wednesday evening the Clerks union will give a first open meeting and entertainment at Temple Opera. This will be the beginning of a series of meetings in the interest of early closing. Several clergymen, among them Rev. E. M. Noyes and Bishop McGolrick are expected to make a few remarks in support of the movement. The president of the Clerks National association will also be present and speak. A good program has been prepared. Admission will be free and a good attendance is hoped for among the merchants and their employes.

Thomas Timlin Heard From.

To the Editor of The Herald.

I noticed an article in this morning's Tribune stating that Alderman James Dingwall made a complaint against me at police headquarters yesterday. I think that was uncalled for as before I opened my saloon I first went to police headquarters and told the officers that I intended to open and that if it was contrary to law the police could come to my place of business and arrest me. In regard to Mr. Dingwall's statement as to having spent 75 cents in my saloon for whiskey, I admit that. The same money has this day, Dec. 4, been refunded.

The Hennepin County Grand Jury Today Indicts Tim Byres for Forgery.

Said to Have Altered a Satisfaction of Mortgage to His Own Advantage.

But Claims it was a Misunderstanding As to His Powers in the Matter.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—The grand jury of Hennepin county today handed in seven indictments, one of which will cause a sensation. Timothy E. Byrnes of this city, is indicted for forgery. Byrnes is one the best known young republicans here. He was chief appointment clerk of the treasury department under Windom and is now national organizer of the national league of republican clubs. The document alleged to be forged is a deed from his mother-in-law, Mrs. G. W. Goodrich. It is charged that Byrnes altered the satisfaction of mortgage so that it included eight lots instead of two, and raised money on these eiggt lots by mortgage and converted it to his own use. His answer is that the affair was the result of a misunderstanding as to his powers.

Jack Tar in a Chile Court.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A Valparaiso special says the appearance in court of a sailor of the United States steamship Baltimore, in an inebriated condition was a regretable incident in more than one way. The judge of crimes calls the attention of Capt. Schley to the suggestion that the probable cause of the disorders of October 16 was a similar state of intoxication on the part of his men. This is thought to forecast a decision by the court to that effect. The guilty jack tar has been court-martialed and his sentence is 30 days on bread and water in double irons and the forfeit of three months' pay. He is an Englishman by birth.

Two of a Kind.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The suit for divorce by the actress Florence St. John against her husband, Marcus Duplaney, was begun today. A counter suit is pending by Duplaney against his wife. Both charge adultery. Messrs. Cohen and Marks, of the Financial News, are mentioned as co-respondents in the husband's suit. The testimony is of an indecent character.

Cut With a Cyclone.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 4.—Kelly Bros.' factory, the Heights hotel and a few smaller structures at Muskegon heights were wrecked by a cyclone early yesterday morning. Fortunately no one was injured. The loss will be heavy.

Coeur d'Alene City Burning.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 5.—A dispatch received from Coeur d'Alene City, Idaho, this morning, states that a terrible fire is now raging at that place and from present appearances there is every probability of the whole city being wiped out.

Martin Must Die.

ALBANY, Dec. 5.—Governor Hill has refused to grant a week's stay or repreive in the case of Martin D. Loppy, the condemned murderer, sentenced to be executed in Sing Sing prison by electricity next week.

November Fire Record.

Fire Chief Smith has made his monthly report. It shows that during November there were nine alarms, one being false. The value of property attacked, not including the Pioneer coal dock, was $608,050. On this there was insurance of $222,325. The total loss was $17,545. Of this the loss by the fire in the coal of the Northwestern Fuel company on dock was $16,000, leaving but $1544 for general commercial losses in the month. The two coal dock fires kept the firemen busy 150 hours. The chief asks for 2500 feet of new hose.

Idleness is Inexcusable.

Any able bodied man and able to work has no excuse for lying idle now. The wages paid this season are good—ranging from $20 to $35 a month. Of course nearly any kind of a man could earn the minimum. The ones that are paid $35 a month are of course few, for that is the other extreme. Only the best four-horse drivers can command this figure. Somewhere about 4000 men are now in the woods in the Duluth lumber district.

The Lehigh Fire.

The fire on the Lehigh dock at West Superior is still blazing qute fiercely and last night a request was made for the Silsby engine of this city. While it was being loaded on to the flat car at Fourth avenue west one of the horses fell down between the car and the platform, scratching and straining himself and knocking out a tooth. The loading platform does not extend as far as it should. The cloud of smoke from the burning coal has steadily increased for a week and is the most noticeable object on the Wisconsin side of the bay.

Directors Elected.

The Cincinnati Iron company has a completed organization. Directors and officers are elected as follows: J. T. Hale, James Billings, John McKinley, M. O. Brooks, of Duluth; A. E. Humphrey, F. Woodman and L. Pritchard, of Charleston, West Virginia. President, J. T. Hale; vice president, John McKinley; general manager, A. E. Humphrey; secretary and treasurer, H. Williston. The company will continue work all winter and believes it has a big thing.

Real Estate Men's Meeting.

The real estate men meet at the chamber of commerce this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Real Estate Association Exchange.

A Small Fire.

The fire department was called out at 5:15 this morning to a blaze in 2129 West Third street, a house owned by Samuel Erickson and occupied by Ticket Agent H. P. Brown. The house was not damaged much, but the furniture was badly demoralized. The fire caught while someone was carrying a lamp upstairs.

The police department thinks it has discovered a telescope stolen from H. W. Pearson one year ago. It has been traced to Minneapolis.

Holiday advertisers should bear in mind the fact that the circulation of The Herald is larger than that of any other paper published in the city.

Holiday buyers should not neglect to read carefully the advertising columns in The Herald every day. They are both interesting and instructive.

Secretary Thompson, of the chamber of commerce, is still receiving urgent invitations to accept the secretaryship of the Galveston board of trade.

Humane Agent Haskins arrested a man who had been spending his forenoon in a saloon while his horses stood on the street without protection.

A. H. Holgate has sold his house on West Third street to John C. Hunter for $9000 and will build a $10,000 house in Hunters Park next summer for his own use.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at the Pioneer Fuel company's office, hotel St. Louis, 326 Superior street: 12 m., 24; 3 p. m., 20; 6 p. m., 15; 9 p. m., 15; 7 a.m., 3; 9 a.m., 4; 12 m., 15. Maximum, 24; minimum, 4; daily range, 20.

W. E. Richardson and F. A. Day returned this morning from Chicago. They were considerably astonished to learn of the solution of the street railway muddle, but expressed the belief that there would be some development on their side the fence in a day or two.

The opening lecture of the High school course given last night by Dr. S. G. Smith, of St. Paul, was very well attended and was an auspicious beginning of the course. Dr. Smith's remarks were bright and interesting and were warmly applauded.

Secretary Chan Smith's seventh semi-annual statement shows that the Zenith Building & Loan association has assets of $75,582.33, of which $69,675 is represented by mortgages on real estate, $350 by inventory, $1893.34 due from members, and $3663.99 cash with treasurer. The association has thus far paid $82,245 on loans, and its total receipts have been $105,980.60. Its profits the past year were 19 5-12 per cent, not including membership fees. This high rate is due partly to the deposit loans.

Matt C. Woodward, of "The President" company, comes of a distinguished English clerical family. His father is vicar of Folkestone, England, and his uncle canon of Liverpool. Both these ecclesiastics were intimate friends of the famous Father Ignatius, and that somewhat erratic divine on meeting Matt in in New York recently endeavored to dissuade him from traveling in "The President" company and to take up the ministry instead, as that was what he was educated for, but the eloquent monk's appeals were in vain.

Thos. Mitchell, of Kentucky, owner of large Duluth interests, has won in a suit at Superior in which he was defendant for $200,000 worth of east end realty. The title of the case was David F. Frazee and Samuel Clay Jr., of. Kentucky, Consolidated Land company, Northern Pacific, et. al. The plaintiffs brought suit to set aside the title, claiming fraud in a conveyance from Clay 13 years ago, by his assignee, Thomas Mitchell to William Tarr. Judge Marshall held that the frauds, if any had existed, had become void and had no effect at this time.

Amusements.

Clever in conception, brilliant in execution, sparkling with the most refined humor, and bristling with the keenest wit, is the description given of Hendricks' new American comedy, "The President." "The President" must not be mistaken for a farcial concoction with variety show fixtures, it being a high class comedy, dealing with a number of extremely mirthful occurrences and complications that might readily arise in ordinary social and business life. Frank David, the widely-known and popular player, is at the head of a strong cast.

A Heavy Pine Transfer.

The Weyerhauser and Musser-Sauntry lumber interests have bought 8632 acres of Northern Pacific railway land in Douglas county, mostly near Gordon, paying therefor $34,730. There is considerable pine and hardwood on the lands.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU. DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 5.—The storm which was over Lake Superior yesterday morning has moved almost directly north and is now central over Canada. Generally fair weather prevails in all sections with light snow in the Northwest.

The temperature has not changed much in this section but is slightly colder if anything. The lowest is 4 below zero at Battleford, N. W. T., the highest 42 at Buffalo.

Fair and slightly colder weather may be expected until Monday.

The highest temperature here yesterday was 27 the lowest 12, and the total snowfall yesterday one inch.

DULUTH, Dec. 5.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Dec. 6: Continued cold and fair.

B. H. BRONSON,
Observer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—For Wisconsin: Fair southern, occasional light snows in northern portion; colder in southern, stationary temperature in northern portion; westerly winds.

For Minnesota: Fair, except occasional snows in extreme northern portion; northwesterly winds; slightly warmer on Sunday.

For South and North Dakota: Generally fair; northerly winds, becoming variable; slowly rising temperature on Sunday.

WHAT CONGRESS MIGHT DO

Monday, at the prick of noon, the Fifty-second American congress will assemble under the capitol dome at Washington to deliberate on our national needs. It is fitting, therefore, that we should suggest a few things which it might do.

In the first place, it should get down to business with both ends. The senate should confirm worthy recess appointees of the President without unseemly quibbling, and the house should choose its speaker without delay. Each house should then decide its contested election cases at the earliest moment, giving the seat to the rightful claimant without great expense and double salaries as has been the custom in the past. This would give the new congress an air of honesty and business it has seldom possessed.

If it feels called upon to adjust the tariff it should do so on the installment plan, not presenting a new bill to distract the country but merely modify features of the existing measure. It could perhaps improve on the wool and tin schedules, and do something for the New England factories now crying for raw material.

When it comes to the silver question it should also go a little slow, striving only to keep our currency on its constitutional two feet. The country needs and must have both metals in some sort of brotherhood, but equality can be secured only by international action. We are the people, but England is as yet our banker, and she has a thing or two to say. Free coinage of our present dollar, which is worth but 76 cents on the scales, would be a real boom for the silver miners, and class legislation of the rankest sort, while the poor man who has no silver to coin would have to sweat as much as ever. It is better that the government buy the silver for its market value and coin the dollars itself, thus permitting the whole people to share the scignorage, than that a score of millionaires be created by act of congress.

The question of appropriations for internal improvements is now become one of the most important that presents itself at each returning session of congress, and the West has been transformed so quickly that its needs have ever outstripped the allowance made. Not until this year has there been any systematic effort on the part of public men to see our festive shores and study the wants of a happy and patient people. Some have come, and all who did so have been convinced. We wish not to be selfish, but if the West which has so long gone a-begging should receive the least bit more than its share, nothing but a fragment of eternal justice would be done; then, too, there is a campaign coming, and the West will be heard from, though we wish not to use this as a threat or compulsion. The world is interested in the West, and the commerce of the country would be paralyzed by an accident to the lock between our lakes. We therefore trust the new and tenderfoot congress will not be amazed at the magnitude of the measures asked. This is a large country, and it takes about a million and a quarter a day, or something like two cents per capita all around, to run it. Take courage, therefore, and if need be let any member save his share by not changing his collar.

But whatsoever you do, do it quickly. Don't fool away the time till next October wondering what you are there for, and then be shelved in the November election. Be up and doing. Hie yourselves to the departments early in the morning for your seventy million constituents, betake yourselves to the 10 o'clock committee meetings, and then be in your seat when the gavel falls at 12. Be there every day, and be there more than you are elsewhere. Thus will you fulfil the functions of your office, expedite business, please the people and possibly get there again.

ELECTING A SENATOR.

The senatorial situation in Florida is more unique and uncertain than that of Ohio. The Florida senate has 32 members and the house 68, making a total of 100. In joint session 51 votes would elect a United States senator. The day on which Call was chosen there were only 15 senators present, or two less than a quorum, but with the presence of 39 representatives Call received 52 votes. Because of this condition of things Governor Fleming has appointed ex-Congressman Davidson to fill the alleged vacancy, refusing to give Call a certificate of election. The United States senate will now have to determine whether a quorum of both houses is essential to the legality of such an act. The opposition to Call claim that if less than a quorum is sufficient, then one senator and fifty representatives could elect. The governor and, as a rule, the politicians of Florida are opposed to Call because he has prevented corporate robbery of the public lands in that state, but the every day people are with him in the contest which has been one of long years and many fierce fought battles. His recent election was a struggle of many days in which every expedient to prevent a meeting or break a quorum was used to defeat him, and if the final vote was taken at the time provided by the constitution the absence of his enemies to break a quorum of the senate may result in nothing but their own discomfiture.

Yesterday was a day of disaster in many parts of the land, the most horrible being the death of ten or more workmen under a falling wall in St. Paul, the attempted killing of Russell Sage which resulted in the horrible mutilation and death of several persons, fatal railroad wrecks in Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, and numerous casualties in other places. It will be noticed that the killed are in all instances men, who by the exposure of their employments are subjected to many dangers. This will explain the fact alluded to by Dr. Smith in his lecture last night that the average length of women's lives is 45 years, while that of men is only 42.

The democratic congressional caucus met in the house of representatives at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and it is probable that before the sun sets over the Virginia hills the man who is to be the speaker of the house will be selected. The President himself has not so much power in shaping the legislation of the country as the man who appoints the committees and occupies the chair. The action of the caucus is therefore of great national importance, and whether the choice is Mills or Crisp is quite as important so far as actual results are concerned as whether the Minneapolis convention chooses Harrison or Blaine.

The effort yesterday to blow up Russell Sage and the recent attempt to shoot Dr. Hall in New York are but a proof that lots of lunatics and fools are still at large. It also shows that small folks have happier lives in some respects than big folks, though in Mr. Sage's case he was more fortunate than his humbler companions. It is a peculiarity of some unbalanced minds to become possessed of a passion to kill this or that great person for an imagined wrong, and no power but bodily confinement can prevent the consummation of their schemes.

The Indian Territory legislature, sitting at Tahlequah, the capital of the Cherokee nation, has decided to sell to the United States government the 6,000,000 acres contained in the famous Cherokee strip. The commissioners appointed to negotiate for this purchase have at last been successful and the treaty has been signed by both the government agents and the Indians, the price agreed upon being $1.40 per acre. This is a fortunate outcome of a matter second only to the opening of our proposed forest reserve.

The Herald is in receipt of "The Weather," a handsome publication by the Pioneer Fuel company, which gives a complete meteorological record of the state of Minnesota, showing the maximum and mean temperature for each month, winter and year since 1822. It is a very handy book of reference, and when the oldest resident gives us any of his back talk about ancient weather and the coldest day in the world we can draw the record on him.

"The President" will be among us next week as per announcement on another page. It isn't every paper that can get a half page "ad" from the chief executive, but The Herald in its influence reaches out to everybody everywhere. This might be a good time to speak with him on forest reserves. He receives the public Monday evening.

ELECTRICAL PROGRESS.

New Pullman double-deck electric street cars built for lines in Boston show a height of comfort in street travel that has only recently been thought possible. These cars furnish seats for 80 people, are open at the side instead of the end, and accommodate passengers with the utmost quickness and economy, as well as comfort.

The long distance telephone is quietly reaching out for all important points, and one of these days it will come forward as the most important rival of the telegraph. The American Bell has now under construction 50 lines between New York and Chicago. As each line has two wires and the distance between the two cities is about 980 miles, the total quantity of wire required for these lines is 98,000 miles, enough to go four times around the globe. These lines are all built with copper wire, weighing 174 pounds to the mile. At this rate 8526 tons of wire is required.

An Englishman has conceived the idea of utilizing the waste heat of locomotives by covering them with thermo-electric elements, and employing the current thereby generated to charge storage batteries on the train.

An electric locomotive for freight cars has just been constructed at the Thomson-Houston works. It will be used for hauling freight a mile and a half, and will take the place of 16 or 18 horses. On trial it drew 163 tons up a 3 per cent grade and on a moderate curve without giving any indication that the limit of its power was reached. It looks like a short platform car, and will be operated by means of a trolley wire. The electricians at Lynn do not expect to accomplish much in regard to railroad travel until they have devised something better than the trolley system.

LATER DECEMBER MAGAZINES.

The Engineering Magazine, New York, has sprung into great favor since it started, a year ago. Its contents are: "American Supremacy in Mechanics," by Dr. Coleman Sellers, of Philadelphia; 'Permanent Census Bureau," Edward Atkinson; "Fulton Night with the Engineers," J. E. Halloway, a distinguished mechanical engineer; "Geology from a Business Point of View," Professor E. H. Williams, of Lehigh university; "Canadian Pacific Railway," T. K. Thompson, one of its engineers; "Picturesque Suburban Stations;" "Manchester Ship Canal;" "Impure Water and Health," Dr. Floyd Davis; "Landscape Beauty at Newport;" "The Conditions Causing a Cold Wave," Professor T. Russel, chief meteorologist of the weather bureau. There are also interesting editorial departments and comment and criticism.

The Christmas Bookbuyer, New York, is a splendid number, containing, as it does, the illustrative gems of all the fall books. It is double size, or more, and is a revelation of the beauties of the books of American publishers.

The Forum is a fine issue. It contains "Degradation by Pensions," by Lieutenant A. R. Foote, founder of the society of Loyal Volunteers; "Significance of the Massachusetts Election," by Governor Russell; "The Jewish Persecution," by A. Levy-Beaulieu; "French Feeling Toward Germany," by C. Pelletan; "Should the Silver Law be Repealed," by J. H. Schiff; "Is Modern Education a Failure;" "Reformatory or Punitive Prisons;" "Unregulated Competition Self Destructive," by A. F. Walker; "Need School be a Blight to Child Life;" "A Day with Lord Tennyson," by Edwin Arnold. There are also two articles on banks, one discussing Mr. Harter's plan of circulation, and the other a permanent system. These, as well as the articles on France and Germany, the Jews, and modern education and child schools will be apt to give the reader new insight into these subjects.

DO YOU FEEL LIKE THIS?

Ordinary Symptoms that Indicate the Beginning of a Serious Trouble.

"The public ought to be warned of the insidious and generally unappreciated beginnings of chronic disease," said a physician to a Herald reporter.

"Restlessness,
"Feverish feeling,
"Sleeplessness,
"Periodic headaches,
"Dizziness,
"Dimness of vision,
"Ringing in the ears,
"Difficulty in thinking,
"Trouble in remembering names and faces even of friends,—

"All these may seem trifling symptoms.

But they indicate a serious condition, and if proper treatment is not instituted chronic disease of the nerves or brain will follow or sudden death will result without warning.

"Nothing can be more injurious at this time than stimulants. The system needs soothing, toning and building up. Professor Phelps, of Dartmouth, realized this when he began his investigations which resulted in the discovery of Paine's celery compound. This compound checks and cures disease, even after it has secured a foothold in the system. Taken on the approach of the symptoms I have named, it will positively prevent their increase and restore the usual health and strength.

Safe Investments

LISTEN TO REASON AND MAKE MONEY.

Splendid Opportunities.

The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this way however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your eisure, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or petsons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE ON FILING PETITION TO SELL LAND.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } ss
COUNTY OF ST. LOUIS. }

In Probate Court, Special Term, November 28th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Ben Wallace Irvin deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of H. M. Myers, administrator of said estate, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into his hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased as far as the same can be ascertained; a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate with their residence; and praying that license be to him granted to sell the real estate described in said petition. And it appearing, by said petition, that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts, and expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts and expenses to sell said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate, appear before this court, on Monday, the 21st day of December, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. at the probate office in Duluth in said county, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administrator to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay said debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this order shall be published on Saturday in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper printed and published at Duluth in said county.

Dated at Duluth, the 28th day of November, A. D. 1891.

LEGAL NOTICES.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of seven thousand, six hundred sixty-three and 23-100 dollars ($7663.23), which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Brown Brothers, a corporation under the laws of the state of Minnesota to the Lakeside Land company, bearing date the 6th day of September, A. D. 1890, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 23rd day of October, A. D. 1890, at 4 o'clock p. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 640, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz.:

Lots lettered G and H, Lester Park, First (1st) division, according to the recorded plat thereof in St. Louis county, and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes (if any) on said premises and one hundred dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the 11th day of January, A. D. 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated November 27th, A. D. 1891.

ORDER TO EXAMINE ACCOUNTS, ETC.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } ss.
County of St. Louis. }

In Probate Court, special term, December, 4th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Lewis Worthington, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Townsend W. Hoopes, administrator of the estate of Lewis Worthington, deceased, representing, among other things, that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining, settling and allowing the final account of his administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It is ordered, that said account be examined, and petition heard, by this court on Monday, the 28th day of December, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Probate office, in Duluth in said county.

And it is further ordered, that notice thereof be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order on Saturday in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper, printed and published at Duluth in said county.

Dated at Duluth the fourth day of December, A. D., 1891.

AN EXCELLENT PATENT

Contractor Ennis Will Manufacture a Patent Self-Hoisting Scaffold for Builders of His Own Invention.

It is Claimed That It Will Economize Greatly in Both Time and Labor on Brick Structures.

A Mining Engineer Looks for the Completion of a Duluth Road to Boom Silver Mines.

A Herald man dropped in on J. E. Ennis, the contractor, yesterday and had a chat with him about his labor-saving invention, which consists of a patent scaffold for use by bricklayers in building houses.

"My invention," said Mr. Ennis, "must prove highly successful from every standpoint and I expect to make considerable money out of it. I intend manufacturing the scaffold myself and it will be only a short time before I enter into the manufacture."

The scaffold is a very simple matter. Two iron standards enter into its construction and a plank platform stretching from one to the other is so arranged as to slide upwards by the action of clutches, which are worked as one works a hand pump. Just a few feet above the platform mentioned, on which the bricklayers are to stand, is a second platform, on which the bricks are placed before being laid on the wall. This second platform is just high enough to allow the bricklayer to get his bricks without bending. Mr. Ennis estimates that one-third of the time heretofore used in laying bricks can be saved. Both platforms move upwards and are always the same distance apart.

The standards can be kept in position by being made to rest on one floor and to come up through a small hole in the second floor. Where this is not possible it can be held in place by a tripod of simple construction, which becomes all the more firm by increasing the weight put upon it.

Mr. Ennis will apply his invention to elevators used in carrying brick for the construction of buildings.

A MINER TALKS.

He Has Been Exploring the Groups of Thunder Bay Mines.

W. J. Phillips, a mining engineer from Silver City, Nevada, has just returned to Duluth from a three months' exploration of the Thunder bay mines down the north shore. He is very enthusiastic over the country, despite the fact that the Beaver mine is closed and the Murillo for sale. His field of operations extended from the Beaver west to Arrow Lake, 45 miles, and on a track five miles wide. He says:

"The Rabbit mountain group of mines includes the Beaver, Elgin, Rabbit Mountain, Little Pig, Badger, and the Porcupine. For the first four an English company is now said to be negotiating. There is no doubt that further developments will unearth great riches as the district is yet in its infancy. In this group of mines the Badger and Porcupine are mining night and day and the latter is in bonanza ore.

"The Silver mountain group of properties consists of the Shunia Weachu, West End and Crown Point. The latter has been idle a year. Its vein is four feet wide and well mineralized. The West End is working day and night and is practically the center of the silver district. West of it are excellent properties, but yet undeveloped. The district will never become a great shipper until the Port Arthur, Duluth & Western road is finished. I have been 23 years in a mining camp and I never saw better showing than in this district."

UNWARRANTED ACTION,

However Justifiable it May be in Its Ends.

At last Monday's meeting of the common council a certain resolution was passed in answer to a petition of John C. Hunter. Someone signing as "Laboringman" thereupon wrote by way of protest to one of the papers, saying that one person should not be favored more than another. This set one or two of the aldermen to thinking, and they, after much argument, persuaded the city clerk to keep the resolution out of the published proceedings, and also kept it from going to the mayor. Their action was wholly unwarranted and there is likely to be some warm discussion on the matter in the near future. Had the resolution gone to the mayor, as it should, there is no doubt that he would have vetoed it.

NEWS FROM MORNING PAPERS.

M. B. Harrison sold his handsome residence yesterday to Col. W. H. Stowell. The purchase price was $35,000. Col. A. B. Jones will build a residence adjoining next spring.

Geo. Ziegler, of Milwaukee, one of the largest manufacturing confectioners in the United States, is in the city. Mr. Ziegler enjoys a large trade in this section and is considering the advisability of establishing a branch factory in Duluth.

Frank Raymond was frozen to death near Grand Rapids Monday. He came from Dakota about three weeks ago and was in a lumber camp. He went to Grand Rapids Monday and laid in a supply of whisky. He was about 30 years of age.

Owen Parker, the street car conductor who was squeezed between a car and a trailer last summer, breaking both collar bones, has filed an action against the street railway company to recover $2275 personal damages alleged to have been sustained.

The residents of Bay View Heights have formed a Traveler's Club and meet weekly at the members' houses. Last Thursday evening the first meeting was held at C. W. Hoyt's and Rev. Gates took the travellers through Rome, illustrating his talk with stereoptican scenes. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all, and it is the intention of the club to continue their travels all winter.

The new management of the Phillips hotel is making some agreeable changes in that popular house. A new commodious diningroom has been built on the east side of the building and the old dining room will be used as a billiard hall and the house is being newly papered and freshened up.

C. W. Hoyt, who advertised a house for sale in The Herald last Tuesday, has received so many inquiries that he wishes to say to the applicants that he has sold that place, but that he is making arrangements to put several more on the market soon at the same terms, and will then be ready to deal with all. None but parties meaning business and that can furnish references need apply.

On account of an important change to be made in my business about Jan. 1, I will begin at once to reduce my stock by opening a grand reduction sale. I will make prices so low that it will be an object for everbody in West Duluth to buy everything you want in my line during this sale. Look for further notice. N. C. Hendricks.

J. S. Anderson is offering some special bargains at his Grand avenue grocery. Here are a few leaders: Two pound can best corn 8 cents; three pound can California goods only 18 cents; three pound can tomatoes 10 cents; California dates 5 cents per pound; good Japan tea 19 cents; Mocha and Java coffee 23 cents; all goods in the store at correspondingly low prices. Also 20 per cent off on all crockery. Remember this is J. S. Anderson's special sale and will continue all next week.

Almost Ready for Full Work.

At the blast furnace everything is working very satisfactorily and runs are being made every three or four hours, of from three to five beds of pig each. The chilled iron at the bottom of the furnace is nearly all worked out and the bottom of the furnace will probably be clear by Monday. The stock sheds are filling up, ore being received daily, and everything points to a prosperous season.

A WEEK'S SOCIAL NEWS

Fine Entertainment Can be Well Looked For in Concerts and Other Assemblies to be Held Soon.

The Week a Somewhat Quiet One in Social Circles, But a Livelier Season is to Follow It.

Mention of People and Events of Interest, Weddings, Dances and Card Parties Are a Few.

The concert for Mrs. Loman to be given at the congregational church on Tuesday evening, Dec. 15, gives promise of bringing before us a program of great excellence. Mr. Knowles, the fine baritone of West Superior, recently from the East, in his one appearance before a Duluth audience gained hosts of friends, who are anxious to hear him again. It is hoped arrangements can be perfected for a selection from a fine organist, who played in one church in Albany, N. Y., for 18 years. A ladies' chorus under the direction of Mrs. Dinwoodie will present two bright selections. Other attractions will be equally pleasing. We expect Duluth to give a rousing house on this occasion and thus show that in the matter of concerts for the benefit of our musical friends, as in all other undertakings, we are not a whit behind other and older cities, that furnish packed houses at such times.

The Medley club will hold a social Thursday of next week.

The Misses Peyton entertained a number of friends at a card party last evening at their pleasant home on West First street.

Wednesday evening the Cotillon club gave a german at the residence of Miss Markell. A very pleasant evening was passed.

Mrs. John H. Harris, of Duluth Heights, celebrated her birthday Tuesday by entertaining a number of her lady friends.

Miss Jennie Gyllenborg gave a progressive euchre party to her friends Thursday evening. A very enjoyable time was reported.

The ladies of Endion baptist church will serve dinner and supper at their two days' sale of useful and fancy articles. The sale will be held shortly.

At the evening services of the unitarian society tomorrow important notices will be given concerning the work of the society and the Unity club for the coming year.

Mrs. B. W. Hubbs entertained a number of friends at her home Tuesday night. Vocal and instrumental music amused the guests, after which a supper was served.

The lecture to be given by Page Morris on "Richmond" at Endion baptist church on Dec. 11, will be illustrated by stereopticon views. A large attendance is assured.

The next meeting of the Ladies Literature class will be held at the residence of Mrs. J. D. Ray next Tuesday. "Tennyson" is the subject of discussion and the leader is Mrs. R. P. Dowse.

Two of Mrs. Stocker's pupils, Misses Florence Ames and and Lynda Woodbridge gave a piano recital to many friends Thursday afternoon. Their program included selections from Beethoven, Grieg, Schubert and others, all very prettily rendered.

The Hebrew Ladies' Relief society Sunday evening surprised their president, Mrs. A. Mark, by calling on her in a social way in a body. A most enjoyable time was had, and quite a handsome sum of money was subscribed to further the work of the society.

An evening of music, including the "Grasshopper Cantata," and several selections, arranged by Mrs. S. M. Stocker for the benefit of the Saturday club, takes place at the Saturday club rooms Wednesday evening. Quite an extensive program has been prepared.

Today the Saturday club had a history afternoon under the guidance of Mrs. J. L. Washburn. The program included a paper on religious development of early Germany—papal influence, councils at Trent, Nice, etc.—a paper on the reformation; sidelights of discoveries and a conversation on inventions and their influence.

Tomorrow the Elks throughout the country will observe the "Lodge of Sorrow," a memorial for the dead of the year. For the first time the Duluth public is invited to be present at a session of the Elks and it is hoped by the members of the order that there will be a large attendance. The service will begin at 4 o'clock and will be as already outlined in The Herald.

A unique and most pleasant entertainment was that given at the First baptist church last evening. There was an organ of which each pipe was a little girl and it played tunes of one octave. Those taking part were: Florence MacClelland, Leland Colby, Arthur and Bertha Hanford, Bessie Bowman, Florence Brown, Nellie Cate, Grace MacClelland, Annie Ettinger, Miss Boswell. Each impersonated a character. Mrs. Bowman sang and piano selections were given by Mrs. Bowman and Miss Barnes.

Tomorrow evening the singing society Concordia, connected with the Turner society, holds a social entertainment at Turner hall. An interesting program, in which the well-known talents of the society are to be shown in a most pleasing way, has been prepared and a most enjoyable evening will be passed. "Gesangverein Concordia" is too well known to Duluth citizens, especially to those musically inclined, to need any introduction and its entertainments are always most pleasant and tuneful.

At the Bethel loan exhibition, now planned for the third week in January, the Duluth band, the Cecilian society, the Swedish singing society and Professor Lachmund and friends will furnish the program for four of the six nights. Since The Herald's notice of the event, a number of people have sent word that they will contribute from private collections. The arrangements, as far as pictures are concerned, are to be by Artists Ericson and Luerzer.

Personal Matters.

L. J. Merritt is very ill at his residence in Oneota.

M. S. Burrows returned this morning from Chicago.

Miss Munger, who has been visiting in St. Paul came home today.

H. A. Scriver, a banker of Cannon Falls, is in Duluth today visiting friends.

Miss Fanny Heimbach, of East Troy, Wis., is in the city to spend the holidays with relatives.

Miss Bostwick, who has been visiting Twin city friends several months, returned home today.

K. D. Chase left for Faribault last night. In the spring he will probably make Duluth his home.

Capt. J. T. Rose and family will leave about the middle of the month for the East and South for the winter.

Capt. Fiske, of the United States Engineer corps, has left the city for an absence of two months in the East.

Mrs. Dr. Maxwell, who has been visiting old friends in Northwestern Indiana for some months, returned Tuesday.

Thomas J. Davis, of Draper, Davis & Hollister, leaves tomorrow for Tennessee for a month for a much needed rest.

Mrs. and Mrs. Stanhope Williamson, of Duluth, are in Washington for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Berry, of that city.

J. C. Deal and bride, who have been spending the past two weeks in Duluth, left Wednesday for their home in Kalamazoo, Mich. Mrs. Deal is a sister of Mrs. E. B. Fox.

Miss Martha Ball was Wednesday evening married to P. H. Loge, a well-known contractor of West Duluth, at the residence of her parents on Third street. Many intimate friends and relatives were present and the happy bride received numerous pleasant remembrances. Mr. and Mrs. Loge will reside at West Duluth.

J. R. Myers, of this city, writes from Galveston, Texas, that the weather at that place is fine, the temperature being 60 degrees. He also states that 31 ocean steamers are loading cotton at the wharves. The many friends of Mrs. Myers will be pleased to hear that she is very much improved in health.

Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Sheridan have just located in Duluth, the former to act as assistant in episcopal church work in the city. He will have charge of the west end chapel and the services at Lakeside. They will reside at the west end. Mr. Sheridan has been for some years at Mayville, North Dakota, and leaves as a monument of patient work, the most beautiful stone church on the wide Dakota prairies.

An Interesting Home Lecturer.

One of the most interesting and able lectures ever given in the city, was delivered before a crowded house at Grace church by the pastor Rev. R. H. Craig, on India. He being a returned missionary presented the subject in a manner to gain and hold the attention of the audience from the beginning to the close. He was attired in the costume of an educative native of India, and exhibited some of their gods, and many other curios, among which was a praying machine. It is desired by many that the lecture be repeated, and if it is some large hall be secured.

Clan Stewart's Election.

Clan Stewart holds its annual nomination for offices next Wednesday, and the election takes place the second Wednesday in January. Most interest is taken in the election of chief, and as A. S. Wilson has for a year discharged the duties with satisfaction to the clan and credit to himself, he will no doubt be re-elected. Chief Wilson and 30 of the members leave for Minneapolis Monday to inaugurate a new lodge in the Flour city, to be called "Clan Gordon."

THE MARKETS.

Wheat is Dull But Firm and Higher; the Bank Statement.

Duluth wheat closed the week dull but higher, and closed with an advance over yesterday of ¼c to ⅝c. Receipts here were light, owing to yesterday's snow storms. Total clearances at four Atlantic ports of wheat and flour equaled 520,733 bu wheat and for the week were equivalent to 5,234,325 wheat. Bradstreets makes the worlds visible supply of wheat increase 26,000,000 during last month. Prime's summary of the winter wheat crop situation is that the plant is having and has had a very hard time of it.

Estimating receipts of wheat of today at 100,000 bushels, the week's receipts are about 1,265,000 bushels. Shipments of the week have been 1,000,000, making an increase for the week of 265,000. There is now afloat in the harbor 310,000 bushels of wheat, including 65,000 loaded today by the Gilchrist at the Sawyer house. This will be further increased before another week by cargoes of the Nimick and Thomson and probably the City of London, aggregating over 200.000 more, so that Duluth will carry through the winter about 530,000 bushels afloat. All the vessels on both sides the bay are on the Duluth side except the Gilchrist and Nimick, and these will come over here as soon as they are loaded. Vesselmen believe this to be far the best side the bay to remain on.

THE ODD FELLOWS' GRAND

Next June's Duluth Session of the Grand Lodge Conflicts With the National Republican Convention.

Duluth Therefore Expected to Give up All Part in the Session and Let It Go To St. Paul.

All the Outpost Towns Lying Toward the Proposed Forest Reserve Objecting to It.

Duluth Odd Fellows are somewhat puzzled today over the fact that the annual meeting of the Grand lodge, which after a hard fight they secured for Duluth for June 7, 1892, will conflict with the national republican convention, which meets in Minneapolis the same day. What to do they do not know, as they don't want the Grand lodge session to be a fizzle, neither do they believe it would "draw" against the national convention, especially as many prominent members of the Grand lodge are also prominent republican politicians.

The time of the lodge meeting is fixed for June 7 and cannot be changed, though it probably will be possible to meet without a quorum and adjourn for a week or two. Unless this step can be taken the Duluth lodge will be expected to unite in a petition to the grand master asking that the lodge be held elsewhere, elsewhere in this case meaning St. Paul. Duluth does not want to do this, as it is quite likely to fix for all future time the meetings of the Grand lodge at St. Paul, for which fixture there is a very strong movement.

However, the Duluth Odd Fellows feel that they would rather not have a session at all than have a failure, and unless the adjournment scheme can be made to work they will swallow their disappointment and agree to meet in St. Paul. The matter will be talked over tonight and also at a meeting of the Grand lodge committee to be held next week.

THE FORESTRY MATTER.

Towns About Duluth Decidedly Worked up Over the Matter.

Papers of Tower, Ely, Grand Rapids and La Prairie unite in condemning the project for a state park of 11,000 square miles just north of them. Each town is deeply interested in the matter and each will join with Duluth in a vigorous protest. Dr. Barrett, of the Tower Journal, thinks when the scheme is sifted to the bottom it will be found to be fathered by "people nearer home than St. Paul or Minneapolis." He looks on it as a pine land and mineral deal of vast proportions.

Secretary Thompson of the Duluth chamber of commerce has talked with Secretary Barrett of the State Forestry association on the matter and finds him earnest in its favor. It is believed that a delegation from Duluth and vicinity will attend the next meeting of the National Forestry association to discuss the scheme.

Marine Notes.

The McDougall fleet will winter in Buffalo, with these exceptions: The "101" will tie up at Cleveland, the "107" at Erie and the A. D. Thomson at Duluth.

It costs a pretty penny to keep the boats of the American Steel Barge company insured and it is probable that next season the company will start a fund which will make it unnecessary to insure with outsiders. This scheme is in vogue with other mammoth concerns and there is no reason why the steel barge company should not find in it a great success.

The Mitchell, which lies in Northern Pacific slip, has a broken rudder.

Four Plats Filed.

The plat of Chester Park division, embracing that part of the ne¼ of ne¼, of 22-50-14 which lies northwest of the southeasterly line of East Eleventh street, has been filed with the register of deeds. The owners are Dillwyn Wistar, R. S. Munger, Clinton Markell. The plat of Brace's addition to New Duluth, which also goes on record, embraces the se¼ of sw¼, of 34-49-15 and is owned by the Maryland Investment company and Messrs. S. A. Thompson, Emil Schmied and J. L. Washburn. The replat of Wilmington addition has also been placed on record. London Park addition is the name for a replat of London Grove.

MORTGAGE SALE—

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Johnson A. Skinner to Bernard Trimbo, bearing date the 11th day of February, A. D., 1890, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 18th day of February, A. D., 1890, at 8 o'clock a. m., in book R of mortgages on page 208; and whereas, said mortgage contained a condition that if default should be made in any of the provisions in said mortgage contained, it should be lawful for said mortgagee to declare the whole sum therein specified to be due; and

Whereas, the first installment of the principal secured by said mortgage, to-wit, the sum of four hundred ($400.00) dollars, together with the sum of ninety-six ($96.00) dollars interest became due on February 11th, 1891, and was not paid, and has not since been paid, except that the sum of two hundred ($200.00) dollars has been received by said mortgagee on account thereof; and said mortgagee has elected and hereby elects to declare the whole amount of said principal debt, together with all accrued interest immediately due and payable; and

Whereas, by reason of said default and said election, there is claimed to be due, and is due, at the date of this notice the sum of eleven hundred and seventy-five ($1175.00) dollars, principal and interest; and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz.:

Lot three (3), in block one hundred and four (104), of West Duluth, Second division, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds, St. Louis county, Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the 18th day of January A. D., 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, assessments and insurance, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated November 25th A. D. 1891.

CHILEAN INSULTS.

The President, Blaine and Tracy Want Chile to Make Redress for Insults to Uncle Sam.

But Wanamaker Wants Peace or He Will Pack Up and go Back to the Land of Love.

Two Fleets Turn Their Beaks to the Southern Sea and Will Have Peace.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—A special to the Recorder from Washington, says the policy of the administration on the Chilean question is a puzzle to most persons in Washington, but all agree that by Saturday night a decisive foreign policy will be put forward in place of the wavering one that has caused no little comment during the past few weeks. The President and Secretary Blaine, it seems, were in favor of making a demand in regard to the Baltimore affair savoring of an ultimatum, but Secretary Tracy asked for delay until he could get an efficient squadron in motion, while Postmaster General Wanamaker was in favor of arbitration, and threatened to resign if a display of force was resorted to. It was finally decided that it would be unwise to have a split in the cabinet over the matter, and it was agreed that the question should remain in abeyance until congress should convene, and in the meantime all preparations should be made for any emergency. This policy has been strictly adhered to. No second message has been sent to Minister Egan for delivery, and the matter stands as it did two months ago with Chile's insulting message unanswered.

In the meantime extensive naval preparations have been going on and the result is that two powerful fleets have their bows toward the South. Now that everything is ready it is expected that President Harrison will show his hand and insist that his aggressive policy be carried out. It is believed that the facts as related above will be stated in the President's message, but what will follow after this is a matter of conjecture. Some belive the President will ask for a large appropriation in order that the country may be put on a war footing; that simultaneously with this request he will make the demand on Chile and will consider that in the text of his message, and that the two fleets will be sufficient display of force to convince Chile that the demand must have respectful and immediate attention. Others think that congress will be asked to vote upon the question of an ultimatum. It is believed that before the President and Secretary Blaine eat their Christmas dinner Chile will either apologize for her insults and make reparation for her crimes to our countrymen or will be taught that in time of peace Uncle Sam has prepared for war. The text of the report of the secretary of the navy, published this morning, has a very significant bearing on the matter. One sentence shows that Secretary Tracy entertains the same view as does President Harrison: It is: "There are outrages that cannot go unredressed; there are injuries to which no nation can afford to submit."

The Nicaraugua Wrecked.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7—News was received yesterday of the wreck of the Pacific mail new ship Nicaraugua, which struck on a sunken reef off Acajutta, San Salvador. She was built last June by the Cramps for the Central American service of the Pacific mail and cost $300,000. As the company insures all its own property, this means a dead loss of that amount. The reef on which she struck extends nine miles out to sea, and as the night was clear, the captain evidently mistook his bearings.

Fuel Famine at St. Vincent.

CROOKSTON, Minn., Dec. 7.—Telegrams were received yesterday from St. Vincent asking the shipment of wood by rail. The country roads are under heavy drifts and it is impossible to get wood hauled in. St. Vincent, Grand Station, Hallock and St. Hilare are utterly without fuel, and the suffering must be great before a sufficient supply can be obtained.

Florence and Charley.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—It is rumored that Florence Blythe, who will get the lion's share of the $5,000,000 estate of old Thomas Blythe, will marry Chas. Koenig, son of a rich local merchant. Koenig denies they are more than good friends, but many circumstances bear out the rumor. He is 23 ysars old and is studying medicine.

Stricken From the Rostrum.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 7.—James H. Kellogg, formerly president of the New York State Temperance society, suffered a stroke of apoplexy while addressing a meeting at the Emmanuel presbyterian church last night and died on his way home in the ambulance. He was aged 54 years, and a native of Vermont.

Election in Colombia.

PANAMA, Dec. 7.—Elections were held throughout the United States of Colombia yesterday. Numerous attempts were made at rioting, but were quickly suppressed by the military. At the closing of the polls the liberals claimed a big majority. The result, however, is in doubt.

Where is My Boy Tonight?

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 7.—A 4-year-old son of Daniel Hand, who lives about six miles from here, wandered away Saturday morning and is now lost in the dense woods which surround his home. The mother is nearly frantic.

The Triple Treaty.

VIENNA, Dec. 7.—The commercial treaties between Italy, Germany and Austrsa, which were signed on Saturday, have created more confidence in financial circles and prices of all securities on the bourse today are slightly higher with a firmer tone prevailing.

Is it the Grip Again?

HAMBURG, Dec. 7.—There are 13,000 cases of influenza reported in this city today and the death rate is considerably higher owing to the prevalence of the disease.

Kimball's cut rate ticket office has removed to 402 West Superior street, Fargusson block.

BRICE SWORN IN.

But Sherman Says This is not a Waiver of the Point.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—During the presentation of credentials in the senate today Mr. Sherman referring to the eligibility of Mr. Brice as a senator from Ohio, said that before the oath of office was administered to Mr. Brice he desired to say that the belief was entertained by a large part of the citizens of Ohio that he was not a citizen of that state at the time of his election and therefore was eligible. He (Mr. Sherman) was satisfied that Mr. Brice was entitled to be sworn in on his prima facie credentials. They were regular in form and therefore he should raise no objection to this being done. But he simply gave this notice so that Mr. Brice's being sworn in should not be regarded as a waiver of the point raised by the people of Ohio that he was not a citizen of that state at the time of his election. Mr. Hoar suggested that the contention was that Mr. Brice was not an "inhabitant" of Ohio and Mr. Sherman accepted the correction, substituting the word "inhabitant" for "citizen." Mr. Brice was then escorted to the desk and sworn in.

SAGE'S STORY.

How the Madman Met Him and the Deed was Done.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Russell Sage in describing his meeting with the man who tried to blow him up with dynamite, says: "The fellow handed me a paper. He was rather good looking, about 30 years of age, fairly well dressed and with nothing about him to indicate the devil in his brain. I took the paper and read this: 'I demand of you $1,200,000. If you do not give it to me at once, I have 10 pounds of dynamite in my bag with which I will blow this building up and its 500 inhabitants to death.' To say that I was thunderstruck would be putting it mildly, but I cotrolled myself and said that I would see him in two minutes. As I was about to leave he said: 'No, now.' I replied: 'Do I look like a man who would not keep his word?' For answer he took out of his bag a large glass globe. This he held in his outstretched hand, ready to drop if the money was not instantly forthcoming. I took two steps backward and that saved my life, for he immediately dropped the globe and the most terrific explosion followed."

Buckeye Bank Burglars.

BELLE CENTER, Ohio, Dec. 7.—Saturday morning as several railroad hands were walking in the rear of the local bank they were startled to see the heavy back door open and they gave the alarm at once. Great crowds of people, including the bank officials, hurried to the scene. On entering they found that the safe had been blown open and the bank completely gutted. The robbers drilled several holes in the iron safe, which was supposed to be burglar proof, and blew it open with dynamite. They took all the money in the safe and a number of valuable papers and negotiable securities. The amount stolen is supposed to be about $12,000. The bank officers say the bank will run right along. There is absolutely no clue to the perpetrators of the robbery.

Mine Explosion in France.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—While 80 miners were engaged in the Pompe pit in the St. Elieane coal fields of Southwestern France Saturday an explosion of fire damp caused the death of at least 60. The first notice that people outside the pit had of the disaster was a rumbling sound, followed by smoke and flame rushing from the mouth of the pit. As soon as possible men descended to the rescue, while hundreds of women and children present around the opening shrieked and wailed in agony for their father and brothers below. The rescuers reported to have found all dead, but about 20 who had been in the workings where the explosion did not have its full effect were rescued. The scenes as the bodies were brought up was terrible.

Professor Roberts and Mrs. Russell.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Professor Roberts, of Bath college, whose name was used in connection with the recent Russell vs. Russell divorce proceedings, has been advised by counsel that an action for slander against Countess Russell could not be successfully brought unless the statements she made are repeated outside of the court. Professor Roberts has the sympathy of the public, the general opinion being that there is not the slightest foundation for the serious allegations made against him by the countess.

Explosion in Steel Works.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 7.—About midnight last night while workmen were making some repairs to a furnace at the Sparrow Point steel works a terrific explosion of gas occurred which resulted in the giving way of the lower part of the furnace, fatally injuring three men and more or less wounding several others. The damage to machinery and stock was slight.

Many Lives are Lost

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 7.—A colliery explosion at Nitka, Russian Polland, has resulted, according to the first dispatches received, in the loss of 180 lives. The killed were all miners employed in the shaft, which has been almost entirely destroyed.

Cable Cars Collide.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—A serious accident occurred this morning upon the cable railroad here. Two cable cars came into collision, owing to the inability of a driver to release his grip from the cable. The result was that the two cars were badly wrecked and that twelve persons were seriously injured.

A Keeley Graduate Gone.

RIPON, Wis., Dec. 7.—Harry Parkhurst died at the home of his mother yesterday morning aged 24 years. He was a Keeley graduate and had just resumed his position on the Chicago News when he was taken with rheumatic fever and obliged to return to his home.

Two Were Killed.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 7.—The boiler in J. W. Houston's sawmill at Collensville, this county, exploded this morning. John Smith, the engineer, and Ed Downs, were killed. The entire plant valued at $5000 was destroyed.

House and Senate Meet Promptly at 12 o'clock and Adjourn Till Noon Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Promptly at 12 noon the first session of the house of representatives of the Fifty-second congress was called to order by Clerk McPherson and the senate by Vice President Morton. The senate at 1 p. m. adjourned until tomorrow at 12 noon. The roll call of the house disclosed the presence of 326 members out of 332. Immediately after the conclusion of the roll at 12:30, on motion of Mr. Holman, the house adjourned until noon tomorrow.

Two hours before the time for the convening of the Fifty-second congress the democratic members of the lower branch of that body met in the hall of the house for the purpose of selecting a candidate for speaker pursuant to the adjournment taken after the protracted and fatiguing session of Saturday. Ten o'clock is an early hour for the average member of congress and those entitled to attend the caucus were slow in assembling. Chairmon Holman arrived at the house 20 minutes before 10, followed a few minutes later by Mr. Springer, who looked as happy as ever and wore his everlasting rosebud in the lapel of his coat. Judge Crisp was the next of the candidates on the ground and he occupied most of the time between his arrival and the hour that the caucus met in earnest conversation with Mr. Blount, one of his lieutenants. Mills came to the capitol before the meeting of the caucus. He seemed bright and cheerful and did not show any signs of the partial prostration from which he sufferred last night. Messrs. McMillin and Hatch were also on the battle field.

All the speakership candidates occupied the headquarters in committee rooms on the house floor, which were assigned to them on Saturday, and little knots of supporters of the members, gathered about each and gave his individual views of the situation as seen in the light most favorable to his favorite.

There was practically no attempt made at missionary work before the caucus met. The various candidates had exhausted their resources yesterday in assaulting the line of each opponent, but without perceptible results and the democratic members entered the caucus without an inkling of what the day would bring forth.

The democratic caucus adjourned at 10:40 Saturday night till 10 o'clock this morning, having taken seventeen ballots with no material change after the fifth. The caucus was called to order by Chairman Holman shortly after 10 o'clock today and the roll call was answered to by 212 members, 15 less than attended the caucus of Saturday. New arrivals kept coming in all the time, however, and swelled the number. Calling the roll on the eighteenth ballot was then begun and 226 members voted as follows: For Crisp, 94; for Mills, 90; for McMillin, 19; for Springer, 17; for Hatch, 5; for Stevens, 1.

Nineteenth ballot: Crisp, 94; Mills, 91; Springer, 17; McMillin, 19; Hatch, 5; Stevens, 1. Total, 227. Terry, of Arkansas, who was absent on the eighteenth baliot, woted for Mills. The caucur then adjourned until 2 p. m.

Twentieth ballot same as nineteenth.

Twenty-first ballot: Crisp, 94; Mills, 91; Springer, 17; McMillan, 18; Hatch, 5; Stevens, 1. Total, 227.

Twenty-second ballot: Crisp, 95; Mills, 93; McMillin, 19; Springer, 15, Hatch, 4; Stevens, 1. Total, 227.

Twenty-third ballot—Crisp, 100; Mills, 94; Springer, 13; McMillan, 19; Stevens, 1. Total, 227. Hatch voted for Crisp amid applause.

Twenty-fourth ballot: Crisp, 101; Mills, 95; Springer, 12; McMillin, 19; Stevens, 1. Total, 228. There are now 228 members voting. It takes 115 to elect.

The Sault Closed.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Dec. 7.—[Special to The Herald.[—The Sault canal closed today for the year. It would have closed Saturday after the passage of the Nicol and Thomson for Duluth, but for the belief that several wheat vessels from Duluth would pass down. The steamers A. L. Hopkins and R. R. Rhodes passed down at daylight this morning. They will have no difficulty in getting through Mud lake. The weather is calm and cold.

Suicided at Superior.

A girl named Adell, living a Superior and well known in sporting resorts at the head of the lake, committed suicide at Superior last night. She had lived in Duluth, where she bore the name of Emma Safard. She was 19 years old and remarkably handsome, but her lover died a few weeks ago of apoplexy. Last night she took 40 grains of strychnine and died 20 minutes later. She was some months ago mixed up in the Nellie King shooting affray at Superior and attracted a good deal of attention at the trial by her appearance.

MISSOURI'S MUDDLE.

Can Electors be Chosen at Large? Is the Query That Confronts 'Em.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—A special from Washington says: "If an extra session of the legislature has been called Lieutenant Governor Claycomb has called it," said Governor Francis last night when he saw a dispatch saying such a decision had been reached. "I have not reached any conclusion," he added, more seriously. The governor sent messages to all members of the Missouri delegation requesting them to meet him yesterday afternoon. The response was general. For two hours and more the members discussed whether an extra session should be called. What the governor desired especially to know was whether there was any danger that Missouri would lose an electoral vote and a representative by failure to redistrict. One precedent was found in the case of Indiana, where an elector at large was chosen to cover an increase in apportionment and the electoral vote was counted. The sentiment in the delegation seemed to be pretty nearly unanimous that Missouri would not lose the increase in the apportionment by failure to redistrict. But the governor, after the conference, said the question was still open in his mind.

ABOARD THE WETMORE.

Capt. McDougall Aboard His Traveled Ship; The Nicol's Voyage.

Today it is probable Capt. McDougall and the other Steel Barge company stockholders now at the West coast boarded the steamer Wetmore, and the captain will himself pilot her up Puget sound to Everett. The vessel took a cargo of grain at Duluth last June for Liverpool, was the pioneer whale steamer on the Atlantic coast, first spread the fame of the inventor in Europe, came back and cruised around Cape Horn, shoving a steel whale prow for the first time into Pacific waters. She has traveled since leaving here last June about 24,000 miles. After unloading a cargo of heavy shipyard and paper-pulp machinery at Everett the vessel will engage in the Pacific coast trade, with a possibility that she may make an occasional run to China. Capt. McDougall returns to Duluth next week.

Marine Notes.

The steamer Fred Pabst overran 4007 bushels on a cargo of wheat from Gladstone to Buffalo. This is the largest overrun ever reported on the lakes, and if the steamer is paid for the wheat, as is usual, she will net a handsome sum and make her freight list the largest of the season. The elevator at Gladstone was burned the other day, so nobody can tell to whom the wheat belonged.

Capt. Robinson, of the schooner Northwest, and crew left today by rail for Cleveland. The crews of the Nimick and Elphicke also went East today. The crews of the Harper and Mitchell departed Sunday.

One of the morning papers did a great injustice to Mate E. Smades, of the Eber Ward, by stating that Dave Smith, of the same boat, who was somewhat frozen while on a spree, was on a toot with Mr. Smades. Nothing could be farther from the truth, for Mr. Smades has the enviable reputation of being a total abstainer and never fails to impress on the men under him the evil of drinking. The truth of the matter is that Smith was on a spree and got the tips of his fingers frozen. While in this condition he happened into Bruder's hotel on Fifth avenue west, where Smades was stopping previous to leaving on today's train for his home. Smades was in the sittingroom and saw Smith when he entered the barroom. Smith had taken a drink when Smades noticed his condition and the latter immediately entered the barroom and took Smith away from the place.

The prop Nicol arrived yesterday from Buffalo covered with a thick coat of ice. Capt. Stewart said he had passed through some of the worst weather on Lake Superior this trip that he had ever experienced in his life. For several hours at one time he did not make a mile against the wind.

INMAN'S IDEA.

The Fire Commissioners Want a Definite Proposition from Him.

Capt. Inman has sent a letter to the Duluth fire commissioners in regard to protecting the docks with an improvised fire tug, and the St. Paul & Duluth and Omaha roads and the fuel companies have also sent letters. The board has instructed the secretary to ask for a definite proposition from Superior and also from Capt. Inman in regard to putting pumps on four or five tugs, and at some date to be decided on they will meet with the captain.

The Superior council and the board of works, it is claimed, will both oppose the Inman proposition. A prominent member of the council says the board of works contemplates the purchase of a fire tug. It is claimed also that a common tug cannot be transformed into a modern fire tug, while the latter, on the contrary, may be readily employed for everything possible in the former.

AT THE CAR WORKS.

Some Remarkably Heavy Cars Being Built for Carrying Steel.

Manager L. G. Matthews, of the Duluth Manufacturing company, states that he is working about 125 men and will put on 30 more tomorrow. The company is just now building some peculiarly designed cars.

It has some on hand that are only 20 feet long but are designed to hold a load of 80,000 pounds, or double a big carload. These will be very low, and are made to the order of the steel barge company for carrying boilers and boiler plate from the works to the new shipyard at Puget sound. These cars are immensely strong and will present an unusual appearance. The company is also building some special design coke cars for hauling coke from the Lehigh ovens to the blast furnace at West Duluth. It has completed some lumber cars of special plan for Merrill & Ring and Mitchell & McClure for use in and about the mills and in the woods. The Merrill & Ring cars for use on the tramways will be double the usual size and will be drawn by an electric motor or by a small locomotive.

The Arnold refrigerator car, just finished, will be given a thorough test in a few days. Poultry, which quickly spoils, will be carried to the Pacific coast and the car will return loaded with fruit from California for the New York market. Afterward it will be tested for fresh pork, beef and vegetables. If it stands these tests, as its owner believes it easily will, the probability is that its manufacture will be entered into on a larger scale.

Tonight's Events.

At city hall—Council meeting.

MASSACHUSETTS IN '92.

The first and only two-act democratic governor of Massachusetts since the war, the young, able, and enthusiastic Wm. E. Russell, contributes to the December Forum an article on the probabilities of Massachusetts in '92 in which he takes a most hopeful democratic view if tariff reform is kept on the skirmish line this winter and forced to the front next year with free silver coinage well obscured in the background. Mr. Russell points out that in the congressional election of 1890 the democrats elected seven of the twelve members of congress and had a plurality of 5000 in the congressional vote of the state while the democratic candidate (himself) was elected by 9000 plurality over his republican competitor. This year with a total vote 36,000 larger than a year ago Mr. Russell was reelected by a plurality of 6467 but the subordinate candidates did not get there with him. Mr. Russell, however, is very modest and claims nothing for his personal popularity. It is therefore probable that he takes a too rosy view.

Had Mr. Cleveland settled in Massachusetts and become her favorite son, and should he secure the nomination on Mr. Russell's platform in '92, then there would be a very reasonable hope of carrying the Old Bay State next year. But only part and perhaps none of these conditions can be fulfilled, and possibly in carrying Massachusetts the party would drop a bigger state. The upheavel of 1890 was a sort of national seasickness that can't be relied on every year; nor is it any sign the crowd has permanently deserted the republican ship. The party overthrow was the result of an attack of acute nausea which a little time may overcome. It was not foreseen, and in politics what is not in some measure foreseen, should not be looked back to as a precedent. Congress had been for months a sort of mob whose doings were exaggerated in the mind of the distant voter, and the verdict given in the heat of a short campaign was such as mobs must expect to get. This year is otherwise, and on an average vote the republicans carried Massachusetts as shown by the following complete returns from the Boston Beacon:

Governor Russell stands at the head of the poll with a grand total of 157,982. Lieutenant Governor Haile is a good second with 157,316 votes, or 776 less than were cast for the governor. Col. William M. Olin, the efficient secretary of state, won third place on the list with 153,586 and Col. Charles H. Allen, of Lowell, the republican candidate, came in fourth with 151,545. Gen. Corcoran, the democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, stood fifth, his vote reaching 145,865, 11,117 less than Governor Russell's vote, and 11,351 less than that cast for his competitor, Lieutenant Governor Haile. The average vote polled by the remaining democratic candidates on the democratic side was 138,438, while the average vote for the corresponding candidates on the republican side was 152,095. This indicates an average republican plurality of 13,567 in the state. Governor Russell's personal popularity, and republican management and disaffection, combined to defeat the party in this year's contest. This is plainly shown in the returns. A surprisingly large vote was cast, reaching 321,673, or 36,147 greater than last year's. The democratic gain was 17,475, and the republican gain 20,061. The prohibition vote showed a decrease of 4556 as compared with last year. In 1890, the cold-water men cast 13,351, while this year, with unusual activity, they could only rally 8963 supporters at the polls.

These figures give but little immediate comfort to the inter-oceanic democracy now looking for other states to conquer, but unless the protection leaders promise New England free raw materials—coal, coke and iron ore—for her manufactories, she will soon turn her face against them, and when she goes she will go to stay.

In the death of Dom Pedro, ex-emperor of Brazil, which occurred in Paris Friday the world loses one of its worthiest rulers. Not only did he emancipate the slaves of his empire, but he ruled his people with gentleness and love. His recent overthrow and ostracism was to prevent the succession of his daughter, whom the Brazilians most heartily dislike, and a desire to be rid of an imperial government, rather than any expression of feeling toward himself. His stalwart form of six feet four will be remembered by those present at the opening of our centennial exhibition when he assisted Gen. Grant in starting the massive Corliss engines. He made a tour of the country at that time.

The Minneapolis Journal gently joins the chorus by remarking that "Duluth is to have another daily paper. Duluth is the greatest newspaper graveyard in the country. Another one was sold at sheriff's sale today." For a healthful climate there have sure enough been a good many journalistic lullabys here in the days agone and the future is likely to be unsurpassed. As it costs only $100 to $150 a day to run little sheets such as we have here now, anyone with a pocket full of pi and half a hatful of sense can start one. A bank account isn't needed. You touch the button and the sheriff does the arrest.

UNSEATING SENATORS.

The talk of bouncing Brice from the Ohio senatorship on the ground that he was not an inhabitant of the state at the time of his election, calls up a few not very modern instances, but such as history affords.

In 1793, about as soon as the government machinery could be lubricated, Pennsylvania sent Albert Gallatin to the United States senate. Albert was a resident of the state all right enough, but he was a native of Switzerland and hadn't been nine years a naturalized citizen of the United States as required by the Jeffersonian Magna Charta, and so the senate sent him back to the Land of Penn from which, however, he soon went to congress. Later, in 1849, another instance is afforded. Gen. James Shields, who had lived in Illinois, but was at that time governor of Washington Territory, and of necessity a resident thereof, was elected to the senate by the Illinois legislature. He immediately resigned his governorship, but as he was not an inhabitant of Illinois at the time of his election the senate refused to seat him. He then returned to his old Illinois home, was immediately re-elected to the senate and seated without question. Still another instance, but this time of seating instead of unseating, is afforded in the case of Gen. Adelbert Ames who was elected from Mississippi and seated by the republican majority in 1870 though he had never voted in that state, had no residence there, and was in the state merely by chance assignment on military duty. The judiciary committee reported adversely on the case, but that didn't change the result, and John Sherman of Ohio voted with the majority though he has sometimes had higher aims. He can hardly vote against Brice.

The printers' union is probably the most cohesive organization of workmen in the United States, and it is also one of benevolence and forethought. The fund started by G. W. Childs and A. J. Drexel a few years ago has been steadily enlarged by the various local unions, and already $32,716.95 has been spent on the printers' home at Colorado Springs, Col., leaving on hand a balance of $19,582.31. The receipts from contributions and assessments for November were $2917.25. Thus organized labor shows its hand as a public benefactor.

The Duluth Roller mill will present a petition to the city council tonight asking for the vacating of what would be the foot of Seventh avenue west if the same hadn't been amputated at Michigan street, in order that the mill may be enlarged to more than double its present capacity. The Roller mill began life in a modest way among us, but has kept grinding and growing till now it must have more elbow room.

The Forestry Reserve.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The petition of those disinterested and benevolent citizens of St. Paul and Minneapolis, praying his excellency the President of the United States to set apart a national park in Minnesota, is before me. I have only been able to finish reading it with one eye, for the other eye has been weeping to find such touching solicitude among men for their fellowmen. If the men of those two towns can so sink their rivalry; can so control their feelings, can so hide their mutual census returns in their coat tail pockets and fall upon each other's necks in the cause of humanity, we may well feel hopeful for mankind and that the beatitudes are "getting there with both feet." Nothing is said in their memorial to the President of the United States about sending a copy of it to her majesty Queen Victoria, but it was probably done nevertheless, as she, too, would be interested, as also her heirs and assigns.

Yes, indeed! why not? hold 6,000,000 acres of land in Minnesota in a wild state "to feed the water sources of our lakes and river." To be sure nine-tenths of that water supply goes at once into Canada, but what of that?—we're generous, we of the Twin Cities. Of course, if any little water could be added to their supply, they would receive it humbly, and launch a little dugout on the friendly wave and push their way from Minneapolis to St. Paul, shouting navigation's open! In wanting the President of the United States to manage this park so as "to supply atmospheric humidity for the benefit of our agricultural industries," I am afraid that their zeal has run away with their discretion. These philanthrophists should bear in mind that we boast of our dry and bracing air in Minnesota, and we do not feel a call to become a wet nurse for any community! As "one of the most beautiful forest retreats in the country," it would doubtless be a blooming success, but until Uncle Jerry Rusk has planted its trackless wastes with the indigenous banana, the ordinary tourist would do well to take his lunch basket along.

The most beautiful and most touching part of their appeal to the President is where they pray him, "to protect the people against the cold winds of the polar regions from beating down upon our treeless prairies, etc." What care, and what solicitude for the people on the treeless prairies, to say nothing of the tourists who might have got tangled up in this polar wind break. I am disappointed that these noble patriots of St. Paul and Minneapolis didn't rise more fully to the occasion on this wind break matter, and I hate awfully to throw a chill suggestion on their warm hearts and only do so most tenderly. In making their proposition they evidently only had their thoughts on protecting the vicinity of Duluth from the cold winds, and they have left all the rest of the country from the Atlantic ocean to the Pacific without their patent wind break and exposed to all the rigors of the weather bureau. We of Duluth wouldn't accept such partiality and will stand boldly forth and ask the President not to let himself be led away by such a sentimental scheme.

M. BRADY.

Duluth, Dec. 4.

Rejected Stars and Stripes.

New York Sun: Four camps of the Patriotic Order of the Sons of America in St. Joseph, Mo., presented a national flag to the High school, and it was to have been hoisted with proper ceremony on Thanksgiving day, but some members of the school board objected on the ground that it might be regarded as a sectarian movement started by a secret order to cultivate in the minds of the pupils certain ideas which patrons believe should not be introduced into an institution of learning.

The Flag and the Church.

Chicago Times: Various and sundry clergymen discoursed Thursday of the enormity of public meetings being held without the display of the American flag. And yet, though political sermons have become matters so common in the sanctuary as to seldom provoke comment, who ever saw the stars and stripes floating above a church?

Sentiment in Socks.

[Rochester Union and Advertiser.]

The valued Morning Herald, in speaking of Carmencita, permits itself to remark that "her hose are of the conventional Spanish yellow silk."

What will the Morning Herald say to the suggestion that "hose" is a commercial word and applies to articles that are for sale in dry goods stores; but that what women wear are stockings? Thus Carmencita may buy yellow "hose," but when she puts them on they are stockings. "Hose" having two meanings, is always liable to suggest a curveless continuity of unvarying diameter, which makes it peculiarly unfit for such use as the Herald puts it to. There is some sentiment about a stocking, particularly when the wearer is in it, but the important thing about hose is whether they are "good value."

The Warship New York.

The warship New York launched at Philadelphia last week will be the sixth government vessel of her name. None of the other New Yorks ever won especial fame, the one which came nearest to it having been the second, a frigate which Capts. John Rodgers and R. V. Morris commanded in the Mediterranean during the early part of the century. One was captured by the British during the war of 1812, and two never were put in commission. One of these was an 84-gun line of battle ship which was burned in the Norfolk navy yard at the outbreak of the war. The new one will not be ready for use for more than a year and will then be the most powerful vessel in the navy. She will cost about $4,000,000.

The Ladies of Chicago.

[Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

If you are once introduced to Chicago's fair sex,
If unmarried, you're foolish not to seek an annex.
In mental resources they are simply immense:
They'll talk literature, science and sound common sense,
Or they'll skim o'er the humorist's light frothy sea;
They always go loaded with a pat repartee.
And a day in their presence seems scarcely an hour,
When we're held in their bright conversational power.
For a model of carriage and contour of form,
You've no need to look farther, they'll take you by storm;
And their eyes so bewitching will pierce through your soul
And subject your stout heart to their own soft control;
While their cheeks and their bangs and their lips are so sweet
That the St. Louis editors lie at their feet.

"Present Day Politics."

Rev. Geo. H. Kemp preached last night on politics, taking for a text "Righteousness Exalteth a Nation." Our form of government gives right to all to participate in it and assumes all will do so. No man has any right to complain of the government if he refuses to do his part to make it better. Americans are essentially politicians. The dangers which are apparent are an excess of partisan spirit, though party spirit has many advantages; the prevalent idea of paternal form of government; the idea that any man is fit to hold office; the increasing danger and pernicious influence of the professional politician. The great needs of the day are men of character with a clear view of right and wrong in politics; the duties and powers of the government taught more in our schools; more business men to the front; the principal work of the government for the next 25 years will be questions affecting business. We need to take the civil service out of politics; steady adherence to principles of protestantism and no leaning to Rome. The national capital is enslaved by alienism. This century is not one of fulfillment, but of illimitable promise; any conception of government without God is doomed to failure.

"The Atlanta Campaign."

Professor John F. Downey is one of most accomplished members of the brilliant faculty of the University of Minnesota. He is a scientist, an historian and a popular platform speaker. On Saturday evening next, Dec. 12, Professor Downey will deliver in the Temple Opera house, for the benefit of the Duluth High School Lecture association, a lecture entitled "The Atlanta Campaign." The effort is said to be Professor Downey's happiest, and he could have, perhaps, selected no better topic for the occasion. His description of "The Atlanta Campaign" is said to be graphic and the lessons of patriotism and heroism the story teaches the lecturer expresses in elegant diction. President Northrup, of the University of Minnesota, Professor David Swing and Professor Tolman, the microscopist, of Chicago, have been engaged by the association.

KAHN'S

CLOAKS CLOAKS

OUR MARINE SEASON.

It is Finally Closed Later Than Ever Before by the Arrival of Two Steamers at Duluth on Sunday.

The Year Began in the Deepest Gloom and Ends in High Prosperity for the Vessel Owners.

Enormous Possibilities of Lake Commerce as Compared With the Railways; Bright Outlook for Next Year.

The marine season that closed Sunday on the arrival of the whaleback steamer A. D. Thomson with a cargo of coal from Buffalo has been the most remarkable ever experienced on the great lakes. It began in gloom but it ends in the highest carrying charges ever paid since the lake business has been carried on by modern vessels.

Between these extremes have been many ups and downs. Early last spring the vessel outlook was so dull that owners made an agreement not to start their vessels till May 15, and a great many gave it out that they would not start at all. There were 2,000,000 tons of unsold iron ore on the Lake Erie docks, shipments for the season did not promise at all well, there was no grain to go forward and the general business situation was most unfavorable. It was not long before the boats that had gone into commission were carrying wheat from Duluth to Buffalo at 1½ cents a bushel, a figure that did not meet running expensee and fixed charges.

After a time the iron ore trade began to look up, and vessels were taken out of the grain trade. General business grew better, but it was July before the freight rates were lifted off the bottom. Then it looked like a rush of business, for the winter wheat crop was the biggest ever harvested, there was a good movement of lumber and ore and the vessel men thought the grain movement out of Chicago would keep them busy. In this they were mistaken. Farmers through the central west, either following the "hold-your-wheat" circular or for some other reason, did not send their grain along and rates flattened out till the spring wheat crop of the Dakotas and Minnesota began to move late in September.

Then came the flood of grain and every vessel that could be secured was pressed into service to move the crop from this city to Buffalo. Manitoba, also, had a surplus and the elevators at Fort William, on the north shore, did a business that surprised them. This grain flood has now extended to Chicago and Buffalo. At the former there is a car famine, at the latter the elevators are blocked with Duluth wheat and 5,000,000 bushels are afloat in the harbor absolutely unable to get unloaded. Had this movement of wheat begun from Chicago in August as it did from Duluth in September, vessel owners would now be dividing the largest profits in five good years. As it is they have made an average of at least 15 per cent. The season closed with wheat rates from Duluth to Buffalo at 9½ cents a bushel, in which there is a margin of profit of at least seven cents, or about $2.35 a ton. As the average large vessel will carry 2000 tons a trip of a week's duration, the profits in the business are not hard to estimate. Fort William paid as high as 12 cents a bushel for late grain, vessels demanding that difference if obliged to load away from Duluth.

The capacity of terminal elevators at Duluth and Superior and of the lake steamers has been shown in the business done. They have dumped grain into Buffalo at such a rate as to choke up elevators, trunk lines of railway and canals, while every line of railway between Chicago and the seaboard would have been blockaded if they had been obliged to carry the business sent forward from this city.

Local coal trade has been large and the freight rates have fluctuated from 60 cents early in the year down to 10 cents later, while many cargoes have actually been carried free—just for the fun of the thing. Coal receipts at the head of the lakes, by five companies, have aggregated about 1,800,000 tons. A considerable amount of lumber, about 15,000,000 feet, has been shipped East during the year, while the merchandise business has been very large. Wheat shipments have amounted to 32,500,000 bushels, while package freight business has been enormous.

Never before has the marine season remained open so late. Once a flour-laden vessel left here Dec. 2, but it was under most peculiar circumstances. This year a vessel clears on the 5th and two arrive on the 6th.

The outlook for a tremendous business on the great lakes next year could not be brighter than it is now. The great crops of the West are far from moved, there is no unsold iron ore on Eastern docks, the iron trade is large and reviving, coal stocks are expected to be entirely consumed, and a great merchandise traffic is looked for. To care for this the shipyards, which expected to do no work, are busy. More tonnage is contracted for the lakes than all the rest of the American marine combined. The new boats contracted for already are about 75,000 tons capacity, and are nearly all fast steamships They together are equal to the entire lake fleet of 20 years ago.

THE ZENITH A SHIPPER.

It Will Send a Good Deal of Ore to the Market in 1892.

The Zenith Iron Mining company now has a shaft down 130 feet in the ground and is drifting across the vein, which is 40 feet thick and seems to have no bottom. The company now have about all their legal complications settled and are ready to get down to business. H. M. Bradley, one of the most prominent stockholders, in talking about the mine said that they would ship next year, although just how much he didn't know.

"Will you ship 25,000 tons?" he was asked.

"If we didn't expect to do better than that we would leave things just as they are."

Cleveland parties have for a short time back been negotiating with the company for the purchase of their output, but Mr. Bradley says the company do not care to sell in that way as they can undoubtedly get 50 cents a ton more by shipping themselves and giving the furnace men an opportunity to try the ore, which assays between 66 and 67 per cent pure iron.

The Vermilion range will be a great ore shipper next season, as the Pioneer and Zenith will undoubtedly turn out considerable, and the Sheridan is also expected to ship. The Minnesota and Chandler will both increase their output. The million-ton mark out to be lett far in the rear by this range. Besides, great things are expected from the Mesaba range.

Tonight's Council.

At the meeting of the city council this evening the request of J. C. Hunter for the abatement of a tax penalty will come up. The Duluth Roller mill will also ask to be allowed the use of the end of Seventh avenue west for an elevator, in order that it may double, or perhaps treble, its milling capacity. Messrs. Gill and Wright will be able, if they can use this otherwise useless street end, to put up a 1000 barrel mill.

NEWS FROM MORNING PAPERS.

The Sons of Veterans hrve elected the following officers: Captain, F. E. Austin; first lieutenant, D. C. Reed; second lieutenant, S. N. Barsness; captain, F. Wade; first sergeant; Mr. Heller; second sergeant, Mr. Ten Brook; delegates, Messrs. Heller and Ten Brook; council, Messrs. Holmberg, Brown and Wade.

Some 8400 barrels of illuminating oil have been inported here in three months for home consumption.

Sunday's meeting of the Elks, a "lodge of sorrow" was very impressive and was attended by a large crowd.

A paper road is to run from somewhere north of Duluth to the Gulf of Mexico. A few days ago a company of Missouri men, at Brookfield incorporated the Brookfield & Northern which is to be a link in the chain. None of the incorporators are known as railway men.

Claims West Superior.

G. T. Thomas, an Ashland real estate dealer, has commenced action to gain possession of 300 acres of valuable land in the heart of West Superior. He claims the land under an old title which was supposed to have long ago been destroyed. His action has created much excitement among speculators who have purchased lots which lie within his claim. A large number of buildings have been erected on the land. Thomas has been gathering evidence and material for the last two years to make this move, and it is thought his chances for recovering the valuable tract of land are good. The property is worth $1,000,000.

Regarding Damp Wheat.

Chief Grain Inspector Clausen has written a letter to Chief Deputy Fulton in which he cautions him most particularly in regard to damp wheat. He points out most clearly that there will be great danger in receiving damp wheat from now on because it will be stored for the winter and will get worse instead of better. He furthes says that all such wheat must be classed as no grade until it has been put into first class condition.

A New Fort William Elevator.

Fort William is to have another wheat elevator and the Canadian Pacific railroad will begin work on it this week. It is estimated that the present storage capacity of Fort William and Port Arthur, as well as of small elevators along the road in Manitoba is 9,000,000 bushels. The new elevator will increase Fort William's 3,500,000 capacity to 4,500,000. About one-seventh of the export business of Manitoba is via Duluth.

Suicide or Drowning.

The body of a man was washed ashore at Two Harbors this morning. A coroners inquest, which was at once held, proved to be the body of one Harris, who was missed a month ago when men who had been at work on the government breakwater came back to Duluth. A verdict: "Suicide or accidental drowning was rendered." Harris left a family in Sweden.

The sheriff will sell 1,500,000 feet of lumber from the Huntress & Brown mill on Dec. 16, and will probably use the proceeds to pay off some of the outstanding claims of that firm, about $7000 of which is due to West Duluth parties.

Saturday afternoon Foreman John Cashin, of the Huntress & Brown mill, met with a painful accident, and was taken to St. Marys hospital. While at work in the mill he was struck in the abdomen by a piece of 4 by 4 that was thrown from the machinery, and while his injuries are not of a fatal nature, it was thought at first that he would die.

Previoys to taking stock, Jan. 1, and the important change to be made in my business soon after, I will have a general clearing sale, to begin at once, on my entire stock of dry goods, notions, ladies' and men's furnishing goods, cloaks and shawls, blankets, comforters, window shades, lace curtains, draperies, oil cloths, ladies', men's, misses', boys' and children's shoes and rubbers, in fact everything in stock. My prices during this sale will be lower than you can buy these goods for elsewhere, and it will be to your interest to call and examine my bargains offered. I can save you money. N. C. Hendricks.

A Fine Scraper Patent.

J. S. Palmer, of this place, has invented a street scraper that is ahead of anything of the kind ever made. The work is done by a number of small scrapers that are moveable, and are held in place by springs that allow of clean work being done over very rough roads. Mr. Palmer has applied for a patent and has already manufactured one of the machines and given it a thorough test and demonstrated that it is the best scraper in the world.

The Furnace Troubles Over.

An alarm of fire was turned in from the blast furnace this morning and gave the department a lively run down Central avenue to the works, where it was learned that the furnace had blown out its cinder hole and that their service was not needed. All the chilled iron is now out of the furnace and everything in good running order. Several cars of pig iron are on the track ready for shipment and the furnace is running with a full crew of men.

Take a Week Off.

The promise of the springtime in this Northwest has been gloriously redeemed in the harvest of the early autumn. Wheat exceeded even the expectations of the man who has farm lands to sell. The European crops were in great part failures. The Northwestern farmer has been feeling pretty well. Have you had a share of this prosperity, or are you like the hoop on a barrel—not in it? If you are one of the lucky ones, why not take a few weeks off this winter, and make a visit to the old home, or a trip to Florida, Louisiana, California or Mexico? Nothing will do so much to enliven a man and furnish him with a supply of amusing and happy remembrances as a journey, especially to countries different from his own. To the American, Mexico is a revelation, in productions, climate, customs, and the evidences of a former high civilization, so all that the discovery of Columbus would be an event of yesterday in comparison. To start right on any such trip, call on the nearest ticket agent of "the Burlington," for tickets and information, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

SHERIFF'S EXECUTION SALE—

Under and by virtue of an execution issued out of and under the seal of the District Court of the state of Minnesota, in and for the Eleventh Judicial District, and county of St. Louis, on the 12th day of September, 1891, upon a judgment rendered the 2nd day of September, 1891, in an action in the municipal court of the city of Duluth, state of Minnesota and docketed in said court and county in an action therein, wherein Alfred J. Frantz was plaintiff and Neil McLachlan defendant, in favor of said plaintiff and against said defendant, for the sum of forty-eight and 93-100 ($48.93) dollars, which said execution has to me, as sheriff of said St. Louis county, been duly directed and delivered, I have levied upon and will sell at public auction, to the highest cash bidder, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, in said county of St. Louis, on Monday, the 14th day of December, 1891, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all the right, title and interest that the above named judgment debtor had in and to the real estate hereinafter described, on the 12th day of September, 1891, that being the date of the docketing of said judgment, the description of the property being as follows, to-wit:

The undivided one-half (½) of lot nine (9) and all of lot eleven (11), block eighteen (18), Bay Front division 1st rearrangement, Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., 23rd day of October, 1891.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas defanlt has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, dated the 8th day of August, A. D. 1889, duly executed and delivered by Catherine C. Nolan and John Nolan, her husband, mortgagors to the Duluth Building and Loan association, mortgagee, and filed for record in the office of the register of deeds for St. Louis county, Minnesota, on the 22nd day of August, A. D. 1889, at ten o'clock and 15 minutes in the forenoon of said day, and duly recorded in book "R" of mortgages, on page 445, by which default a power of sale contained in said mortgage has became operative.

And whereas there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of the first publication of this notice the sum of two thousand two hundred and seventy-two 03-100 dollars ($2272.03) principal, interest and fines for non-payment of principal and interest when due, besides the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) attorneys fees stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure; And whereas no proceeding or action at law or otherwise has been commenced or instituted to foreclosure said mortgage, or to collect said debt or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described by the sheriff of St. Louis county, Minnesota, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, at the front door of the court house, at the city of Duluth, in said county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on Tuesday, the fifth day of January, A. D. 1892, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the said mortgage debt, interest and fines, and the interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on the amount now claimed to be due from the date of this notice to the time of sale, said attorney's fees and the disbursements allowed by law.

The premises to be sold are described as follows: Beginning at the northwest corner of lot "A," of Bailey's re-arrangement of block twenty-nine (29), Hunter's Grassy Point Addition to Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof, thence easterly along the south line of Front street one hundred feet, thence southerly on a line parallel with the east line of Monroe avenue one hundred feet, thence westerly on a line parallel with the south line of Front street one hundred feet to the east line of Monroe avenue, thence northerly along the east line of Monroe avenue to the place of beginning, all in St. Louis county, Minnesota.

Dated Duluth, October 26th, 1891.

Nov-23-30, Dec-7-14-21-28.

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by John F. Segog and Archibald A. Hall, mortgagors, to Henry A. Kuchli and Ernest R. Jefferson, mortgagees, dated the sixteenth day of April, A. D. 1889, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 2:55 o'clock p. m., in book 44 of mortgages, on page 18, such default consisting in the non-payment of the principal and interest monies secured by said mortgage, on which said mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the amount of thirteen hundred and fifty-two dollars ($1352), principal and interest, and no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or in equity to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof: and

Whereas, said mortgage was duly assigned by the said Henry A. Kuchli, mortgagee, to Ernest R. Jefferson, by assignment dated the 7th day of November, 1891, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said St. Louis county on the 10th day of November, 1891, at 8 o'clock a. m., in book 78 of mortgages, on page 598;

Now, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the mortgaged premises therein described, at public auction, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on Thursday, the thirty-first day of December, 1891, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage, with the interest thereon, and costs and expenses of sale, and seventy-five dollars ($75) attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure.

The premises described in said mortgage, and so to be sold, are the lots, pieces or parcels of land situate in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit:

Lots two hundred and forty-two (242), two hundred and forty-four (244) and two hundred and forty-six (246), on Lake avenue, Upper Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof on file in the ofiice of register of deeds in and for said county.

Dated November 16th, 1891.

MORTGAGES DON'T HOLD

It Seems to be a Good Deal of a Job to Get Newspaper Mortgages to Keep From Leaking.

And it Seems From Today's Doings That the Mortgagee of the Tribune Had Poorer Luck Than Usual.

At Any Rate Stockholders and Creditors Are to Try to Knock Out the Redoubtable Jim Hill.

"Gentlemen," said the sheriff of St. Louis county this morning, in addressing a baker's dozen in the Tribune's business office, talking a way that showed it wasn't the first time he had sold a newspaper, "I have just read to you the notice of the sale at which I am now to put the Tribune. In bidding you will please remember that the mortgage amounts to $25,000, and that the terms are strictly cash. Now, don't all bid at once. How much am I offered?"

The sheriff looked at R. C. Mitchell, who sat in one of the windows, expecting him to bid, but no answer came. Several moments went by and no one offered anything. Finally, Judge Spencer, as attorney for J. R. Cleveland, the assignee of the Peters mortgage, offered $28,000. No one else seemed to care about going beyond those figures and in a trice the sheriff had knocked it down to Mr. Cleveland, who sat in the inner room, and who did not faint at the knowledge of his good fortune.

This means that James J. Hill, the Great Lorthern railway president, who by the Peters mortgage has virtually been owner of the Tribune for three years back, is still in control and also that F. J. Chipman will remain at the head of the institution. Mr. Chipman, when approached by a Herald man, said that his policy would be to cut down expenses at once and to that end he will assume editorial charge, leaving the business end in charge of Mr. Dunn, who lately became connected with the paper.

But there is prospect of some trouble for the people who by today's sale obtained control. Just before the sheriff opened the sale J. B. Cotton, attorney for Mr. Dowling, the chief stockholder, and the only man who put much cash in the paper, appeared and handed the sheriff a document, which he asked him to read aloud. This document was a notice that he must not sell the name of either the Duluth Tribune, the Duluth Weekly Tribune or the Duluth Sunday Tribune, or the goodwill of either paper or the material acquired by the concern after the Peters mortgage was executed, as none of these were included in that mortgage. On this protest Mr. Dowling will base a fight. If he wins he and the other stockholders and creditors will have gained considerable, for the name and good will are about all there is to the institution outside its franchise.

It will be remembered that last April, when a mortgage held by M. B. Harrison on the then Herald was foreclosed, the creditors, outside the mortgage, thought they could save something on their claims and so did not allow the name and good will to go with the mortgage. As a result the purchasers started the Post with a portion of the old Herald's material, while The Herald went on after being sold to a new company by those creditors who would have been left in the cold altogether under the mortgage. This is exactly the same idea Mr. Dowling believes he can push through.

An examination of the mortgage shows that the lawyer who drew it up made a bungling job of it. It says that H. W. Mitchell and F. J. Chipman give a mortgage to Peters which covers among other things the "morning franchise of the Western Associated press and the name and good will of said newspaper," but nowhere in the mortgage is any newspaper's name mentioned. Lawyers who have been asked concerning the validity of such a mortgage claims that it gives an excellent opportunity for a fight to knock out the whole thing.

Keeley Cure for Beneficiaries.

J. M. Smith, who is one of the owners of the right for New York state of the Keeley drunkenness cure, leaves in a few days with his family to locate near the sanitarium of the company at Whiteplains, on the Hudson. The New York right has proved an extremely profitable thing for the Duluthians who are interested in it. It is probable that the owners of the New York right will establish two or three other sanitariums in other parts of the state, and Mr. Smith may be at one of these. Perhaps one of the other Duluthians interested may also go East soon.

An Excellent Official Goes.

G. F. Copeland, general superintendent of the St. Paul & Duluth has resigned. His office will be abolished and in its place will be established the office of master of transportation, to which place E. L. Brown, chief train dispatcher, has been appointed. J. R. Michaels will succeed Mr. Brown. Mr. Copeland will accept a more important position on the Northern Pacific. He has been with the company since '83 and has been a most efficient officer, besides winning great popularity with the public. Mr. Brown is also a most capable man.

It appears from analyses made by English and German chemists that the cocoas made by the Dutch process contain a considerable percentage of alkalies and other chemicals, which are introduced for the purpose of giving apparent smoothness and strength to the decoction. The use of chemicals can be readily detected by the peculiar odor from newly-opened packages, and also from a glass of water in which a small quantity of chemically treated cocoa has been placed and allowed to remain for several days. For more than 100 years the house of Walter Baker & Co. have made their cocoa preparations absolutely pure, using no patent process, alkalies or dyes.

Deputy Sheriff Hanson yesterday received word from Moorhead saying that his brother Erick, who is mayor of that town, was quite sick. This morning he received a telegram that he was dead. The deputy left for Moorhead this afternoon.

A. R. Macfarlane, who went to Scotland with his sister-in-law, Miss Hunter, a few weaks ago, will return about Jan. 1. He writes back that they had an exceedingly tempestuous voyage across. Mr. Macfarlance went over to attend the bedside of his mother, but she died some time before he reached her home.

LODGE OF SORROW.

The Duluth Elks Pay Their Annual Tribute to the Dead.

Tender and impressive were the sorrow services held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the lodge room in the Hunter block by the local lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The public was invited to attend, and quite a number of ladies were among the interested spectators. The members assembled in the room to the music of the "Dead March in Saul." The services were conducted by Exalted Ruler Albert P. Ridgely, who, after the opening exercises, which included an ode sung by the lodge and prayer by Rev. C. C. Salter, called upon J. B. Cotton, who delivered an eloquent and touching eulogy, at the close of which E. C. Jones. Fred Segrist and Fred Reynolds sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Mr. Salter, followed with a brief but earnest tribute to the dead, the trio sang "He is Gone," and after the closing formalities of the lodge the audience was dismissed with the doxology.

Was It a Fake?

Smith, Farwell & Steele say no! That elegant $225 chamber suit actually was sold Saturday for $165. They have a $90 side board in the window this week which will be reduced $5 per day until sold. And say if it is not sold inside of 18 days will not cost the party who calls for it one cent.

CLOTHING FOR THE POOR.

Humane Agent Haskins Finds Many Children Destitute of Clothes.

Humane Agent Haskins wishes to urge all people who have old or spare clothing of any sort for boys or girls to send it to him or let him know and he will send for it. He finds many children in great destitution, and ladies have offered their services to make up anything he can bring them. An opportunity for doing good is thus afforded which the warm-hearted people of Duluth will not neglect. Drop him a postal card or send him a bundle of clothes.

Duluth Market.

TAKES THE CHAIR

Chas. Frederick Crisp, of Georgia, is Seated as Speaker of the House.

The Senate Talks of Contests, Swears in a Few, and Goes to Lunch.

The Democratic Executive Committee Sets Jan. 21 as the Date of Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The executive committee of the national democratic committee met at the Arlington hotel this morning and decided to call a meeting of the full committee in Washington Jan. 21, to decide upon the place for holding the national convention in 1892. Most of the members of the executive committee were on hand.

The House.

The crowd in the galleries when the house was called to order was as largd as that of yesterday. After the reading of the journal Mr. Holman moved the election of a speaker and nominated Charles F. Crisp, of Georgia. Mr. Henderson, of Illinois, chairman of the republican caucus, placed Mr. Reed in nomination amid applause among the republicans and in the galleries. Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, nominated Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, the candidate of the farmers alliance. When Mr. Mills and Mr. Springer voted for Crisp the democrats applauded the clerk announced that Mr. Crisp had received 228 votes, Mr. Reed 83 and Mr. Watson 8, and that Mr. Crisp was duly elected. The clerk appointed Mr. Mills and Mr. Reed to escort Mr. Crisp to the chair, where Mr. Holman administered the oath of office. There was much hand-clapping and cheering. Mr. Crisp on taking the chair thanked the representatives for the honor, and said he would endeavor to discharge his duties with courtesy, with fairness and impartiality, and added: "Let us unite in the hope that our labors here may result in the advancement of the prosperity, honor and glory of our beloved country."

The speaker then called on Chaplain Milburn for prayer, after which the members were sworn in.

The subordinate nominees of the democratic caucus were then elected. After drawing seats the house at 3:15 adjourned.

The Senate.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, who was absent when his name was called yesterday, came forward and took the oath of office on his reelection. The vice-president laid several annual reports before the senate. A question as to the priority of consideration of the contested cases from Florida and Idaho arose. The Florida case stood first on the list, but Mr. Hoar contended that as Mr. Dubois had the governor's credentials he had priority under the rules. This point was sustained and oath administered to the youthful-looking senator without objection, Senator Paddock, of Nebraska, escorting him to the desk.

On the suggestion of Mr. Hoar, who said that while there was in his opinion a very strong prima facie case in favor of the immediate seating of Mr. Call of Florida, there were facts in the case upon which it was perhaps desirable to have the committee on privilege and elections make a formal report, the credentials of Mr. Davidson and all the papers in his case were referred to that committee. Mr. Call was then sworn in on his prima facie case without objection.

On motion of Mr. Hale, of Maine, a similar course was taken with regard to the papers in the contest of Mr. Claggett against Senator Dubois, of Idaho. At 12:30 the senate took a recess until 2 p. m., at which hour it reconvened and received notice that the house had appointed its share of a joint committee to wait upon the President. Blount, Mills and Reed were appointed on the part of the house.

The senate at 3:40 adjourned.

Sullivan Slugged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec 8.—John L. Sullivan departed for Southern California yesterday in a state of helpless drunkenness. He came to the ferry boat in a hack and was lugged on board like a sack of wheat. Sullivan bore evidence of having been in a fight. It is said that Ashton and Sullivan got into an altercation over their cups at Sausilato yesterday. Ashton was, comparatively sober, while John L. was drunk. Words led to blows and the "big fellow" was knocked down, but arose, and a rough and tumble fight ensued, in which Ashton got the better of it. Friends rushed in and separated the pair and John was finally persuaded to go home.

The Buffalo Wheat Blockade.

BUFFAKO, Dec. 8.—The worst of the harbor wheat blockade appears to be over. It is here yet and there is fully 3,000,000 bushels not able to be put into elevators so far, but the big fleets that kept pouring in every day are a thing of the past, so that the elevators will have a good chance to get even gradually. Tally men say that in two weeks the harbor will be fairly cleared. Considering the condition of the elevators and the lack of cars to move Duluth and Chicago grain east, it is astonishing how well they have kept up wito the work.

Supreme Court Holiday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Chief Justice Fuller announced in the supreme court yesterday afternoon that the court will adjourn on Monday, Dec. 21, until Jan. 4 for the usual holiday recess. Opinions will be delivered and motions heard on Monday, the 21st inst., and any case which may be under argument will be finished, but no case will be taken up for argument on that day.

AN EXCITING SCENE.

The Columbus City Jail Containing Many Prisoners Partly Burned.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 8.—Fire broke out in the city jail at 2:45 this morning, quickly spreading through the two upper stories of the prison, and the volume of water thrown drenched the entire building, soaking the cell rooms beneath. Of the 111 prisoners 11 were females, and during the height of excitement it was thought best to turn these out. The female prisoners were let loose, and notwithstanding the cells were being drenched, the male prisoners, although they yelled lustily for liberty, were kept locked up. The firemen assured the police that there was no danger of the fire reaching the cell rooms, and on this assurance the police refused to let the male prisoners out. The scene was one of indescribable excitement and hundreds of people gathered outside the prison and cried vociferously for the release of the unfortunates within. The spectators feared the flames would reach the cell rooms, but on being assured by Chief Heinmiller that the prisoners were not in danger, ceased their demands that the prisoners be released and turned in with a will to assist the firemen with their work. The blaze was confined to the upper floors of the prison. Loss, $10,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

MINISTER MATTA,

And Other Things That Are the Matter in Chile.

SANTIAGO, Dec. 8.—A communication was sent to Minister Egan Saturday by the president of the chamber of deputies requesting permission to serve citations on the refugees now in the American legation, against whom indictments have lately been found by congress. Mr. Egan wrote to Foreign Minister Matta asking him by what authority the president of the chamber of deputies sent such a communication to him. He said he did not recognize the right of the president to communicate with him except through the foreign office. Senor Matta apologized, but made a similar request, to which Mr. Egan replied that the request was not admissible unless he received specific instructions from the United States government as the refugees were in the legation under extra-territorial rights. A large number of arms are missing from the barracks here and it is feared that some conspiracy is on foot.

Edgegeld County Again.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 8.—Dick Lundy, colored, was shot to death in jail in Edgefield county yesterday by a mob for the murder of James Ouzts, son of the sheriff of the county. The murder occurred last Saturday night. Lynching was expected all day and an immense crowd gathered in town. The governor was notified of the fact and called out the Edgefield rifles. The lynching occurred, however, before the orders reached the place. The governor has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the chief of the leaders and $25 each for the accessories.

Prince Victor's Betrothal.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—There was a great gathering of royalty at Marlborough house yesterday afternoon, the London residence of the prince of Wales. The occasion for this gathering together of princes and princesses, presided over by the queen herself was a family celebration of the betrothal of his Royal Highness Prince Albert Victor to his third cousin the Princess Victoria of Teck, The Teck family reached Marlborough house at about 2 p. m. and the queen arrived at the same place at 4 o'clock. The royalties were cheered, the Princess Victoria of Teck being well received.

Wicked Wreckers.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 8.—A determined attempt was made to wreck the Indianapolis accommodation train on the Vandalia road ten miles east of here about 6 o'clock last evening. A farmer found several men fastening ties between the rails and when he opposed their action the men drove him away. He got a lantern and ran to meet the train. He signalled it, but not in time to wholly check its speed. The cow-catcher was broken but the engine remained on the track. The men who placed the ties on the track escaped, but they are known. It is said they had a grudge against the company.

She Was Dead.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Charles B. Bliss, of East Maine, drove to town yesterday with a span of horses. On the way home the horses were frightened by the puffing of an engine and ran a mile before being stopped. Mrs. Bliss was found holding the reins, but neither moved nor answered when spoken to. She was dead. A physician said her death was due to fright.

The Grip Closes an Academy.

PLAINFIELD, Conn., Dec. 8.—The grip appeared a month ago and nine-tenths of the residents have since been its victims. There are now over 200 cases in town. It is also epidemic in many towns in the vicinity. In Colchester there are hundreds of cases. Bacon academy was closed yesterday on account of the epidemic. Many towns in Rhode Island have a large number of cases.

Swiss Railroad Purchase Lost.

BERNE, Dec. 8.—Dr. Ewelti, president of the national council of the federal assembly and chief of the department of posts and railroads, has resigned owing to the fact that the administration's proposition to purchase the Swiss railroads has been defeated.

A British Bank Suspends.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A dispatch from Colchester says that Messrs. Bawtree, Dawnay and Curzleu's bank of that city has suspended payment pending arrangements which are being made with another bank for the resumption of their business.

Should Try the Plurality Plan.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Dec. 8.—An election was held here yesterday for mayor, but resulted in no choice. The vote stood: Pond, dem., 788; Rotheier, rep., 628; Getchell, ind., 553; Gilbert, pro., 59. The council is largely republican.

Along the Isthmus.

PANAMA, Dec. 8.—Acting President Holquin sent word yesterday that Nunez has gained a victory in every department of the republic save two, and denying the rumors of revolution in the interior of the republic.

PAY THE POLICY.

The English Court of Appeals Says the Maybrick Life Insurance Must be Paid.

The Decision Will be Famous as it Establishes a Life Insurance Precedent.

The Wording of the Will Played a Prominent Part in the Celebrated Case.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The court of appeal today held that the Mutual Reserve Fund Life association was liable for the payment of a $10,000 life insurance policy effected by the late James Maybrick in favor of his wife, an American lady now in prison under a life sentence, after having been found guilty of causing his death by administering poison to him, provided the wife does not benefit by the payment. This decision has been awaited with great interest by insurance companies throughout the world, and it establishes a precedent in law affecting life insurance.

The suit just decided was that of "Slaver and others vs. the Mutual Reserve Fund Life association" and it has been in the court for many months past. The litigation arose out of the famous "Maybrick murder" case and was brought by the trustees of the late Mr. Maybrick's estate against the insurance association referred to, the latter having refused to pay the amount of the policy on various legal grounds, the substance of which was that the divisional court held that it must be taken that Mrs. Maybrick murdered her husband and that the assignee and executors sued as trustees for her and could be in no better position than she herself would be in, and that it was not in accordance with the policy of the law that she should be enabled to recover money payable on an event brought about by her own felonious act. Against this decision the trustees appealed and a long legal battle, in which the wording of the will of the unfortunate gentleman played an important part, was the result. This will, dated March 25, 1882, which was made a part of the case in court was as follows:

"In case I die before having made a regular and proper will in legal form, I wish this to be taken as my last will and testament. I leave and bequeath all my worldly possessions of whatever kind or description including furniture, pictures, wines, linen and plate, life insurance, cash, shares—in fact everything I possess—in trust with my two brothers, Michael Maybrick and Thomas Maybrick for my two children, James Chandler Maybrick and Gladys Evlyn Maybrick. The furniture I desire to remain intact, and to be used in furnishing a home which can be shared by my widow and children, but the furniture is to be the childrens'. I further desire that all moneys be invested in the names of the above trustees (Michael and Thomas Maybrick) and the income of same used for the children's benefit and education, such education to be left to the discretion of said trustees. My widow will have for her portion of my estate the policies on my life—£500 with the Scottish Widow's fund and £2000 with the Mutual Reservice Life Insurance association, both policies being made out in her name. The interest on this £2500, together with the £125 which she receives from her New York properte will make a provision of about £225, a sum although which small will yet be the means of keeping her respectably. It is also my desire that my widow shall live under the same roof with the children so long as she remains my widow. If it is legally possible I wish the £2500 of life insurance on my life in my wife's name to be invested in the names of said trustees, but that she should have the sole use of the interest thereon during her life time, but at the death of the principal to revert to said children, James Chandler and Gladys Evlyn Maybrick.

A Clever Draw.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—The four-round boxing match between Professor John H. Clark and Walter Campbell at the Ariel club last evening, resulted in a draw after one of the cleverest exhibitions ever witnessed in this city. It was a scientific bout from start to finish, neither man doing much with his right hand except to guard or parry. Campbell did the greater part of the leading.

A Texas Trust.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 8.—Last night E. Bauman, wholesale and retail dealer in dry goods and clothing, filed a deed of trust with J. B. Sampson, of Dallas, as trustee, conveying all merchandise, fixtures, etc., in his two stores, situated in Dallas and Fort Worth, to secure preferred creditors to the amount of $197,081.

THE LAST BALLOT.

How Crisp Plucked the Persimmons in a Straight-away Race.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Stahlnecker, of New York, deserted Mills for Crisp on the twenty-ninth ballot last night. At the end of that ballot and before the thirtieth was begun McMillin entered the caucus and withdrew, but he did not express any preference. When the ballot was taken he voted for Mills. Crisp was nominated by Springer then throwing his votes to him.

McMillin's announcement fell like a thunderbolt from a clear sky and for a moment the members present were taken back. He said he withdrew in the interest of party harmony. The McMillin men divided between the two leaders—seven going to Crisp and 11 to Mills. Mr. McMillin also voted for Mills and he was loudly applauded by the Texan's followers. When the last name had been called it was found that Crisp had 113 votes—lacking one of nomination. Before the result of the ballot was announced, Mr. Springer, who had been waiting in the lobby, entered the caucus and called out to Chairman Holman: "I desire to have my name called. This was the signal for an outburst of applause and when the clerk had called Mr. Springer's name and he had responded, "I vote for Charles F. Crisp," the Crisp men broke loose in one wild unrestrained yell. They mounted on desks and chairs and yelled at the top of their voices. Books and handkerchiefs and pieces of paper were thrown into the air and for a few minutes pandemonium reigned supreme. Crisp men hugged each other in joy and shouted out words of congratulation that were lost in the wild uproar of voices. Out in the ante-room of the committee on appropriations, where Judge Crisp was sitting, surrounded by supporters who were not members, the news was brought with the shout of the crowd inside the lobby door. Cheer after cheer went up from the crowd and it was taken up by those inside the Crisp headquarters. Several changes of Springer's followers raised Crisp's vote to 119.

Ex-Representative Kerr of Pennsylvania was nominated by acclamation for clerk of the house. Ex-Representative Yoder of Ohio was nominated for sergeant-at-arms and Ex-Representative Turner of New York for doorkeeper of the house.

BLOWUP AT BUFFALO.

Life is Lost in a Sawdust Gas Explosion.

BUFFALO, Dec. 8—At 7 o'clock this morning an explosion occurred in the boiler room of the Lee, Holland & Co.'s planing mill on Court street, causing the death of one man and the injury of several others. The 300 employes had just begun work when fire was discovered in the sawdust under the boilers. The furnaces are fed with this sawdust, which is gathered by a system of blowers. The employes had just succeeded in extinguishing the flames when a loud explosion was heard. The big wall fell out with a crash and the roof of a passage-way fell in upon a score of mill hands who had been at work on the flames. Five of them were caught. The fire department was summoned and the work of rescue was hurriedly begun. In half an hour the imprisoned men had been pulled out. Louis Loesch was dead, his head was crushed in, Peter Wutz, a Pole, was severely scalded, Nick Brader was unconscious from severe injuries, Martin Volk, a boy had his leg broken. The others were only slightly injured. The explosion is believed to have been caused by the generating of gas in the sawdust as it was sucked into the pipes which carry it to the furnaces. The loss will reach $15,000.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Paris — Minister Reid telegraphs Blaine: Have pleasure to report that the president yesterday promulgated the law fixing the duty on pork, and today published the decree repealing from this date the prohibit of on pork, which has existed in France since 18th of February, 1881.

Witchita—The arrest of F. J. Bellu, late deputy clerk of court on a charge of forgery, has stirred political circles to their depths. The crime, which is not denied, consisted in forging indorsements of leading business men to a note for $2000 and renewing the forgeries whenever necessary to renew the paper. He is a prominent republican politician.

St. Louis—H. W. Bentley, a prominent attorney, was severely horsewhipped by three men on Chestnut street yesterday. W. B. Harris, one of the men who wielded the whips, claimed that Bentley insulted his wife on Saturday last.

Washington—Secretary of War Proctor has formally resigned to take his seat in the senate as the successor of Edmunds.

St. Paul—Stephen Olson, a farmer, accompanied by his daughter, a young lady about 23 years of age, left Hallock, Minn., Friday, to drive to their home about six miles northeast of Drayton, N. D. Yesterday their bodies were found, both having been frozen to death in the blizzard that raged at that time.

New York—Tom Kallahan, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, defeated Billy Kenny in the third round last night. They are featherweight fighters.

RECEIPTS ARE SMALL.

But They Will Soon Pick up Again Grain men Say.

During the past week it has been a noticeable fact that Minneapolis receipts of wheat have been much larger than those at Duluth, whereas for several months the situation has been just the reverse. A Herald representative called on several board of trade men and inquired as to the possibility of a continuance of this state of affairs. They all agreed that Duluth would increase her daily receipts and that Minneapolis would lower hers. As one man put it:

"You see the fact that navigation has closed has made a great many of the farmers think that Duluth couldn't take care of the wheat for lack of an export demand and so they have sent to Minneapolis instead. They are greatly mistaken. We can take care of all they send and we ought to be getting more wheat today than Minneapolis because our market is a cent higher. Minneapolis can't use it in her mills as fast as she is receiving and so it's only a matter of a short time before she must let up.

"There's another thing that holds back the wheat receipts of Duluth—the storing in country elevators in North Dakota. As soon as spring approaches near you'll see the wheat pouring in from those country elevators. Duluth is going to surprise you most pleasantly yet,"

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Dec. 8.—The storm which was central over the extreme Northwest yesterday morning has moved east and is now over Manitoba with a pressure of 28.78 inches, while an area of high pressure dominates the Southern states. No precipitation has accompanied the northern storm as yet but it has caused high winds all over the section occupied by it.

The temperature has risen nearly everywhere, the lowest reported is at Huron, Dak., and Port Huron, Mich., 22°, the highest is 46° at Denver and 44° at Helena.

The present outlook is for fair and slightly warmer weather for today and tomorrow but there is also a possibility of light snow or rain.

DULUTH, Dec. 8.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m., Dec. 9: Generally fair; slightly warmer.

B. H. BRONSON, Observer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—For Minnesota and the Dakotas: Warmer; fair today with brisk southwesterly winds; local rains and threatening weather are probable for Wednesday, and colder weather by Wednesday night.

CRISP IS CHOSEN.

The choice of Charles Frederick Crisp, of Americus, Georgia, for speaker of the house in the Fifty-second congress, made last night by the democratic caucus, and to be confirmed in open session today, will never be regretted by his party or the country. Mr. Crisp is one of the younger leaders of the democratic party, being only 46 years of age. He was born in Sheffield, England, during a visit of his parents to that country, but came to the Land of the Free the next year. In 1861, at the age of 16 he enlisted in the Confederate army and became lieutenant of Company K, Tenth Virginia infantry with which he served till made a prisoner of war, May 12, 1864. He was released in June, 1865, when the cruel war was over, and immediately returned to his parental home in Georgia, being then only 20 years of age. He read law and was admitted to the bar on reaching his majority in 1866. He began practice at Ellaville, but in 1872 was appointed solicitor general for the southwestern judicial circuit, and in 1873 was reappointed for four years. At the close of his term he was appointed judge of the superior court of the same circuit to fill a vacancy, being elected by the general assembly the following year and in 1880 he was reelected for a full term of four years. In 1882 he resigned his judicial office to become a candidate for congress on the democratic ticket. He was successful, and has been in congress ever since, this being his fifth term.

In personal appearance Mr. Crisp is not at all a Southern gentleman as that term is understood at the North. He is of medium height, plump of body and with a smooth shaven round face as the frontispiece of a large and scantily covered head. It would, indeed, take but a slight caricature to transform his head into that of Tom Reed. He was too young in the bellum days to retain any bitter sectional feelings, and has none of the characteristics of the ideal Southern brigadier. He is a cool-headed man with a well-balanced, judicial mind, and if any criticism were to be offered him as a leader on the floor of the house it is that he should have more of a Texas steerlike aggressiveness. But though slow to wrath, he is when aroused, a forceful and effective speaker, and the one thing longest to be remembered from the last congress is his quotation of Reed's two positions as a minority and majority leader with his closing appeal "from Philip drunk to Philip sober."

Mr. Crisp is such a man as can be trusted by any party or any people. He can be depended upon to do the right, as God gives him to see the right, and we predict that his incumbency will do much to restore to the Northern people a confidence in the new race of Southern men. It was for this reason that The Herald wished to see Crisp succeed and had fondly cherished the hope that he would do so. Mr. Mills of Texas, though possessed of distinguished abilities and a generous but impulsive nature, had been tried and found wanting in some of the elements essential to such restoration. He is more useful on the floor where his long experience with public affairs, quick, axgressive thought and well stored mind make him foremost in a hand-to-hand combat or an unexpected attack from ambush. The prominence of his candidacy will make him chairman of one of the leading committees, probably that of ways and means which he held under the Carlisle speakership and the Cleveland administration. His actions, should he secure this place, would be tempered by the sentiments of Speaker Crisp who though a consistent tariff reformer comes from a mining and manufacturing section of the country and has the confidence of those important interests. The outcome, therefore, seems a most happy one to the whole country, and should the democracy thereby intrench itself in confidence and power as it possibly though not surely may do, the country being content can but forgive.

CHEAP PACKAGE FREIGHT.

The Herald recently mentioned as a matter of news that two or more of McDougall's new whaleback vessels would be commissioned next spring as carriers of package freight between the head of the lake and the East. It is now understood that when this arrangement goes into effect an unclassified rate will be established so that small packages can be sent to or from Duluth at as low as a 10-cent charge. This will prove a very great advantage to jobbers, as also to the general public, and will give the head of the lake a very decided advantage over inland towns. Under the present system all packages are shipped under classified rates, which practically destroys what might become a very extensive traffic. The whalebacks will solve this along with other problems. Thus little by little and day by day the supremacy of Duluth becomes apparent, and those that once thought they were competitors now hide their heads like the ostrich or bear themselves as best they may in suits of sackcloth trimmed with ashes. Duluth the solid and superb looks at night serenely on the stars and at every sunrise has a bigger horizon.

EDUCATIONAL REFORM.

The question what, how and when we shall teach our children is one of the living problems of our time and to it has been given no small amount of thought by both parent and teacher. In the olden time the alliterative trio, readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic, not only occupied first place but quite filled the bill. But with the transformation of the American people from Indian fighters to a civilized race and the gradual development of the refining influences of life has come a constant change in our educational methods. Everyone now desires to possess something beyond and above the bare means of existence, and so the common school curriculum has been greatly enlarged. Many of us are removed from the scenes of the chase and must therefore study natural history. Then, too, in our inventive age and very concrete existence we need to master physics. Refined life demands, also, a larger and richer vocabulary, and the study of the languages has thus become imperative. We are therefore happy to note a recent evidence of educational progress on the part of the Association of Colleges in New England. After mature deliberation the association recommends as follows:

1. The introduction of elementary natural history into the earlier years of the program as a substantial subject to be taught by demonstrations and practical exercises rather than from books.

2. The introduction of elementary physics into the later years of the program as a substantial subject, to be taught by the experimental or laboratory method, and to include exact weighing and measuring by the pupils themselves.

3. The introduction of elementary algebra at an age not later than twelve years.

4 The introduction of elementary plane geometry at an age not later than thirteen years.

5. The offering of an opportunity to study French or German or Latin or any two of these languages, from and after the age of ten years.

This would seem to offer the needful kind and variety of mental food for youthful Americans, and is a happy change from the cramming to the drawing out our developing process. Coming from such a source it is likely to command very general attention. Many things are most readily learned while the mind is young and elastic, and foreign languages to be spoken well must be acquired before the vocal organs are mature. May this educational revolution never roll backwards.

At a meeting of the public library board last evening the question of collecting files of early Duluth newspapers was brought up. The board is anxious to get as complete files of the newspapers of the city from the earliest dates as can be found. Much, in fact most, of the early history is now hidden away in these old newspapers, and any effort to rescue the story of that interesting period from total oblivion should be warmly seconded by the people. The Herald would like to see complete files in possession of the library and believes that the individual owners of these files can be pursuaded to donate them for the use of the public under restrictions the library board will probably be glad to make.

The Herald presents today, six months in advance of the government publication, the traffic of the Sault canal for the season of '91. Although the season did not open till May 15, and the shipment of ore fell off three million tons because of a depressed iron market, the great Northwestern crop resulting in vast shipments of wheat during the closing months almost redeemed the situation and the decline from 1890 is only 1 per cent. This is a very satisfactory showing, and but for the blockade at the canal during the busiest season even this decline would have been overcome.

The administration is threatened with the resignation of John Wanamaker if a show of power is made to coerce Chile. The President is aggressive, even to war if need be, while Blaine is also for blood and John if he so desires will be permitted to go like a wayward sister in peace.

The Two Harbors Iron News thinks "it is about a tie between the newspaper situation in Duluth and the section 30 case."

WHEN Emperor William of Germany recently visited Munich he wrote in the city hall guest book, "The will of the king is the supreme law," and now the people want him to make his will and they'll get a new king.

EVEN if Tom Platt had stolen the New York legislature it would have been only petit larceny. There's nothing grand about it.

Duluth as Seen From Afar.

Under the heading "Duluth," the Philadelphia Bulletin of the Iron and Steel association says: Those of our readers who 20 years ago read Proctor Knott's speech about Duluth enjoyed what was generally supposed to be a rich literary treat. The Kentucky humorist and satirist poked a great deal of fun at "The Zenith City of the Unsalted Seas." Duluth was said to be a myth, or something very near it. It was said to have no future. It was nothing, in fact, but a paper town, the creation of railroad speculators. Everybody believed what the Kentuckian so humorously and satirically declared. Yet Proctor Knott lives to read of Duluth as a great city—one of the most advantageously located and most prosperous of all our growing Western cities. It has made marvelous strides during the last 10 years. It is now the seat of a great inland commerce, both by lake and railroad. It has a rapidly growing population of as wide-awake Americans as are to be found anywhere in this country. It is a city in every respect, and not a town at all, much less a paper town. Its churches and schools, its public buildings and private residences, its hotels and business blocks, its theaters, its chamber of commerce, its public library, its extensive docks and warehouses, its manufacturing establishments, its streets and sidewalks, would honor any city in the country. It promises to become even an iron centre! All hail Duluth! And all hail its saucy little Herald, which so judiciously and gracefully sets forth its merits in figures of speech and in figures of arithmetic and with many handsome illustrations, and is not afraid to print Proctor Knott's speech—nay, prints it to show by its contrast with the beautiful views of a great city that a poor prophet the great Kentuckian was just 20 years ago.

Our Hired Girl.

[James Whitcomb Riley.]

Our hired girl, she's 'Lizabeth Ann;
An' she can cook best things to eat!
She ist puts dough in our pie pan,
An' pours in sompin' an's good and sweet.
An' nen she salts it all on top
With cinnamon; an' nen she'll stop,
An' stoop an' slide it, ist as slow,
In the cook-stove so's 'twon't slop
An' git all spiled: nen bakes it—so
It is custard pie, first thing you know!
An' nen she'll say:
"Clear out o' my way!
They's time for work, and time for play,
Take your dough an' run, child, run,
Er I caint git no cookin' done!"

When our hired girl 'tends like she's mad,
An' says folks got to walk the chalk
When she's around, er wished they had,
I play out on our porch an' talk
To th' Raggedy Man 'at mows our lawn;
An' he says, "Whew?" an' nen leans on
His old crooked scythe, an' blinks his eyes
An' sniffs all 'round 'an says, "I swan!
Ef my old nose don't tell me lies,
It 'pears like I smell custard pies!"
An' nen he'll say:
"Clear out o' the way!"

Take a Week Off.

The promise of the springtime in this Northwest has been gloriously redeemed in the harvest of the early autumn. Wheat exceeded even the expectations of the man who has farm lands to sell. The European crops were in great part failures. The Northwestern farmer has been feeling pretty well. Have you had a share of this prosperity, or are you like the hoop on a barrel—not in it? If you are one of the lucky ones, why not take a few weeks off this winter, and make a visit to the old home, or a trip to Florida, Louisiana, California or Mexico? Nothing will do so much to enliven a man and furnish him with a supply of amusing and happy remembrances as a journey, especially to countries different from his own. To the American, Mexico is a revelation, in productions, climate, customs, and the evidences of a former high civilization, so old that the discovery of Columbus would be an event of yesterday in comparison. To start right on any such trip, call on the nearest ticket agent of "the Burlington," for tickets and information, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

AGAIN THE FORESTS.

Secretary Thompson Unearths a Concurrent Legislative Resolution Petitioning for the Forest Reserve.

The Council Asked to End the Street Railway War Out Woodland Way; It Fixes Out Davis & Cooper.

Library and School Boards Meet; Duluth Will Urge Surveys for a Deep Waterway to the Sea.

At the meeting of the chamber of commerce this morning the forestry matter was the chief topic again and after Secretary Thompson had read an act passed last winter by the legislature the case seemed to take on new importance. This was a concurrent resolution passed in April and it requests and petitions the President of the United States —to whom the power had been delegated by congress—to set apart for a national park such lands along the north boundary of the state between the mouth of Vermilion river and the Lake of the Woods, not less than 40,000 acres, with such provisions for protection against depredations and fires and for reforestation, as will constitute it one of the forest retreats of the country. It was also resolved that the governor, secretary of state board of agriculture, and secretary of state Forestry association be made a Minnesota national park committee, to communicate our views to the President and to secure the survey of the area as soon as possible.

Secretary Thompson thought that the matter looked decidedly as if it was cut and dried and he wanted such action as we could take to be taken at once. Messrs. Mitchell, Cash and others spoke urging action and Mr. Cash evolved a definite plan of action by city, county and commercial bodies here and at all other places in the section particularly affected. Money was appropriated to carry on the work.

A. M. Miller resigned from the directorate of the chamber and Charles Canning was elected to his place.

The standing committees were appointed as follows: Executive; president, secretary, Stearns, Hartley; property and finance, president, secretary, Geggie, Hoover, Richardson; mercantile, Panton, Chapin, Silberstein; manufacturing, Edson, Hirsh, Schmied; legislative, Stearns, Canning, Cash; transportation, Chapin, Mitchell, Moore; harbor, Johnson, Perry; streets and parks, Ray, Buck, Ensign; health and sanitation, Hoover, Hale, Craig; membership, Mitchell, Long, Hoopes; reception, Hartley, Graves; auditing, Panton, Hirsh; mining, Geggie, Hoover, Hale, McKinley, Stowell, Mallet, Tedford, Shannon.

President Baldwin outlined some of the work he thought the chamber ought to do the coming year, especially in the line of jobbing, flouring mills and Minnesota Point terminals.

THE COUNCIL.

How the Street Railway Will Circumvent Richardson; Out of a Bad Hole.

A. B. Jones, S. J. Wetherall, W. M. Roberts and M. B. Harrison, property owners along the new street railway line to Woodland, last night petitioned the city council for the opening of a street from the intersection of Massachusetts avenue and Fourth street to the northwest corner of the nw¼ of section 14-50-14. Fifty-one property owners and residents at Woodland Park asked that the council take favorable action on the petition. The matter was referred to committee. This is through the property partly owned by W. E. Richardson and is designed to circumvent him.

The finance committee reported adversely to J. C. Hunter's request that he be allowed to pay overdue assessments without the 10 per cent penalty, and the report was accepted. It is claimed the passage of the resolution favoring Mr. Hunter last week was illegal. The committee reported on the ordinance relative to cleaning walks of show and ice and the matter was referred to the board of works. About all the sidewalks in the city are included, but the board of works believes the resolution does not provide the best way of getting at the work.

City Attorney Allen reported that the case of Rebecca Raab vs. the city, should be appealed to the supreme court. Mrs. Raab sued for $15,000 and got a verdict of $1250. The board of works recommend that the time of Davis & Cooper's contracts be extended to July, 1892, that the contract of Mitchell & Watson, a sanitary sewer in First alley, be extended to June. The board also recommended that the assignee of Bell & Anderson be paid $861.52 on three Forrestal contracts. The monthly bills and estimates amounting to $26,000 were allowed. The building inspector reported that he had issued 36 permits during November, for which he received $138.

The Public Library.

Monday night the public library board met only long enough to authorize the purchase of some 250 books. Many of these are expansive and rare books such as would not be likely to be available for individual use except through a public library. The monthly report of the librarian showed an average circulation for November of 227 volumes and a greatest of 458. During the month 5449 books were issued and 301 were added to the collection.

The School Board.

At the regular meeting of the school board last night the committee on regulating the sanitary condition of the old High and Jefferson buildings reported progress. Superintendent Denfeld referred to sanitary affairs, saying that the reports of sickness in the schools had been greatly exaggerated. During the first 90 days of the term the cases of diphtheria were divided as follows: Jefferson, 1; Franklin, 11; Jackson, 12; Lincoln, 12. There were two fatal cases in the Franklin and two in the Jackson. The West Duluth schools were exceptionally free from sickness. The building committee was instructed to employ an architect to prepare plans for building additions on the Jackson and Adams schools. Superintendent Denfeld was authorized to have the necessary apparatus for the extension of steam heat throughout the Madison school put in.

Duluth at Detroit.

At today's meeting of the chamber of commerce the Duluth delegation to the Detroit convention was instructed to urge not only the 20-feet depth to lake waterways but the deep channel to the sea. This only so far, however, as to surveys and estimates.

Masonic Officers Elected.

Palestine lodge A. F. and A. M. elected the following officers last night for the coming year: W. B. Patton, W. M., re-elected for third term; R. S. Powell, S. W.; T. W. Hugo, J. W.; E. Mooers, secretary; N. A. Gearhart, treasurer; J. H. La Vaque, trustee. Ionic lodge elects officers next Monday night

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

What Some of the Big Industries of Duluth Are Doing.

The Marinette Iron Works company is today sending one of its largest size band saw mills to California for use on the big trees of that state. A smaller mill will also be shipped out this week. The company is preparing for the casting of a propeller wheel for one of the whaleback steamers, and will make the casting, as well as that for the big cylinder of a 1000 horse-power marine engine for the same steamer, in a few days. The wheel is 12½ feet in diameter and the casting will weigh five tons. The new engine which is to drive this wheel will have cylinders of 20, 32 and 54 inches and a 42 inch piston stroke.

The new fore and aft marine type 1000 horse-power engine built for the Imperial mill will be ready to run in about a week, when the old part of the mill will be shut down to allow some needed repairs.

At the Iron Bay works the nine-hour day has this week been changed to 10 hours and half a dozen more machinists hove been put on in the last two days. The force at the company's shops is even yet, however, only about 70 men. The company is doing some minor sawmill work and is getting out the patterns and castings for the first of the new Fitzgerald band mills, which will probably be running in a month. It will be set up in the mill lately bought by the Howe Lumber company from the Owens company at Tower, and if it proves successful the Iron Bay people expect a large number of orders.

Thirteen carloads of machinery from the old Merrill & Ring sawmill at Saginaw, which is being demolished, are on the way here to be put into the company's fine new mill at West Duluth. This includes engines, circular saw and other machinery and with what is now in place will complete the mill.

At the blast furnace the tribulations that have attended the starting of the furnace are about over and the successful overcoming of the chill in the bottom of the furnace, by which metal to the thickness of four feet was hardened to a cooled lava, overcome while the furnace was in operation and turning out iron, is a great credit to the ability of Manager Bertolet. Things are now at normal condition about the plant. It is not probable that a blast furnace has ever been started in such cold weather as the November snap that caught the Duluth Furnace company. Turning water through a multitude of pipes, large and small, with the mercury eight degrees below zero calls for a good many unusual precautions.

The Duluth Terminal company is building a line around below the plant of the Duluth Manufacturing company to the blast furnace and is also straightening and changing its main line between the Marinette Iron works and the Huntress & Brown company's mill. It is putting in a mile or two of new track and has been doing a large amount of grading and surfacing.

The Clyde Iron Works company supply engine and boilers for the new brewery at Tower.

J. F. Dacy is building several large boilers for the Tower and Ely mines.

The 1000-horse power engine being built for McDougall by the Marinette company is the precursor of more, and is stated that the same shops will soon begin on a second great engine of the same size.

The works of the West Superior Steel company are expected to be in operation Jan. 15, turning out ship plate for the Steel Barge company. They will start in with a small output, but will rapidly increase it, as they have not only a contract with the barge company for its works at Superior, but for the new works at Puget sound. The special design cars being built by the Duluth Manufacturing company are to carry this material across the continent to the coast.

Censured the Druggist.

The coroner's that viewed the body of Artie Odell, the wayward West Superior girl who committed suicide Sunday, censured the druggist who sold her the strychnine. Her body was taken to her old home at Eau Claire this afternoon. The cause leading to the suicide of this handsome young woman of the street were the death of John Plant, her alleged husband and a Superior dive keeper, and the thought of being compelled to return home. She had promised, however, to return to Prairie du Chien on Christmas with a brother living in Duluth. Before death she willed her clothing to occupants of her house.

A Real Estate Association.

There is a great hustling today among the real estate men and it is expected that Wednesday afternoon they will permanently organize an association. At a meeting held Monday afternoon there were some 25 present, and all were in favor of organizing. A committee consisting of C. E. Lovett, E. C. Holliday, S. M. Chandler, M. B. Harrison and J. D. Stryker was appointed to arrange a plan of organization. Messrs. Willcutts, Barnard, Root, Swordling and Taussig are at work to get a large attendance Wednesday afternoon.

Increasing Capital Stock.

The Minnesota Iron company has lately listed on the stock exchange at New York $2,500,000 additional capital stock, making the total issued $16,500,000. The authorized capital is $20,000,000. It is stated that part of this increase goes to settle for the Chandler and other properties lately bought and part for improvements.

Sharp & Co. have moved the old Wightman real estate office to their coal office. This building was originally brought from Duluth on a flat car and was one of the first houses in the town and has been repeatedly moved, and has finally found a permanent resting place.

The United States Mutual Accident association offers accident insurance inferior to none in the world, and at rates as low as those of any responsible company. It is steadily paying losses as fast as they become due, and has been doing so ever since its corporation. It has today a large and continually growing membership, a large percentage of which is made up of men who have proved in their own experience that accident insurance pays. George E. Hall is local agent and will be glad to talk with you.

Previous to taking stock, Jan. 1, and the important change to be made in my business soon after, I will have a general clearing sale, to begin at once, on my entire stock of dry goods, notions, ladies' and men's furnishing goods, cloaks and shawls, blankets, comforters, window shades, lace curtains, draperies, oil cloths, ladies', men's, misses', boys' and children's shoes and rubbers, in fact everything in stock. My prices during this sale will be lower than you can buy these goods for elsewhere, and it will be to your interest to call and examine my bargains offered. I can save you money. N. C. Hendricks.

THE BONDS ARE SOLD.

A West Duluth Man the Bidder and Spitzer & Co. get the Bonds.

Last night the council chambers presented an animated scene, the room being crowded with spectators who were drawn thither by the sale of the improvement bonds. The bids were not bids at all but propositions from various parties to act as agents in the sale. The offers came from five different parties—N. J. Upham, Stryker, Manley & Buck, F. C. Dennett and W. J. Holmes. The latter bid at par, at the rate of $50,000 on Jan. 10 and $50,000 monthly at 2 per cent commission. This was the best offer and was accepted. The bonds are to be issued in series and run one, two, three, four and five years, and Mr. Holmes bid to handle the same at 2 per cent commission is considered A No. 1. The council then turned its attention to opening bids for sidewalk on Central avenue, between Main street and Second street south, and W. J. Wallace secured the work at 74 cents per lineal foot. For the improvement of Central avenue, between Second and Third streets south, Mr. Wallace was the lowest bidder.

Alderman Martz introduced a resolution: "That the building of a highway bridge between West Duluth and Superior is a necessity, and the village engineer is instructed to prepare plans and specifications for the same." It was passed.

The action of the council last evening in passing a resolution recommending the building of a bridge between this place and Superior meets with a hearty approval of the citizens here, West Superior people are anxious that such a bridge be built and are willing to stand half the cost. Just what form the bridge will be, or whether it shall be free or a toll bridge, has not yet been decided.

New Chief of Police.

Yesterday afternoon Patrolmon Arthur T. Brigham was appointed chief of police vice T. J. Madden, resigned. The change is a good one, and while Mr. Madden was an efficient officer, his conduct was not what it should have been, and he has antagonized the best people of the village. Mr. Brigham is a gentleman, and an officer who has always been a credit to the force and there is no question but he will uphold the dignity of his office and see that his patrolmen realize their duties. Mr. Madden has many friends in West Duluth who will no doubt be sorry to learn that he has decided to go to the Pacific coast and will leave in a day or two.

CARS RUN FREQUENTLY

At Five Minute Intervals to West Duluth and Every Three Minutes Through the Center of the City.

This Will be as Soon as the New 1000 Horse Power Engine is in the Power House.

A Rumor That Short Line Trains Are to be Taken off the West Duluth Run in January.

Manager Wardwell informs The Herald that the Duluth Street Railway company is advertising for bids on a 1000-horse power engine. It will be equal to the new engine of the Imperial mill and will be put in the power house at Eleventh avenue. The two engines now kept there are of 320 and 150 horse power respectively, and only the larger one is in use. It is the intention to keep both of these ready for emergencies.

Manager Wardwell expects early next week to run every Superior street car through to West Duluth, the intervals between cars to be of six minutes' duration. This is necessitated by the great patronage extended the company by West Duluth. Cars on the West Duluth end now run every 14 minutes. In the spring he intends to run the Second street cars westerly as far as Garfield avenue, which will relieve the West Duluth cars and also give three-minute service between Third avenue west and Garfield avenue. Five-minute service will also at the same time be inaugurated on Superior street east of Third avenue west.

Mr. Wardwell has secured one young deer for his park at the top of the incline and is figuring on a half a dozen others. He intends to have a dozen when spring rolls around. He calculates to make a trip on the incline every five minutes in the spring and next Sunday afternoon will make a trip every seven minutes to accommodate the crowds.

The affect of the street cars is very plainly seen in the short line train business. One car has been taken from the short line trains and those left are not so crowded as the three formerly were. On the other hand the street cars, though necessitating a transfer at the bridge, are carrying crowds. As a whole, indeed, travel between Duluth and West Duluth is much greater than it ever was. It has been stated by short line employes that part, at least, of the short line trains would be taken off Jan. 1. This is not endorsed, however, by the officials of the St. Paul & Duluth. Still it is not unlikely, in fact is very probable.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Stronger and Higher Today in All Markets; The Flour Report.

Wheat was much stronger today here as elsewhere. The news was nearly all of a strengthening character and the demand appeared to be much better. Trading was good. In May it was large, while cash and December sold in fair quantities. The amount of wheat and flour on ocean passage showed a very heavy decrease. Clearances from the sea board were numerous—larger than for several weeks. New York cleared 497,080 bu wheat and 31,536 bbls flour, while clearances from four Atlantic ports amounted to 1,123,000 bu.

Prices here started in ¼ to ½ above last night's close, advanced ⅜ on May and 1½c on December. During the last hour the market became quiet and easier.

Cash 1 hard opened 89¾c, was bid to 91c and closed at 90¼c; No. 1 northern opened 88¾c and closed at 89¼c; No. 2 sold 82¾c to 83¼c; No. 3 closed 80c; rejected closed 67c.

December 1 hard closed 90½c; No. 1 northern sold at 89¼c and closed 89½c.

May 1 hard closed 97¼c; No. 1 northern opened at 96c, sold up to 96⅝c, declined and closed at 96¼c.

New York Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Money loaned 3 @3½ per cent. Dealings made no increase this morning. Trading was limited and for the most part confined to a few stocks, notably Missouri Pacific, Northern Pacific preferred, sugar, Canada Southern, Michigan Central and Kansas & Texas. The opening figures were generally higher but the bears renewed their raiding tactics in Missouri Pacific and broke its price from 56¾ to 53¾ in short order. This caused some reaction in the general list but it was all recovered under the lead of sugar trust, except in St. Paul. Sugar advanced 1 per cent by the end of the first hour and at the same time most of the other stocks were higher than last night's figures. The Vanderbilts and the grangers were the features of the dealings in the hour to noon. Canada Southern was the most conspicuous, advancing 1 per cent to 62¾. Michigan Central advanced 1¼ and Kansas & Texas 1 per cent. The rest of the list recorded gains in a smaller proportion. At noon the top figures were generally current, but at this writing there is more reaction. Sales, 134,200 shares.

Week's Flour Business.

Below is a statement of the production and movement of flour at Duluth for the week:

	Production.	Shipments.	In store.
Imperial Mill	13,923	11,252	13,656
Duluth Roller Mill	2,650	2,917	2,416
Total	16,573	14,369	16,072
N. P. R. R.	----	750	----
Omaha R. R.	----	475	----
Grand total	16,573	15,594	16,072

It will be seen that the railway companies are cleaned out of flour, and they will not begin receiving for spring shipment for a month or two.

The Close Elsewhere;

Chicago—Wheat: December, 92⅝c; May, 99½c. Corn: December, 48¾c; January, 44⅜c; May, 43¾c. Oats: December, 32⅝c; May, 33⅜c. Pork: December, $8.45; January, $11.17½@20; May, $11.67½. Lard: January, $6.17½; May, $6.55.

THE LEHIGH FIRE.

Sixty Thousand Tons of Coal cut off From the Main Piles.

With two fire engines from Duluth, and one each from St. Paul, Minneapolis and Superior, with many streams from dock engines, etc., the fire at the Lehigh coal dock at West Superior blazes brighter every day. Last Saturday all hope of drenching out the fire was abandoned and work was begun cutting it off from the rest of the great dock.

For two days all the available streams have been directed at the mass of coal to wash it off the dock into the river and cutting a trench or valley through the coal. On the fire side of this trench are about 60,000 tons of coal, much, if not all, of this will be destroyed. Many hundred tons have been washed into the river but this will probably be dredged out at small cost.

When the trench is completed there will be room to transfer the coal on the burning heaps that are not yet damaged and allow the firemen to direct the streams of water once more. One of the chief losses by the fire, which already exceeds all others of the fall at the head of the lake combined, is the delay in making shipments. The company had been sending out 150 to 200 cars a day, but now can ship nothing.

Many who have seen the fire claim that below the dock it is burning under the coal for nearly its entire length. If it is so the loss will be enormous.

A YEAR OF THE SAULT.

The Greatest Ship Canal of the World Shows an Enormous Freight Traffic for the Present Year.

Notwithstanding all Drawbacks and Blockades it Falls Only 1 Per Cent Behind the Banner Year.

The Thomson's Tough Trip up Lake Superior With $180 of a Freight Bill; Marine News.

The Herald is able to present today, some six months before the official report, the business of the Sault canal for the year that closed yesterday. Two years ago the Sault passed the Suez in amount of business done, and while this year does not quite equal 1890, it probably far exceeds the waterway that connects Europe and Asia.

The decrease of tonnage for the year is about ½ per cent, but the showing is excellent when the dulness in the ore trade, the fact that vessels did not start out till May 15, and the loss of a week by the blockade after the sinking of the steamer Peck in the Sault river, are considered. The following are the figures of the year and of 1890 in comparison:

	1891	1890
Number of Passages	10,162	10,557
Number of Lockages	4,936	4,976
Registered tonnage (tons)	8,393,565	8,454,435
Freight tonnage (tons)	8,884,413	9,041,213
Passengers	16,166	24,856

The Sault business for November showed an increase of 223,000 freight tons over November, 1890.

A ROUGH TRIP.

The Thomson Has the Worst Trip on Record up Lake Superior.

Capt. Chambers, of the whaleback Thomson, reports the roughest weather he has seen. Some idea of the fury of the gale may be obtained from the statement that the Thomson's wheel made 50,000 more revolutions in coming from the Sault to Duluth without a tow than it made on the trip from Duluth to Buffalo with two heavily loaded barges in tow.

The steamer had 1800 tons of coal aboard for the Ohio Coal company, which she brought at a freight rate of 10 cents a ton—$180 for the cargo carried in December between Buffalo and Duluth!

Marine Notes.

The tug May Corgan, which was being towed from Bayfield to Duluth by the Camp for repairs, sprung a leak near Cranberry river and sank off Sand island in 20 feet of water. No one was aboard of her.

The big steamer Sitka, with coal for Chicago, ran on Point Sable last night. She is owned by Thomas Wilson, is valued at $95,000 and has always run in the Duluth-Buffalo trade.

The steamer Fountain City, which has made many a trip between Buffalo and Duluth, is believed to have foundered in Lake Michigan off St. Joseph, during the terrific storm of Sunday night.

A PATENT TUNNEL.

Engineers who Think They Have Just What Duluth Wants.

F. T. Lindman and John A. Hilliker, two Minneapolis bridge and tunnel engineers, are here today to confer with the board of works in regard to making Park Point accessible and furnishing plans for a scheme. They will furnish plans for a tunnel as well as for a bridge.

These gentlemen, together with Frederick E. Strom, of New York, are the inventors of what is known as the Strom subaqueous tunnel and they will try to get the city to put in this tunnel. It is nothing more than a steel cylinder supported on stone piers under water. On account of the various conditions that enter into the plan the buoyancy of the tunnel is very great and hence the strain on the tunnel and piers is but small It can be built for one-half the cost of the ordinary tunnel and is not subject to expansion or contraction, as is the case with an iron bridge exposed to great extremes of heat and cold, neither is it subject to the action of strong winds, as in the case of a bridge. It can be so arranged as to admit of any number of tracks and there is very little difficulty in putting it in position.

In order to put such a tunnel in considerable earth would have to be excavated from the bottom of the canal, as the depth of water would not otherwise be great enough to allow vessels to pass.

For a United States Offense.

Deputy United States Marshals Danahower and Sheehan came up from St. Paul this morning, made an arrest and returned at 1:56 with their prisoner. The man who accompanies them is Darwin E. Stevens, who is charged by Capt. Fiske, government engineer at this point, with having dumped a scow load of dredgings in the channel of the St. Louis river while at work for the West Duluth Land company on Nov. 13, and also with having repeated the act on the 15th ult.

From Saginaw to Duluth.

T. D. Merrill, of Saginaw, of the big lumber firm of Merrill & Ring, came in this morning. "We are bringing all the machinery we can use here from our Saginaw mill," he said, "and have 13 cars on the way. The day after our mill there closed down, we began work tearing down for removal to Duluth. We cut in Saginaw this year 18,000,000 feet of lumber and 4,500,000 lath. We expect to have one of the best mills there is anywhere."

Bauder's Weather Strip AND SASH HOLDER COMBINED.

I would call the attention of residents to this invention for holding sash, as it does away with all side stops, it holds the sash at any position and keeps it tight so as to exclude all dust and cold, stops the sash from rattling in windy weather, and is perfectly safe, as it cannot come down to catch fingers and break glass. MAXTED & FAWCETT 5 East First Street.

ORDER TO EXAMINE ACCOUNTS, &c.—

In Probate Court, Special term, November 28th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Henry Faust, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Wilhelmine Faust, executrix of the estate of Henry Faust, deceased, representing among other things that she has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining, settling and allowing the final account of her administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It is ordered that said account be examined, and petition heard by this court, on Monday, the 4th day of January A. D., 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the Probate office in said county.

And it is further ordered that notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Duluth Evening Herald, a daily newspaper, printed and published at Duluth, in said county.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., the 28th day of November A. D., 1891.

By the Court,
[Court Seal.] PHINEAS AYER, Judge of Probate.

WM. C. MCADAM, Attorney for Executrix.
Dec. 8-15-22.

District court, Eleventh Judicial district.

In the matter of the assignment of Abraham Mark, insolvent debtor.

Notice is hereby given that Abraham Mark, of the city of Duluth, in the county and state aforesaid, did by his deed in writing dated December 5th, 1891, make a general assignment to the undersigned of all his property and estate, not by law exempt from levy and sale on execution, for the equal benefit of all his creditors without preference. Said assignment was made under chapter 118, general laws of 1881, and acts amendatory thereof. All claims against said insolvent must be verified and presented to the undersigned for allowance.

Dated, December 8, 1891. JAMES A. COLLINS. TINKHAM & TINKHAM AND J. H. FOTTER, Attorney's for Assignee, Duluth, Minnesota.
